Labor to Share with Industrialists in Rule of Auto Industry

10 MEN NAMED TO TUNE PLANTS FOR MUNITIONS

Four CIO, One AFL on Board.

Trucks for Russia

New York, Jan. 5 [Special].—Despite the restrictions on sales of tires in the United States, the Edgewater [N. J.] assembly plant of the Ford Motor company has received an order for more than 10,000 trucks, chiefly for the Russian army, according to a company spokesman. The order, it was said, will keep the plant busy thru March. The factory has been filling Russian orders for several months.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—A 10 man labor-industry committee to manage all-out production of the pooled motor car factories was named in conferences here today aimed at stepping up 1942 arms production by the motor plants from 2 1/5 billions to between 5 and 6 billions. Arms orders for the industry were increased from 4 to 9 billions.

Representing industry on the managerial board, subject to supervision by the Office of Production Management, are Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company; C. C. Carlton, president of the Automotive Parts and Equipment Manufacturers and president of the Motor Wheel corporation; Paul G. Hoffman, president, Studebaker corporation; B. F. Black, president, White Motor company, and C. C. Wilson, president, General Motors corporation.

Four CIO and One AFL.

Representing labor are four Congress of Industrial organizations labor men and one American Federation of Labor man. They are Walter P. Reuther, director of General Motors division of the United Automobile Workers, CIO; George F. Addes, international secretary-treasurer, UAW-CIO; Richard T. Frankensteen, director of aviation workers, UAW-CIO; Richard Reisinger, Cleveland regional director, UAW-CIO, and Earl Melton, international representative, International Association of Machinists, AFL.

Creation of the joint industry-labor committee for the mobilization of the automobile industry gives labor its first share in wartime industrial management. Heretofore, labor has been represented only in government—for example, the CIO's Sidney Hillman in the OPM—not in actual industrial management.

Labor Has Equal Voice.

Presumably, labor members of the joint committee will have an equal voice with the industry members in the transformation of automobile plants to munitions factories. It is understood that this committee, subject to the approval of the OPM, will have full power to order whatever installations, poolings, and interchanges of tools and facilities may be necessary. Arms orders will be distributed on an industry rather than a company basis.

Essentially, the new scheme for complete conversion of the automobile industry is the so-called Reuther plan, which was submitted by the CIO leader more than a year ago and given a peremptory brushoff by OPM. Industrialists called it impracticable and communistic. Automobile machine tools, they argued, were made for highly specialized purposes and only a small percentage of them could be diverted to the production of armament. The industry could not be transformed into a vast arsenal without retooling it almost completely, they contended.

Plan Viewed Suspiciously.

Industrialists viewed the scheme suspiciously because of the radical background of its author. It was a plan, they argued, to bring the CIO into the management of industry, just as workers' committees have a share in the management of factories in Russia.

Today, however, representatives of the industry silently acquiesced in the joint committee proposal, which was made by the army and the navy.

OPM Associate Director William S.

DRIVE FOR JEWISH ARMY LAUNCHED

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 5.—A drive to muster a Jewish army of 200,000 to fight with the allied forces against the Berlin-Rome-Tokio axis was launched today by a special committee with headquarters in New York City.

According to the stated aims of the committee, which numbers more than 100 prominent American public officials, authors, actors, business and professional men, and educators, the proposed army would not recruit men who are eligible to fight under the Stars and Stripes. Lend-lease aid will be sought for the program.

Objectives Set Forth.

The objectives, as set forth in a formal statement, are as follows:

"To bring about, by legal means and in accordance with the laws and foreign policy of the United States, the formation of a Jewish army, based on Palestine, to fight for the survival of the Jewish people and the preservation of democracy.

"This army, composed primarily of Palestinian Jews and refugees as well as of volunteers from free countries, will fight on all required battlefields side by side with the United States, Great Britain, and the other allied nations."

It is estimated the Jewish population of the world totals 17 million. There are approximately 5 million Jews in the United States, half of whom live in New York City.

Termed Eager to Fight.

There are thousands of Jews outside England, the United States, and Russia who are not fighting but are eager to do so, according to the committee. It was declared 135,000 Palestinian Jews registered as volunteers for war service when hostilities started but have not been called to the colors.

The organization officially known as the Committee for a Jewish Army, also said the "stateless Jews, the disinherited Jews, the ones driven from their homes by the great and evil violence of the axis powers" are anxious to take up arms.

The committee is an outgrowth of the American Friends of a Jewish Palestine. National chairman is Pierre Van Paassen, author.

Appeals Board Defeats Move to Deport Bridges as a Red

Harry Bridges.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special].—The board of immigration appeals ruled today that Harry Bridges, alien CIO director, is not a communist and never was a member of the communist party, contrary to a finding of a special examiner last fall.

The action apparently defeated a four year effort to deport Bridges to his native Australia, and left him free to embrace American citizenship despite a record that includes charges he supported armament strikes that threw the American preparedness program months behind schedule and a series of capricious maritime strikes that cost taxpayers millions of dollars.

Final decision as to whether Bridges shall be deported rests with Attorney Gen. Francis Biddle, but it was believed improbable that he would reverse the appeals board.

Will Seek Citizenship.

In San Francisco the Bridges' defense committee, which represented him in two deportation actions, said Bridges will seek citizenship as quickly as permitted and expressed the hope there would be no "further delay in permitting him to take his rightful place in American life." Bridges came to the United States in 1920.

In reversing the recommendations of Special Examiner Charles B. Sears, a retired justice of the New York State Supreme court, the appeals board accepted Bridges' denial of connection with subversive movements. At the same time the board impeached the credibility of two witnesses whose statements had been given weight by the special examiner.

The board branded a fabrication the testimony of Harry Lundeberg, also a Pacific coast maritime union leader, that Bridges had admitted communist party membership, and said that the testimony of James D. O'Neil was not worthy of belief.

Attitude Toward Bridges.

But of Bridges, the board said: "If self-interest led him to lie, to evade, to stretch the truth, the record should show it. Scrutinizing his testimony from end to end, we find no indication that self-interest so operated."

The government's attempts to deport Bridges began nearly four years ago when a deportation warrant against him was issued in March, 1938, by the department of labor. It then had jurisdiction over the immigration and naturalization service.

However, the warrant was dismissed after James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school, heard testimony for two months in the summer of 1939 and found that Bridges was not then a member of or affiliated with the communist party.

Held Member of Communists.

Congress later amended the law to provide for the deportation of one who had been a member of or affiliated with a subversive organization "at any time" after entering this country. A new warrant was issued against Bridges and, after another hearing at which additional evidence was presented by federal agents, Examiner Sears found that Bridges was a member of the communist party in 1937 and should be deported.

Members of the appeals board who reversed Sears' findings are: Joseph F. Fannelli, Thomas G. Finucane, Robert M. Charles, and Thomas M. Cooley III. Former United States Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona also is a member of the board, but he disqualified himself in the case because of speeches he had made in the senate demanding Bridges' deportation.

PICK MULLANEY FOR CHIEF FIRE MARSHAL'S POST

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday that Anthony J. Mullaney, deputy chief fire marshal since 1933, is to be promoted to chief fire marshal. As chief marshal Mullaney officially will be second only to Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan in the command of the fire department.

The mayor's announcement followed action by the city council in making provision in the city budget for the office of chief fire marshal. That office had been unfilled for several years, partly as an economy measure, and was held last by Corrigan, who yielded it to become commissioner.

Mullaney now receives an annual salary of $5,400 as deputy chief marshal. He will get $8,000 a year as chief marshal. Except for pay and title, his status will change little. For years he actually has been Commissioner Corrigan's right hand man. As before, he will be at all big fires, and in command in the absence of Corrigan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brig. Gen. Hershey.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Men between the ages of 20 and 44 inclusive, whose absence from work would interfere with defense production may register under the new draft law on Feb. 14 or 15, it was announced tonight. The announcement was an elaboration of President Roosevelt's proclamation earlier in the day designating Monday, Feb. 16 as registration day for men within these age limits who have not previously registered.

The modification of the Presidential order was announced by Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service system, in a radio speech. Hershey asserted many married men and others previously deferred because of minor physical disabilities will be called for service under a more rigorous policy necessitated by wartime needs.

Expect 9 Million Registrants.

It is estimated that 9,000,000 men will be required to register under the President's proclamation. The amended draft act lowers the minimum age for military service to 20 and raises the maximum to those who have not reached their 45th birthday.

The 17½ million men already registered under the 1940 conscription act will not be required to register again, but many of them who were deferred from training and service will be reclassified, Gen. Hershey intimated.

"The facts that were reasons for deferment from military service before Pearl Harbor may not be reasons today," he said.

Married men with dependents will continue to be deferred to maintain the family as a basic social unit "until the need for men becomes much greater than it is at present," Gen. Hershey declared. But there will be closer attention, he said, to the manner in which the home was established.

Will Investigate Dependency.

"A balance must be struck between the deferment of a husband and father in order to maintain that most basic social unit—the home—and at the same time to avoid abetting the registrant who presumes to establish a home so that he may evade his obligations to defend all homes, including his own," said the draft director.

"Local boards will scrutinize more closely the actual dependency of a wife—especially when there is no other dependent and there seems to be a question as to whether or not the husband contributes more than enough for his own support.

"There will be no reduction in vig-

BEAVERBROOK TO HEAD ALLIED SUPPLY BOARD IN U. S., LONDON HINTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The formation of an allied supreme supply council in Washington, D. C., headed by Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply, with Harry L. Hopkins, United States lend-lease coördinator, as right hand man, is suggested here tonight. The council, expected to be set up shortly, also will include representatives of Russia, the Netherlands, and China, it is stated.

There is no indication what would happen to Beaverbrook's job here as minister of supply if he remains in the United States.

It is also reported that Adm. Sir John Tovey, commander in chief of the British home fleet, is the most likely candidate for appointment as commander of all the allied forces in the North Atlantic.

WAR AT A GLANCE; DAY'S NEWS FROM ALL THE FRONTS

Yesterday's developments on all war fronts:

Three American victories on sea and land in the far east were reported officially in Washington.

At Davao, on the Island of Mindanao, an American bombing squadron attacked Japanese warships, damaging a battleship, sinking a destroyer, and hitting other vessels with undetermined damage. No planes were lost in this smashing victory.

Somewhere in the far east a David-and-Goliath battle between a tiny seaplane tender of only 840 tons and 15 Jap bombers was vividly described by the navy. The tender was hit by a bomb, but fought the enemy's planes for seven hours, destroying one four engined bomber and damaging others before it escaped and reached port safely.

Northwest of Manila Gen. MacArthur's forces repulsed a heavy frontal assault by the Japanese, killing 700 in what was described as one of the enemy's worst reverses since the war began.

Singapore Threatened Anew.

The army reported a third attack on the fortress of Corregidor by 52 Japanese bombers, with little material damage.

In China the forces of Chiang Kai-shek, which were credited with wiping out 52,000 Japanese in a three day battle at Changsha, were closing in on four Nipponese divisions which were trying to fight their way out of the Chinese trap.

On the Singapore front the British naval base was threatened anew by Japanese landings near the capital of Selangor state, 240 miles north of Singapore. An apparent effort to menace the rear of the British line in Malaya was discerned inasmuch as Selangor is south of the Perak river, along which the British have been making a stand.

Russians Advance 45 Miles.

On the Russian front the Germans were routed from almost the whole of the Kerch peninsula in the Crimea by Red armies which blasted the Nazis from town after town in a 45 mile advance in two days. Vast quantities of war booty were added to those already captured by the Russians. The Nazi wing southwest of Moscow is said to be menaced by a Russian advance to Belev, and a German attack on the Leningrad front was repulsed.

The last two "holdout" positions held by the axis forces on the Egyptian-Libyan border, those at Sollum and Halfaya Pass, were attacked by the RAF.

MODERN MARINER GIVES A TWIST TO ALBATROSS TALE

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 5 (AP).—"There was a modern mariner, and he stoppeth one of three——" but the tale told today by Capt. C. R. Evans of the British merchant service was quite different from that related in Samuel Taylor Coleridge's poem.

His ship was torpedoed off South Africa and two of the crew in his overcrowded lifeboat died. The survivors were starving until ". . . at length did cross an albatross," as Coleridge would say. Evans conked the albatross with an oar, dived overboard, and wrestled it to death. Instead of all but one dying with the hex of the dead albatross upon them, in the classic example of Coleridge's tale, the castaways fell to.

"We ate it and it tasted like chicken," Evans said.

Map in Color

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—News of two American sea victories over the Japanese was disclosed by the war and navy departments late this afternoon a few hours after it was announced that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces had scored a success against the invaders of the Philippines. The developments:

1. American bombers attacked Japanese warships, sinking an enemy destroyer and scoring three direct bomb hits on a battleship in the southern Philippines.
2. A small American seaplane tender fought off a seven hour attack by 15 Japanese bombers. The tender, which was hit by a bomb, reached port safely after destroying one enemy flying boat. This action occurred "somewhere in the far east."
3. American and Filipino defense forces beat back a strong Japanese frontal attack in Pampagna province northwest of occupied Manila, on Sunday, killing at least 700 of the foe while suffering relatively small losses. The war department described the repulse of the Japanese onslaught as "one of the most serious reverses suffered by the Japanese invaders since the war began." The garrison of Corregidor fortress almost simultaneously shot down four more enemy bombers during the third successive raid on the island fortress at the entrance of Manila bay.

Contact Japanese Fleet.

Communiques telling of the American victories at sea bore out earlier reports that American forces had contacted the Japanese fleet.

The smashing air attack on Japanese naval forces occurred off Davao, more than 500 air miles south of Manila on the Island of Mindanao. It apparently was made today by heavy army bombers operating from an unidentified base.

Here is the official story of the victory as told by the war department's cryptic communique:

"Philippine theater: A formation of heavy American bombers attacked enemy naval vessels off Davao on the Island of Mindanao, scoring three direct hits on a Japanese battleship and sinking an enemy destroyer. Other hits were made on other enemy vessels with undetermined damage. All of our planes returned to their base uninjured."

Recall Colin Kelly's Exploit.

The battleship was not identified, nor did the war department say whether it sank.

This was the second time American bombers have struck a major blow against the Japanese fleet since the start of the war. Early in the hostilities Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr. of the army air force was credited with sinking the 29,000 ton battleship Haruna.

Tells of Heron's Adventure.

The navy department's communique:

"Far East—The U. S. S. Heron, a small seaplane tender, while engaged in action with enemy planes over a period of seven hours sustained one direct bomb hit and three very near misses. The Heron was attacked by a total of 10 four-engined flying boats and five twin-engined land plane bombers. Forty-six 100 pound bombs were dropped by the enemy planes and three torpedoes were launched at her sides.

"Due to very skilful handling, the ship most courageously fought against overwhelming odds, and destroyed one four engined flying boat, badly damaged at least one other and probably more. The ship, tho receiving damage from one bomb that found its mark, managed to reach port safely.

Officer Wins Promotion.

"The commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, Thomas S. Hart, in accordance with an order of the secretary of the navy, has awarded the navy cross to the commanding officer, Lieut. William Leverette Kabler, and recommended that he be advanced immediately to the rank of lieutenant commander. Further recommendations regarding other personnel will be made at a later date.

"It has been ascertained from late information that the patients and staff at the naval hospital, Canacao, near Cavite, were evacuated to Manila prior to the occupation of that city by the enemy.

"Atlantic area—The merchant ship Marconi, flying the Panamanian flag but reported to be of Italian ownership, was captured and brought into Cristobal, Canal Zone, and turned over to the courts for adjudication.

[United States authorities late last night declared the Marconi to be of Panamanian ownership properly flying the flag of Panama when overtaken on a routine coastwise run, according to a dispatch from Balboa, C. Z. The district attorney's office there said Canal Zone judicial authorities had dropped action to declare the Marconi a prize of war.]

"The submarine situation in the Atlantic area and off the west coast of the United States remains unchanged.

"The Hawaiian area was quiet."

Virginian in Command.

The Heron was commissioned in 1918. Her peacetime complement is about 70 men. According to the naval register, the Heron is armed with two 3-inch rifles and anti-aircraft guns.

Lieut. Kabler, commanding the Heron, is a native of Roanoke, Va. He is 33 years old and studied at Bristol, Va., and Emory and Henry college prior to his appointment to Annapolis in 1925. He has served on the battleship Maryland, is a qualified naval aviator, and he has been with the Asiatic fleet since the summer of 1940.

Kabler married Miss Elaine Dickinson of Pensacola, Fla., in 1930. They have one child.

An earlier war department communique tended to brighten the gloomy outlook for Gen. MacArthur's beleaguered defenders of the Philippines. It said:

"1. Philippine theater: A strong Japanese attack on American and Philippine troops northwest of Manila on Sunday was repulsed with heavy enemy losses. It is estimated that at least 700 of the enemy were killed in this attack. Our losses were relatively small. This was one of the most serious reverses suffered by the Japanese invaders since the war began.

Japanese Trap Is Empty.

"The tactics pursued by the Japanese in the invasion of Luzon contemplated crushing the greatly outnumbered defenders between two invading forces operating as pincers from the north and south. The Japanese trap was closed but American and Philippine troops were not in the jaws. To this extent the Japanese strategy failed, necessitating yesterdays' frontal attack which likewise failed.

"Enemy air attacks on the fortified island of Corregidor were renewed yesterday for the third successive day. Fifty-two Japanese bombers participated in the attack which continued for three hours. Material damage and casualties were slight. Our anti-aircraft batteries shot down four Japanese bombers. Four more were hit but reports of their destruction were not confirmed."

The four bombers destroyed swelled the bag of the Corregidor anti-aircraft gunners to 15, aside from planes damaged.

SHELLS DAMAGE U. S. WARSHIP AT HAWAII: JAPANESE

TOKIO, Jan. 5 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—Imperial headquarters reported today that Japanese naval units "heavily damaged an enemy warship" at Hilo, Hawaii, in an attack Dec. 31 on three Hawaiian Islands.

Besides Hilo, two harbors on Maui Island and one on Kauai Island were attacked by the Japanese warships, the communique said.

[The United States war department announcing the attacks last Thursday said only slight damage was caused by Japanese submarines which shelled Hilo, the harbor of Kahului on the Island of Maui, and the shoreline near Lihue on the Island of Kauai. There was no indication that any American warship was hit.]

DUTCH SPECULATE ON U. S. SEA AND AIR AID TO INDIES

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, Jan. 5 (AP).—Netherlands East Indies newspapers speculated today over the possibility of imminent United States naval and air reënforcements for the far east as a direct result of the appointment of two American officers to the allies' supreme command in the southwest Pacific.

The news agency Aneta reported there had been no official comment on the appointment of Sir Archibald P. Wavell, the British general, to head the unified command, but the agency said press and public generally were well satisfied with his selection, as well as with the choice of Maj. Gen. George H. Brett, United States army air corps chief, and Adm. Thomas C. Hart, commander of America's Asiatic fleet, as members of his staff.

The Indies armed forces reported little activity in today's communique. Japanese planes flew over several parts of the islands, but dropped no bombs, it was said.

ROBERTS INVITES PUBLIC TO AID IN HAWAII INQUIRY

HONOLULU, Jan. 5.—An appeal for civilians to give information that would aid the Presidential investigation commission in decidng "whether any dereliction of duty or errors of judgment on the part of the United States army or navy personnel contributed to such successes as were achieved by the enemy" during the Jap attack on Dec. 7 was issued today by Justice Owen J. Roberts, chairman of the commission.

The invitation asked those having personal knowledge of such facts to appear Wednesday and make statements under oath.

Justice Roberts feels that the civilians probably can give him a better picture of negligence on the part of the military than he probably would be able to get freely from the services, and it has been rumored that the commission will extend its investigation beyond the intended time.

NAMING CHIANG INDO-CHINA CHIEF AROUSES VICHY

ROME, Jan. 5 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—A Vichy dispatch broadcast today by Stefani said a Vichy spokesman expressed astonishment at the announcement that China's generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had assumed command of allied forces in China, Thailand and French Indo-China.

The spokesman indicated that the French government would seek explanations.

He said Indo-China had declared her neutrality in the Pacific conflict and added that the measures taken by the Vichy régime in accord with the Japanese—permitting the stationing of Japanese military contingents in Indo-China—were of a purely defensive character.

WAR IN FAR EAST RAPIDLY NEARING AUSTRALIA SHORE

Commonwealth Speeds Up Preparations.

War in the far east rapidly is approaching the shores of the commonwealth of Australia, which is shown in a large scale color map on the back page of this issue. Already the Japanese air force has extended its bombing raids to within 800 miles of Australia. Twice it has attacked the Australian air field at Rabaul on the island of New Britain in the Bismarck archipelago, about 300 miles northeast of New Guinea. The Japanese mandated island nearest Australia — Kapingamarangi, 400 miles north of Rabaul—not long ago was bombed by Australian flyers.

As the enemy was bombing Rabaul, Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia announced that vessels of the United States navy would be based upon an Australasian station. This may mean in Australia proper, or it may mean some place in the Netherlands East Indies, the Malay archipelago, possibly New Zealand, or elsewhere.

500,000 Under Arms.

Australia, with a population of approximately 7 million, now is said to have a half million men under arms. Altho it has compulsory military service, no drafted men are required, against their will, to serve overseas. All single men and all married men without children, between the ages of 18 and 45, are subject to the draft. Those who do not volunteer for services outside their country are retained for home defense.

The royal Australian navy at the time of the publication of the most recent volume of Jane's Fighting Ships—the issue of 1940—was composed of two heavy cruisers, four light cruisers, seven destroyers, and a number of miscellaneous craft. Its actual strength today is a naval secret.

In recent months a shipbuilding program has been instituted and is well under way. It will provide the commonwealth with additional war craft, including 50 new high speed motor torpedo boats for coast defense. Of the original list of vessels in the Australian navy, the light cruiser Sydney was sunk late in November or early in December after it had destroyed the German raider Steiermark. It is believed the Sydney may have been a victim of a German pocket battleship.

Turns to War Industry.

Altho not remarkable hitherto as an industrial land, Australia has thrown all available resources, since the beginning of the war, into the business of manufacturing weapons and war supplies. Aircraft, tanks, guns, small arms, and ammunition are being made in Australia. Its annual output of military planes has been stepped up considerably since August, 1940, when it was manufacturing 600 a year. The Australian aerial program originally called for an air force of 42,000 men, including 16,000 pilots, by March, 1943, but these figures may have been increased in recent months.

With a coastline of more than 12,000 miles, Australia would be a difficult country to defend if the Japanese were able to win their way thru to it and attempt to land a sizable army on its shores. On the other hand, Australia stands as a threat to Japanese expansion to the south, as it is provided with a number of excellent harbors from which allied ships of war could operate.

The most densely populated states of the commonwealth are Victoria, in which is located the big city of Melbourne, and New South Wales, that takes in the still larger city of Sydney and the capital, Canberra.

Australia leads the world in wool production, its annual output being more than twice as much as that of the United States, and almost a third of the world's total. It also is a leading cattle and wheat country. It produces gold, iron, copper, silver, zinc, and coal.

A Chinese Soldier

A typical Chinese soldier. British sources said yesterday that such teen age oriental youths may have formed into a Chinese expeditionary force to go to Malaya to help allied forces block Japanese drive toward Singapore.

4 JAP DIVISIONS FIGHT TO ESCAPE CHANGSHA TRAP

Retreat Is Cut Off by Chinese Army.

CHUNGKING, Jan. 5 (AP).—Strong Chinese forces were reported closing in hard tonight on four battered Japanese divisions caught in a pocket north of Changsha, from which two other divisions were hurled back in full retreat.

Firecrackers were shot off in the streets of Chungking and gongs rang triumphantly for what the Chinese described as the utter collapse of Japan's third major attempt to capture the Hunan province capital. Quick counter strokes by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had turned the whole Japanese drive into a death trap.

Jap Retreat Cut Off.

The Chinese said their counter thrust smashed thru for a juncture with the hard pressed Chinese garrison at Changsha and carried on deep to the rear of the Japanese advance positions, cutting supply routes and the line of retreat north to the Japanese base at Yochow. The Chinese said the Japanese suffered 52,000 casualties in three days.

Two divisions were forced into full retreat to the east and four more were pushed back into a pocket north of the city along the Laotao and Liuyang rivers. The trapped divisions were identified as the third, sixth, fourth, and fourteenth and, the Chinese said, the crack third and sixth had been virtually wiped out. The rest, it was said, still were fighting in an attempt to break out of the encirclement.

Approve Wavell Appointment.

Officials expressed complete approval of the appointment of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell as allied supreme commander in the far east. The Chinese were pleased particularly with the appointment of their generalissimo as allied commander in China, giving "due recognition to China's contribution to the common cause against aggression."

They expressed confidence that Chinese troops [which have been reported moving into striking position in Burma] would see action outside of China as well as at home.

JAPANESE PERIL REAR OF BRITISH LINE IN MALAYA

SINGAPORE, Jan. 5 (AP).—Japanese detachments landing in coves along the west Malayan coast from small boats and junks threatened the Kuala Selangor area, 240 miles north of Singapore tonight with the apparent object of forcing the British to withdraw from their lines farther north.

Kuala Selangor is the capital of Selangor province, just to the south of Perak state. It is about 50 miles south of the mouth of the Perak river along which the British forces have been making their stand. It is nearly 50 miles north of Port Swettenham which is connected by rail with the important interior city of Lampur.

Destroy 2 Japanese Planes.

The same communique which announced the Japanese activity in the Kuala Selangor area, told of continued Japanese air activity over Malaya, but said two of the invading planes were destroyed and another probably destroyed at Kluang, near Port Swettenham.

The threat to Kuala Selangor followed by a day the announced withdrawal of British forces in north Perak state to new positions.

Of the battle area in northeastern Malaya where fighting has centered about Kuanta, 190 miles above Singapore, there was no new word.

All Japanese progress had been achieved only by costly infiltration. The invader had won no major victory anywhere, nor had any major British force been lost.

Most heartening to Singapore's people of all developments were the quick progress made in consolidating forces after the appointment of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell as supreme allied commander in the far east, and concurrent indications that the Japanese flank soon might be attacked from Burma, where Chinese reënforcements have joined British forces.

Operating Oil Wells: Japs.

TOKIO, Jan. 6 [Tuesday]—[Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—The Domei news agency said today that Japanese forces occupying Sarawak on the Island of Borneo already were operating 80 of the 100 oil wells which had been damaged there by withdrawing British troops.

Six U. S. Pilots Battle Japs.

That was the comment today of two members of the American Volunteer corps who, with four fellow pilots, hurled their six fighter planes into a formation of 27 Japanese craft which raided Rangoon yesterday.

They are A. B. Christian of Colorado and G. L. Paxton of Texas, who escaped without serious injury when their planes were lost. A third American plane was downed but its pilot was unscratched. The Japanese lost two planes for certain and two more "probables."

SPIES DIRECTED HAWAII ATTACK, TOUR REVEALS

Japs Bombed Only the Vital Spots.

BY JAN JABULKA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Jan. 1 [By Air Mail] [Passed by Censor].—The treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor was carried out with an ease that bespoke excellent Japanese espionage intelligence, in the view of army officials who today conducted correspondents on a tour of Hickam field and Wheeler field, bomber and pursuit bases.

Waves of Japanese attackers appeared simultaneously over Pearl Harbor, Hickam, and Wheeler fields. They attacked obviously according to carefully laid plans. Over each field they flew in line along rows of important air depots, hangars, and machine shops, selecting vital targets for bombing, ignoring less important buildings.

High altitude and low flying bombers participated in the attack. When maximum damage had been inflicted the planes returned to strafe buildings and fleeing personnel with .50 caliber machine gun bullets. Facades of barracks buildings are literally pockmarked by bullets.

Empty Hangar Untouched.

The air depot at Hickam, where important military material had been placed temporarily only several days before the attack, was the worst damaged. A heavy bomb hurtled thru the roof, crumpling the heavy concrete floor, twisting steel girders, incinerating valuable equipment. A large hangar next to it, empty, was untouched, but the adjacent hangar, filled with planes and parts, was heavily bombed.

The same careful process of selection of important targets was repeated at Wheeler. The conclusion is inevitable, army authorities said, that espionage agents directed the Japanese attackers.

Officers' and noncommissioned personnel's homes went virtually unscathed during the brief attack.

"They knew that if they first got our ships we'd never get off the ground anyway," a ranking air corps officer said. "Their first objective was planes to prevent counterattack, and then installations to cripple us and forestall repairs."

Americans Outflew Japs.

This strategy on the part of the Japanese undoubtedly explains the comparatively small army casualty list. Despite the huge combined military population on Oahu, fewer than 200 officers and men of the army and air corps died in the attack. The damage to physical property is enormous.

That American fighters outflew and outfought a numerically superior enemy and gave a heroic account of themselves after the surprise is shown in the pursuit wing's record, as revealed by a ranking commanding officer:

Fourteen pursuit ships took to the air while waves of 30 to 50 enemy fighters bombed and strafed air fields, air depots, hangars, and barracks. Pilots of the 14 pursuits bagged a total of 14 Japanese planes, losing but one pilot and ship in the morning's engagements. Two Wheeler field pilots were killed by low flying strafers while attempting to get their ships off the field.

The faster, better equipped American planes outmaneuvered and outflew attacking Japanese planes in every phase of the brief battle, American airmen said.

SOVIET CRIMEAN ARMY PUSHES 45 MILES IN 2 DAYS

MOSCOW, Jan. 6 [Tuesday].—The Russians announced today the Germans have been routed from almost the whole of the Kerch peninsula, Crimean gateway to the Caucasus, by Red armies which blasted the Nazis from town after town in a 45 mile advance within two days.

Red Star, the army newspaper, said rich stores of Nazi booty fell into the hands of soviet forces whose Crimean drive was declared still beating closely at the heels of the fleeing Germans. The Russians now apparently have broadened their Crimean campaign to both the south and north shores of the Kerch peninsula.

This new and smashing victory in the south was matched by the recapture of Belev in a central front thrust beyond the Oka river. This drive appeared to menace the whole Nazi wing southwest of Moscow and was the southern arm of a pincer leaving the last of the Nazis in the Mozhaisk sector, 57 miles west of Moscow, in dire peril.

Beat Off Leningrad Attack.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Jan. 5 (AP).—Frontline dispatches declared tonight that the Red army had beaten off a new German offensive in the Leningrad sector and recaptured 300 square miles of territory and 30 villages in a five day counterattack.

Set Fire to Five Large Ships.

BERLIN, Jan. 5 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—The German high command announced today that Nazi bombers, continuing their assaults on the Crimean port of Theodosia, 55 miles west of Kerch, had set fire to five large ships and a destroyer and damaged another big merchant vessel in the harbor.

On the central sector of the eastern front before Moscow, German troops successfully repulsed "numerous enemy attacks and thrusts," the daily communique said.

Generals Dispute Hitler.

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP).—Increasing dissension among Adolf Hitler and his winter-worn Nazi generals was reported reliably tonight.

A foreign source with information from "an irrefutable agent abroad" said that Hitler's dismissal of the supreme German commander, Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, on Dec. 19 was the third such affair involving key military leaders who disagreed over strategy in fighting Russia.

Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, central front commander, was said to have asked to be relieved for "reasons of health" after the big German November offensive on Moscow, expressly ordered by Hitler, failed.

General a "Private Citizen."

Russian sources reported some time ago that Field Marshal Siegmund List had replaced Von Bock on the front where the Russians now are threatening with encirclement a Nazi army of perhaps 100,000 men based on pivotal Mozhaisk.

Another case cited was that of Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz, former military ruler of Bohemia, who was a hero of the Polish campaign. Blaskowitz, upon hearing of Hitler's plan for invading Russia, was said to have declared he "wanted no part of it" and now is living in Paris as a private citizen.

Unconfirmed reports also were cited that three other Nazi generals had been asked to be relieved: Field Marshal von Leeb, on the Leningrad front; Field Marshal von Rundstedt, on the Ukraine front, and Gen. Heinz Guderian, Nazi tank wizard.

Wanted a Winter Line.

This foreign informant gave this background on differences in the Nazi high command:

Hitler insisted on the attempt to take Moscow which almost succeeded, despite Von Brauchitsch's demand that the Germans withdraw to a winter line stretching from Narva on the Gulf of Finland to Smolensk, Bryansk, Kharkov.

The great Russian counteroffensive got under way soon thereafter. Hitler then suggested a winter line from Leningrad to Rzhev, Vyazma, Bryansk, and Kharkov.

Soviet informants said tonight that Red army troops already are threatening Rzhev from captured Staritsa only 30 miles away. That is the northern arm of the Russian pincers movement to trap Nazi troops at Mozhaisk.

HAWAII ORDERS NEW SYSTEM OF AIR RAID ALARMS

HONOLULU, Jan. 5 (AP).—These islands will have adequate air raid alarm systems when equipment arrives from the mainland.

Meantime, sirens on police cars, fire trucks, and ambulances, radio announcements, and the sirens at Oahu prison will warn that a raid is on. But there won't be any practice alarms. When the sirens shriek, it is the real thing.

Egypt to Sever Relations with Vichy Government

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The British radio reported tonight that Egypt has announced it will sever relations with the Vichy government.

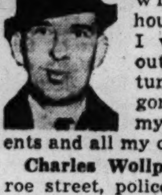
THE QUESTION.
What was the costliest error you ever made?

WHERE ASKED.
Madison and Canal streets.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Sue Chinnis, 4452 North Hermitage avenue, bakery saleswoman—The costliest error I ever made was to fall in love. Things didn't work out right so I didn't marry the man I fell in love with. It was only a short time ago and I haven't forgotten it yet. I hope to in time.

Frank Williams, 225 Englewood avenue, clerk—I had an opportunity to go to art school on a scholarship four years ago and I didn't take it. I wanted to go to work and earn some money right away. Probably if I had gone, I'd be a commercial artist today making big money. I think that's the worst mistake I ever made.



Lloyd DeLany, Cedar Rapids, Ia., railway mail clerk—The mistake I made that cost a lot of money was to leave a window open in the house while my wife and I went on an all day outing. When we returned, a $200 radio was gone, along with a lot of my wife's wedding presents and all my clothes.

Charles Wollpert, 5343 West Monroe street, policeman—I probably would have been a big league baseball player if I hadn't married when I did. I was only 20 years old. At the time, it seemed like a costly error, but not now. I have a fine wife and three daughters, the best league in the world and I'm batting a thousand per cent in it.

Charles Durr, Bellingham, Wash., college student—The costliest error I ever made couldn't be measured in dollars and cents. A bit of carelessness on my part caused be to be temporarily discharged as an ensign in the Naval Reserve three months ago. I am going to try to be reinstated a year from now after I get my college degree.

Harold Huppenbauer, Kenosha, Wis., railroad clerk—I have made two costly errors in my life. One was to invest in an insurance endowment policy and then to lose my job two weeks later. The second was to leave the army in November when I was discharged for being over age. I am going to join again next month.

ITALIANS PAINT SOMBER PICTURE OF NAZI SOLDIER

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 5.—The Russian campaign has profoundly modified the external aspect of the German soldier, the special correspondent of the Italian newspaper, Corriere della Sera, wrote today in a significant article dated "On the Russian Front."

"The German soldier," he said, "is no longer the natty, jaunty, young fellow who went out to do battle for his country. When a soldier in field gray returns from the front today his face is hardened and bleak, his mien is somber, and he says nothing. . . . He is a much different soldier from that of the campaigns of 1939 and 1940.

"The reason? The frozen wastes, the marshes, the villages reduced to ashes, the death which prevades! The ferocity with which the soviet soldier fights, the indifference with which he dies, his mortal hate, his war without quarter, the sabotage, the constant and spine-tickling danger of mines, the interminable massacre. Yes, all that and more has contributed to the slough of indifference and the bitterness written on the faces of the German army."

FIREMEN HELP REVIVE WOMAN.

Firemen of rescue squad 6, under Lieut. Arthur Sorenson, worked over Mrs. Fannie Wersobski, 43 years old, for more than an hour Sunday night after she suffered a heart attack in her home at 2216 Division street. Mrs. Wersobski, a widow, was taken to County hospital.

FINNISH WORKERS CRY FOR PEACE, BRITAIN IS TOLD

Leaders' Imperialist Aims Reported Under Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP).—Finnish discontent with continuance of a difficult war is mounting with German reverses on the eastern front and dissension in the German high command, reports from northern Europe indicated today.

The Stockholm correspondent of the Swiss newspaper, National Zeitung of Basel, said "criticisms are raised against the ambitions of the [Finnish] military high command to create a greater Finland.

Would Aid Production.

"The Finnish workers have no understanding for Finnish imperialism of the higher military command. A settlement with Russia would create immense satisfaction thruout Finland, as men and means would be set free immediately for production."

Reuters, British news agency, also quoted the Helsingfors newspaper, Suomen Sosialidemokraatti, as declaring this "seems a suitable opportunity to break off military operations" against Russia.

The paper was quoted as saying Field Marshal Baron Karl Gustaf Mannerheim's statement of Finland's goal, a strategically defensible frontier, has been almost achieved.

Much Territory Regained.

Since Mannerheim's statement last November, Finland has reoccupied Hango peninsula, which the Russians gained as a base in southwestern Finland in the 1939-'40 war; all her former territory on the Karelian isthmus, and much of Karelia east of her old frontier.

Sentiment for peace appeared to be strongest among workers, who are reported to be suffering from food and other shortages.

The central council of the Finnish trade unions was reported to have addressed Premier Jukha Rangell, declaring that it relied upon the government to consider the strain on the people.

MALTA ATTACKED THRU 2 DAYS BY AXIS AIR RAIDERS

VALETTA, Malta, Jan. 5 (AP).—British headquarters issued this communique today:

"Late Sunday afternoon a force of enemy bombers with a large escort of fighters crossed the coast, being heavily engaged by our fighters and anti-aircraft barrage. Bombs fell in the center of the island, causing slight casualties and minor damage. Gunfire damaged two enemy bombers and possibly a third.

"During the night four alerts were sounded. A number of enemy aircraft which crossed the coast dropped a few bombs in widely scattered areas, causing a few casualties but only minor damage. A heavy anti-aircraft barrage destroyed one enemy raider.

"During today six alerts were sounded. This morning raiding aircraft dropped bombs from above the clouds but heavy anti-aircraft fire caused them to withdraw."

A seventh alert was sounded after issuance of the communique.

[Rome's communique said "attacks of important Italian and German air formations against Malta have had new and considerable success. Numerous planes were destroyed or damaged on the ground and many large fires were observed."]

U. S. VOLUNTEERS IN BRITISH UNITS MUST STAY PUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The applications of members of the Eagle [American] squadron of the royal air forces and other Americans serving here with Canadian troops, to be transferred to the American army so far have been refused. They have been advised by the United States embassy to "stay put" until a specific demand is made for their help by the war department.

The American embassy has been stormed not only by Americans but also by Czechs, Poles, and other citizens of allied nations who volunteer their services to the United States government. In one day the embassy received 350 applications.

Eagle squadron pilots and American members of the Canadian expeditionary force have been told that they are helping the United States just as much by remaining here as if they enlisted in the American forces.

British Campaign Leaders in Libya

[Wide World Photo.]

BRITISH HAMMER AT AXIS AFRICAN 'HOLDOUT' POSTS

Flyers Pour Bombs on Sollum and Halfaya.

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 5 (AP).—Assaults to smash the axis' last two holdout garrisons near the Egyptian-Libyan border, strongly held positions at Sollum and Halfaya [Helfire pass] have been launched by the RAF, middle east headquarters disclosed today.

While a heavy drive thus developed to remove those thorns from the flank of Britain's long line into Libya, the war bulletin said pressure was being kept up against the main body of German Gen. Erwin Rommel's remaining forces in the Agedabia sector, 300 miles to the west.

Hammering also at axis sea power in the Mediterranean and potential sources of water borne reinforcements, the RAF was reported to have raided Salamis, a German submarine base on Greece's coast west of Piraeus, and Tripoli, the main Libyan port for axis reinforcements.

More Prisoners at Bardia.

Besides hits on the Salamis base, the RAF communique said bombs fell on munitions factories and workshops and started large fires.

A further tally of axis prisoners captured at Bardia, which surrendered to the British last Friday, raised the total there to 7,500 and British sources said they expected that about the same number was holding Sollum and Halfaya.

Besides opening the whole coastal highway as a secure avenue for supplies, the British also would release substantial forces for other action if those garrisons were reduced.

Statistics now are convincing many Britons that annihilation of Rommel's forces will not be as easy as they first had thought. At the start of the present campaign, axis forces in Cirenaica were estimated at 47,000 Germans and 100,000 Italians. So far the British have claimed the capture of about 20,000. Rommel, thus, is left with a sizeable force and more tanks than it originally was believed he had.

British Flyers Raid Sicily.

ROME, Jan. 5 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—British air raiders attacked Castelvetrano, Sicily, last night, causing slight damage and killing eight persons and injuring 15, the Italian high command announced today.

BRITAIN PRAISES WORK OF WRITERS ASSIGNED TO LIBYAN CAMPAIGN

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Newspaper correspondents and photographers who suffered the dangers and privations of the desert alongside Britain's fighting forces in order to tell the story of the second battle of Libya won the praise of the war office today for a dangerous job well done.

"It will be realized," said the tribute, "that both correspondents and photographers have to be as fit as combatant troops and it is clear that on this, the first time it was possible to give them a real chance, they and everybody connected with them did their jobs well."

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S correspondent, Sam Brewer, and three Associated Press correspondents, whose dispatches also appeared in THE TRIBUNE at various times, were in the thick of the fighting. One of the AP correspondents, English born Godfrey H. P. Anderson, was captured late in November by the Italians and still is their prisoner. Edward P. Kennedy and Preston Grover were the other AP correspondents covering the campaign.

ASSERTS BRITAIN NEEDS NEW SET OF PEACE GOALS

Military Expert Declares Policy Unsatisfactory.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Maj. Gen. J. F. C. Fuller, whom the Evening Standard describes as "the most clear headed of military thinkers and writers," today criticized Britain's war policy from the beginning to the present time in an article headed "What Price Victory?"

When the war began, Gen. Fuller said, British policy was the same as at the end of the last war, namely:

"Behind the screen of a sea blockade, to coöperate with France and defeat Germany in western Europe, after which Germany would be reduced to impotence and the nations she had conquered liberated."

This strategy remains the same, Gen. Fuller asserted, in spite of the French collapse, Italy's entry into the war, "which knocked the bottom out of this policy," and German penetration toward the Mediterranean by way of Jugo-Slavia and Greece.

Any Change to Be Made Now?

Gen. Fuller asked whether any change would be made now that the war has spread to the far east. He reminded readers that "people do not realize that war is not an end in itself, but, instead, a means toward an end, the establishment of a peace which will be more acceptable to the world as a whole than the peace we know the enemy is aiming at."

Gen. Fuller compared Adolf Hitler's "new order" and the Japanese "greater Asia" co-prosperity sphere with the Atlantic charter. He found weak links on both sides. Hitler's postwar scheme, he said, ignores "family instinct," which "is still dominant among European nations," as well as European dislike of "German discipline."

British-American "vision" is weak, he said, because it "offers nations full freedom, both social and political, but fails to offer a plan for the eradication of the economic and financial causes, with resultant booms and slumps, of devastating unemployment and poverty in an age of plenty."

Not Satisfied by Either.

Gen. Fuller contends that "ordinary men and women of the western world seem to want to dwell neither in the house called the "new order," nor in that called the Atlantic charter, because they feel that the first looks like a hybrid between a barracks and a factory, and the second may turn out to be a cross between a caravan and a pawnshop."

By the latter phrase he means a money system which in itself renders enjoyments which should result from freedom inaccessible to the large majority.

"Consequently, until—like goal posts—our economic peace lines are set up, tho we can shout about the war ball, we cannot begin to play a profitable strategical game," he concluded.

Gen. Fuller was chief of staff of the British tank corps in the World war. He was retired in 1933.

563,000 ILLINOIS MEN EXPECTED TO SIGN FOR DRAFT

304,020 Will Register in Cook County.

Approximately 563,000 Illinois men from 20 thru 44 years old will register for the draft Feb. 16, Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state selective service director, estimated yesterday.

On the basis of present registration, Cook county would furnish 54 per cent, or 304,020 men. Chicago would furnish 85 per cent of the county figure, or 258,417. National selective service officials said 9,000,000 additional men in the fighting age division would be registered thruout the nation.

County Total Now 582,560.

Up to date Illinois has registered 6 per cent, or 1,063,175 men, of the national total of 17,500,000 men from 21 to 35. Registrations in Cook County now total 582,560, or 54 per cent of the state total, and in Chicago, 496,628, or 46 per cent of state registration.

After President Roosevelt's proclamation yesterday fixing the registration date, state selective service headquarters began preparations for the huge task.

Col. Armstrong said he had asked Gov. Green to proclaim a state-wide school holiday Feb. 16 in order that school buildings may be utilized, when convenient, for the registration.

Teachers Will Assist.

In many localities school teachers will assist local draft boards in the registration, Armstrong said. There are 361 draft boards in Illinois and 180 in Cook county, including 151 in Chicago.

Orders went out 10 days ago to county draft boards asking them to plan for the new registration, Col. Louis A. Boening, Cook county selective service director, said.

The local boards will have sole authority to choose registrars and sites, he added. Volunteers for the Feb. 16 registration were asked to offer their services to the draft boards nearest their home, and not to selective service headquarters.

Only American citizens and alien residents from 20 to 44 years old who have not registered previously are affected by the President's proclamation, officials emphasized. Those already registered will not be required to do so again.

Plans for Noncombatants

Dates will be set later for noncombatant registration—men from 18 to 20 and 45 thru 64. Men in those age groups will be eligible for assignment to various types of arms industries or civilian defense work.

Armstrong said it was possible that more than one day would be alloted to register men exempt from armed military service.

Maj. Gen. Joseph M. Cummins, commander of the 6th corps area, said all enlisted men of the regular army reserve corps and the National Guard not now in active federal service would be called to active duty commencing Jan. 10. The call will be completed by Feb. 1.

Army officials said the call would affect all men who had been inducted but because they were over 28 had been released from active duty and placed on the reserve list before the amendment of the draft law.

However, enlisted men who are necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest, key men in defense industry, and men with dependents may in some cases be deferred, Gen. Cummins said.

Draft Figures

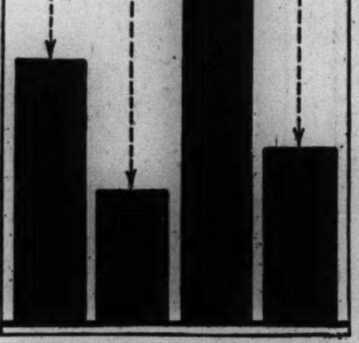
The number of men registered on the first two draft registration dates compared with the number who will register on the next date. The first registration was for men 21 to 36, the second for those having reached 21 since the first date, and the third will be for all unregistered men of 20 to 44.



The number of class 1-A men that each age group is expected to produce.

MOTHER OF NAVY HERO SAYS 'BEST NEWS HE'S ALIVE'

Bristol, Va., Jan. 5 (AP).—Mrs. E. H. Kabler, mother of Lieut. William L. Kabler, commander of the seaplane tender U. S. S. Heron, which fought off an attack of 15 Japanese planes in the Pacific, was more excited tonight by hearing that he was alive than by the news of his heroism.

"The best news of all is that he is alive," she said.

Friends of Mrs. Kabler, a widow, hurried to her home to offer their congratulations and she couldn't even think of supper amid the excitement.

Dominica to Ask Joint Pan-American War Ukase

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic, Jan. 5 (AP).—Gen. Rafael Trujillo, commander of the Dominican armed forces, announced today that the Dominican Republic will ask the Pan-American conference of foreign ministers at Rio de Janeiro for a joint declaration of war against the axis. This republic already has declared war.

ARMY OBJECTOR RATES CAMP AS 'A TEMPTATION'

Mennonite Says Bible Keeps Him Home.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 5 (AP). — A young Lancaster county Mennonite told a federal court jury today he had refused to go to a camp for conscientious objectors to military service "because the Bible tells us we should not yield to temptation."

"We don't learn anywhere in the Bible that we should go away from home and work for the government," Isaac Shirk Eby, 25 years old, of New Holland, Pa., declared before Judge Harry E. Kalodner.

Eby was one of six conscientious objectors who pleaded innocent to charges of violating the nation's selective service law. All belong to the strict Wenger branch of the Mennonite faith.

Rejects Legal Counsel.

Eby rejected the court's offer of legal counsel and said he would like to be represented by his father, Enos Eby, who told the court "we don't believe in defending ourselves. We believe in a supreme power."

When questioned by Kalodner, Eby said:

"The reason I did not report to the camp is that I believe we should worship God at home, and work and earn our bread at home.

"It is not good for us to be in such company as there would be at camp. The Bible says we should not yield to temptation. It would be a temptation to go away from home."

Go Home for Night.

The other defendants, who will be tried later, are Daniel Weaver Hoover, Isaac Elam Rissler, Elam Sander Shirk, David Weber Shirk, and George Martin Zimmerman. When the trial recessed until tomorrow the six started back to their homes in custody of their fathers.

"We'll have to go home overnight," said Joseph Shirk, father of David. "Our folks worry when they don't hear from us."

He said the group would travel by train and trolley, explaining: "We of the Wenger branch Mennonites are not supposed to ride in automobiles."

Mexican Jailed for Selling Song Against Aid for Allies

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Jan. 5 (AP). —José Isabel Estrada Alvarado was jailed today under Mexico's new laws against social disturbance and fifth column activity because he sold copies of a song critical of Mexico's aid to the democracies. Estrada Alvarado said he had no political intent and was selling the song purely as a commercial matter.

All Others Aged 20-45 on Feb. 16.

ilance to protect the production industries engaged in the supplying of our own armed forces and those of our allies. The Selective Service system will be mindful of the need for food and for men who know how to grow it.

"At the same time, the Selective Service system will expect industry and agriculture to use to the maximum individuals who do not possess the capacities for service in the armed forces. The Selective Service system will expect a gradual substitution of women for men who are fit to fight.

"Some have been rejected for military service because of minor physical disabilities. These registrants represent a resource that cannot be overlooked. The standards suitable for the production of a 10 year reservist are obviously not those which should apply to the men we need for our armed forces in a total war effort which may well require in some capacity the service of every man and woman in the nation."

Gen. Hershey noted that the amended draft act requires the registration of all men from 18 to 64, inclusive, but subjects only those in the 20 to 44 age group to military service liability. Those in the group from 45 to 64, inclusive, will be the next to register and those of 18 and 19 will be the last, he said. The men in the nonmilitary age groups are to be registered primarily for an inventory of their qualifications.

Previous Registrants Exempted.

In his proclamation Mr. Roosevelt ordered registration of every male citizen of the United States who was born on or after Feb. 17, 1897, and on or before Dec. 31, 1921, before local draft boards or other designated officials in the United States, the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and in Puerto Rico. This exempts, of course, those who have registered previously.

"This and other registrations," said the proclamation, "will be required to insure victory, final and complete, over the enemies of the United States."

Persons subject to registration but unable to register on the chosen date because of circumstances beyond their control may present themselves for registration as soon as possible after the date. The President called upon the governors of states and territories and local draft boards to carry out the provisions of his proclamation. He also urged employers and government agencies to allow sufficient time off for men to register if necessary.

Those Exempted by Law.

Persons exempted from the proclamation, in accordance with the selective service act, are officers and enlisted men of the armed forces, cadets of the military and naval academies, members of the federally recognized active National Guard, the various reserve corps, diplomatic representatives, and residents of the United States who are not citizens and have not declared their intention to become citizens of the United States. High government officials, including members of congress, are exempted from service but are required to register under the law.

Meanwhile, local draft boards have been reclassifying men previously registered with the view of absorbing more of them into the services. This includes all men previously in the 1-H classification—those 28 and older.

Greater Savings to Avert Inflation Urged on British

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Despite enormous individual savings being invested in government securities, even greater savings are necessary if Britain is to stave off inflation, Lord Kindersley, president of the national saving movement, said today.

Glenn C. Kline (left) in custody of United States Deputy Marshal Adam Niecekowski in Detroit yesterday.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 5 (AP).—John S. Bugas, agent in charge of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, disclosed today the arrest of Glenn C. Kline, 31 years old, a stenographer in a local railroad ticket office, and described him as "engaged in spreading vicious propaganda here." Kline was arrested by FBI authorities Saturday and charged with failure to register under the selective service act. Bugas said evidence of subversive activity would be placed before a federal grand jury. Bugas said Kline had been active in the "Silver Shirts."

GERMAN BOMBER DAMAGES TOWN ON BRITISH COAST

LONDON, Jan. 6 [Tuesday]—(AP).— A pre-dawn foray by one invading bomber today caused some damage at a place on the northeast coast of England, the government announced. No casualties were reported.

The first German night raiders to appear over Britain in a week were met by a burst of anti-aircraft fire over the Thames estuary last night. The raiders apparently were in small force, and there were no immediate reports of bombs being dropped.

Two enemy fighters machine gunned a point on the southwest coast and a plane which flew over Northern Ireland was driven off by anti-aircraft fire yesterday.

Claim Four Ships Sunk.

BERLIN, Jan. 5 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—German submarines operating in the Atlantic and Arctic oceans and the Mediterranean sea were credited by the German high command today with sinking four ships, including a tanker, and with damaging two other vessels. The ships sunk totaled 20,000 tons.

German air raiders attacked ports and radio stations in the Faroe and Shetland Islands last night and blasted at industrial installations on the British east coast, the high command said. British bombers again raided north German coastal areas during the night.

MACEDONIA AND THRACE TERROR LAID TO BULGARS

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Jan. 4 [Delayed]. — The Greek legation at Kuibyshev has released a document alleging Bulgarian spoliation and terrorism in occupied Macedonia and Thrace.

Cereal crops have been requisitioned and tobacco stocks removed to Bulgaria. Much personal property has been stolen. Greek tradesmen have been ruthlessly taxed. Property of Greeks seeking refuge in flight has been confiscated.

Many Greeks have been deported to Bulgaria, including 3,000 engaged in forced labor, or shipped to concentration camps on the Island of Samothrace. Liberal professions are being suppressed and Bulgarian "partners" are being introduced in Greek enterprises. Greeks in Macedonia and Thrace are forced to take out Bulgarian identification papers and Bulgarize their names.

PETAIN ACCUSED OF TRICKING AXIS ON PEACE AIMS

French Fascist Killed—2 Bombings in Paris.

VICHY, France, Jan. 5 (AP).—Marcel Deat, a leading proponent of coöperation with the Nazis, declared today that the government of Marshal Petain now had turned against collaboration with Germany, having previously bided its time while Britain grew stronger and America entered the war.

The Germans, he added, had been jollied along. He attributed Vichy's alleged change in course largely to Adm. William D. Leahy, the United States ambassador.

Asserts Leahy Pledged Victory.

Leahy, said Deat in a Paris radio address which was the latest in a series of attacks upon Petain since his New Year's day speech, had promised a swift victory over the axis by the united nations.

This, he went on, was a promise which the United States was in no position to fulfill since it now was defending itself in the far east.

During the day the discovery along the Paris-Troyes railroad tracks of the battered body of the collaborationist Yves Paringaux, chief secretary to Interior Minister Pierre Pucheu, was announced officially.

German Centers Bombed.

German authorities in Paris also announced today that a German bookshop in the Champs Elysées district and a German soldiers club had been bombed Saturday night in a new series of terrorist incidents.

[The German military commander for Belgium and northern France announced from Berlin today that the population would be given a last opportunity to surrender firearms without penalty up to Jan. 20 and that after that date any one found in possession of arms would be executed.]

Still Hold Isles.

ST. PIERRE, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Free French information service declared tonight that Free French forces had not evacuated St. Pierre and Miquelon and that no diplomatic pressure had been exerted to this end.

Replying to a German radio report claiming that the United States had caused Adm. Emile Muselier and his forces to leave these islands off Newfoundland, the information service quoted the admiral as saying, "There is no power in the world that can remove either me or my men alive from these islands.

"If by some incredible circumstance an attempt should be made to oust us, then there is no democracy left on earth and there is nothing left for democratic men to do but die."

OCD TO RETAIN REIN OVER AIR RAID WARDENS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special]. —Jurisdiction over air raid wardens, airplane spotters, and auxiliary firemen and policemen will be retained by the Office of Civilian Defense instead of being turned over to the army, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt indicated at her press conference today.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who held her first conference of the new year at civilian defense headquarters, said the bureau of the budget has concluded that the "protective" services of civilian defense workers cannot be separated from the volunteer services.

Mrs. Roosevelt laughed off reports that she is going to quit as assistant civilian defense director. She said so far as she knew there was "no truth whatever" to reports of rumored differences between herself and Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York, the OCD head, and denied specifically that any of her assistants had been displaced by La Guardia and subsequently reinstated by her. She will shortly appoint a director of community planning to serve directly under her, she said.

CONGRESS READY FOR ROOSEVELT'S ADDRESS TODAY

President Will Appear in Person at Session.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—The second session of the 77th congress, which convened at noon today, will meet in joint session at 12:30 p. m. [11:30 a. m. Chicago time] tomorrow to hear President Roosevelt discuss his program for the prosecution of the war against the axis powers. The address will be broadcast on nation-wide hookups and beamed to Europe and Latin America by short wave.

The President's decision to deliver his annual message on the state of the Union personally, instead of sending it up to be read by the senate and house clerks, was announced at a White House conference with congressional leaders today.

Leaders Are Disappointed.

The congressional leaders were disappointed, it having been their hope that Mr. Roosevelt would follow the example of President Wilson, who discontinued personal appearances after the nation became engaged in the first World war. It was suggested that arrangements for a joint session, including preparations for the safety of the President, the cabinet, the Supreme court, and other government officials, require considerable effort in war time and that no particular purpose is served by maintenance of the peace-time practice.

Congressional leaders predicted that Mr. Roosevelt will make a stirring speech intended to inspire the nation to greater efforts for a successful prosecution of the war. He is expected, they said, to give the country further details of the momentous plans now being completed for the coördination of strategy, commands, and supplies by all nations fighting Hitlerism.

Budget Due Tomorrow.

The President's budget for the fiscal year 1943, which begins next July 1, is expected to be submitted to congress on Wednesday. Mr. Roosevelt has announced that a production program calling for the expenditure of 50 billion dollars—half the estimated national income for the same fiscal year—is the present goal. If the estimates for war expenditures alone aggregate 50 billion dollars, the total budget probabir will be 6 or 7 billion dollars higher. At any rate, total appropriations during the 1942 present session are expected to break the 1941 all-time record of 61½ billion dollars.

The senate and house held only brief, perfunctory sessions today. Each adopted a resolution notifying the other of its readiness to do business and a concurrent resolution adopted by both houses notified the President that congress is in session, ready to receive any communication he cares to make. A concurrent resolution providing for the joint session at 12:30 p. m. will be adopted by the two houses when they meet at noon tomorrow.

Republican Sworn In.

Today's senate session was devoted chiefly to the swearing in of a new senator, Eugene D. Millikin [R., Col.], who was appointed to the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Alva B. Adams, a Democrat, and to eulogies of Sen. Carter Glass [D., Va.] who celebrated his 84th birthday yesterday.

The first important business on the legislative program is the administration's price control bill, which the senate will take up on Wednesday after receiving the budget message. The final senate version is expected to differ substantially from the measure passed by the house in November.

Daylight Saving Probable.

House Majority Leaders John W. McCormack of Massachusetts announced after today's White House conference that war-time daylight saving legislation will be expedited in both houses. The administration, he explained, favors bills already introduced in each house which give the President discretionary authority to advance or retard the standard time of each zone by not more than two hours.

Later in the session, congress will be confronted by a new tax bill to help defray the stupendous cost of the war. Congress will be asked, it is understood, to increase the total annual revenue from about 13 billion dollars, the estimate for the current fiscal year, to between 18 and 20 billion dollars.

FRENCH PRINTED 20 PER CENT MORE MONEY LAST YEAR

VICHY, France, Jan. 5 (AP).—The French government has had to print so much money in order to meet its payments to the German army of occupation that currency increased in circulation by 20 per cent in 1941, after a 50 per cent increase the year before, the newspaper Le Temps reported today.

Le Temps, mouthpiece of the industrial interests, called the occupation payments "the real cause of France's financial difficulties" and praised the government's efforts to obtain a reduction in this "tribute."

The newspaper said that in spite of the increase in currency circulation the 1942 budget showed considerable stabilization.

NAVY WILL USE BLIMP PATROLS IN COAST AREAS

Will Hunt for Raiders and Submarines.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—The navy has put a fleet of blimps armed with depth bombs, machine guns and cannon at work guarding the nation's coastlines from submarines and prowling raiders.

On the Atlantic coast the first squadron of six blimps has already taken the air, the navy said today. They are the first of scores to be used.

Congress has appropriated money for 48 of the airships—250 feet long and about one-twentieth the size of the rigid air ship Hindenburg—and $6,000,000 for the establishment of three bases. One is at South Weymouth, Mass., another at Elizabeth City, N. C., and a third at Sunnyvale, Cal., the army air base the navy has taken over.

Hundreds of Men Trained.

Meantime hundreds of men are being trained in the technique of lighter-than-air maneuvers that combine sailing and flying.

The navy apparently is convinced that patroling air ships are among the effective weapons against submarine attacks on shipping in coastal waters. Capt. C. E. Rosendahl, veteran dirigible commander and proponent of lighter-than-air craft, calls the blimp the "dread of submarine captains" and credits it with an important part in halting the World war submarine "scourge."

Value in Dispute.

Carrying a crew of eight, its proponents say that a patrol airship can hover, drift or, under power, travel more than twice as fast as a submarine. It has been demonstrated that it is possible to spot even deeply submerged submarines from a blimp under favorable conditions, they said. If the blimp's own depth bombs don't finish it off, the spot can be marked and destroyers summoned, it was argued.

However other sources pointed to the vulnerability of the big balloons to gunfire and storms. The blimps would be easy targets for anti-aircraft fire, it was stated. Difficulty in handling a nonrigid airship in bad weather also was stressed.

The first airship patrol squadron went to work last Friday from the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J.

FATHER AND SON HIKE 6 DAYS TO ENLIST IN NAVY

A father and son who hitch-hiked for six days thru bitter cold to enlist in the navy found refuge from the icy weather last night in the Evanston police station. Today they will seek to enlist at the Chicago naval recruiting offices in the United States courthouse

The two, Roy Nellis, 43 years old, a steamfitter, and his son, Ted, 16, both of Duluth, Minn., appeared, half frozen, at the Evanston station late last night and told their story to Sergt. Hubert G. Kelsh, who offered them a cell for the night.

The elder Nellis said he and Ted left Duluth Dec. 30, bound for the Great Lakes Naval Training station. They arrived there yesterday, only to be told they must go on to the recruiting offices in Chicago. Nellis is unemployed, he said, and when his son, who will be 17 in February, decided to enlist, the father decided to join him. He is a veteran of the Rainbow division.

LA GUARDIA STIRS STORM BY PLANS FOR 7 DAY WEEK

New York, Jan. 5 [Special].—Following a day of adverse publicity on his plan to decree a seven day week because of the war emergency for 156,489 city employés, Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia left the city hall this evening without having issued his threatened order. He gave no explanation.

Meantime the mayor's threat sent a wave of apprehension sweeping thru city agencies and departments. One of the first reflections of the feeling came from the police department, which has an estimated 4,000 men eligible for retirement. Many others have indicated they would resign if the mayor's threatened order becomes a reality.

WAR BOND SALES HIT 381 MILLION IN CHICAGO AREA

8 Month Total Reported by Reserve Bank.

Big figures usually don't mean a thing to the cashiers and lightning calculators of the Federal Reserve bank who daily think in terms of millions and make change in hundreds of thousands. But yesterday even they blinked when they added up the sales of defense bonds for the last eight months and posted this total:

Series E., F., and G.—$381,000,000.

The sales were made by 2,700 agencies of the bank in the seventh reserve district which embraces parts of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin from May last year to Jan. 1. Series E.—known as the "small man's bonds"—alone accounted for $150,000,000, of which more than $50,000,000 were sold in December, according to A. T. Sihler, assistant vice president.

Sales Thru Post Office.

The post office, covering the city and most of the suburbs, reported yesterday that it also has done a brisk business in the last eight months. It has sold $18,331,218 worth of bonds and $3,672,830 in defense stamps.

Despite the cold weather The Tribune Public Service offices, at Tribune Tower and at Dearborn and Madison streets, had a $2,700 day. Stamp sales totaled $250.50 and bonds $2,456.25.

One of the day's largest stamp customers was Grover A. Peterson, president of the Svithiod Singing club, Swedish fraternal group at 624 Wrightwood avenue. He bought $75 in stamps and, he said, he's going to place one under each plate of a dinner which the organization will hold Jan. 22.

On Sunday Mrs. Georgiana Marek, 5914 South Richmond street, purchased four $18.75 bonds for her daughter, Carol Ann, 6 years old.

Employers to Meet Today.

A meeting of 100 employers, originally scheduled for yesterday, will be held today at defense savings staff headquarters in the Bankers' building. Plans are to be made to institute voluntary paycheck allotments for the purchase of defense bonds among their 40,000 workers. The plan is already in operation among 500,000 Chicago workers.

County employés yesterday joined the voluntary salary check-off system for the purchase of defense bonds. Under a plan mapped by the board of commissioners county workers will decide how much, if any, is to be deducted from their pay checks. Minimum amounts will be $1 each pay day. The treasurer will hold the deducted funds and when $18.75 is accumulated a bond will be purchased for the worker.

CAPT. BEARDALL APPOINTED HEAD OF ANNAPOLIS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The navy department announced tonight the appointment of Capt. John R. Beardall, President Roosevelt's naval aide, to be superintendent of the Naval academy at Annapolis.

Beardall, 54 years old, has been the White House naval aide since last May. That post will be filled by Capt. John L. McCrea, now an aide to Adm. Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations.

President Roosevelt, upon whose recommendation Beardall's assignment was understood to have been made, recently nominated his naval aide for promotion to the rank of rear admiral. The nomination is now before the senate. Beardall will take over his new job at a time when the navy is speeding up the vital war time task of educating and commissioning naval officers.

NAVAL TRAINING BILL MAY PASS IN HOUSE TODAY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] of the house naval affairs committee said tonight he expected the house would act tomorrow on a navy department bill which, he said, probably would mean doubling the number of men in training at Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training station.

The senate already has approved the bill which, Vinson said, would increase the total enlisted personnel of the navy and marines from approximately 300,000 to 500,000.

ALIENS GIVE UP ONLY 2,412 GUNS, CAMERAS, RADIOS

Response Unsatisfactory, Says Police Official.

Fewer than 2,500 cameras, guns, and short wave radio sets and parts had been surrendered by Chicago's 50,000 enemy aliens at 11 o'clock last night when their possession of these articles became illegal by presidential proclamation.

In the early evening when district police stations reported that more than 1,200 contraband articles had been surrendered, Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed force, termed the response "unsatisfactory."

Calls Number Unsatisfactory.

"There are 28,000 German enemy aliens, 21,000 Italian enemy aliens, and more than 250 Japanese in Chicago," said Capt. Prendergast. "The number of items they have turned in is unsatisfactory and there should be a sharp increase by the time the deadline is reached tonight."

The increase was not sharp, however, a survey of all district police stations disclosed. The final summary showed a total of 2,412 prescribed articles turned in.

The heaviest receipts were reported by Hyde Park with 400 items, the Town Hall station [Wilson avenue] with 337 articles, and North Damen avenue with several hundred items. In these three districts police estimated that 80 per cent of the articles turned in were cameras. Wabash avenue police received nothing during the day.

1878 Gun Surrendered.

A wide variety of guns was surrendered. Sheffield police reported surrender of an 1878 breech loader and several other museum pieces. Maxwell street police said one alien embarrassedly handed over a sawed off shotgun, possession of which has been taboo in Chicago ever since the prohibition gang war era. He said he inherited the weapon from his father.

Another alien didn't bother to wait for a receipt for his radio. He drove up to the Warren avenue police station, hurled the set from his car, and drove away. In Lake county a motorist tossed a $100 radio from his car in southern Lake Forest and drove on.

All material turned in will be kept in government custody until the end of hostilities. It was not necessary for aliens to turn in entire radios. By producing affidavits that short wave bands have been disconnected they can keep the sets for domestic broadcasts.

ANNOUNCE NEW REGULATIONS.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special].—Supplemental regulations for the conduct of German, Italian, and Japanese nationals in the United States, were announced by Attorney General Francis Biddle today. The regulations require all such aliens to surrender to local police authorities before 11 p. m., Thursday, Jan. 8, 1942, all of the following equipment in their possession:

Weapons or implements of war or component parts thereof; ammunition of all kinds; bombs; explosives or material used in the manufacture of explosives; signal devices; codes or ciphers; papers, documents, or books in which there may be invisible writing; photographs, sketches, pictures, drawings, maps, or graphical representation of any military or naval installations or equipment or of any arms, ammunitions, implements of war, device or thing used or intended to be used in the combat equipment of the land or naval forces of the United States or of any military or naval post, camp, or station.

The penalty for failure is forfeiture of the articles themselves and apprehension of the alien, with possible internment. The articles will later be turned over by the police to federal authorities for safe keeping.

FREE BROWDER, REDS DEMAND AT LENIN MEMORIAL

New York, Jan. 5 [Special].—Applauding demands by speakers that Earl Browder, imprisoned communist leader, be freed, 20,000 communists jammed Madison Square Garden tonight for a Lenin memorial meeting. They also approved a pledge to support the fight of the United States against the axis "gangsters."

A sketch recalling moments of American history was presented, which culminated in the actors appearing in the uniforms of the United States army, navy and marine corps. At the same time the American, British, Chinese, and soviet flags were unfurled behind a huge picture of Lenin.

A resolution urging President Roosevelt to free Browder was adopted, and a collection of more than $4,000 taken up to carry on communist activities.

PLANS TO ASSIST DEFENSE MAPPED BY OPTOMETRISTS

A joint meeting of the Illinois Optometric association and the Chicago Optometric society was held last night in the Morrison hotel simultaneously with meetings thruout the country marking "Optometry's Mobilization day." Five hundred persons attended. The groups formulated a program for aiding in the national defense effort: helping physicians with emergency first aid; assisting in the visual classification of individuals called in the national defense, and rehabilitation of those rejected because of visual defects.

Boy Burned

Donald Taccola in St. Anthony hospital under care of Nurse Mary Usalis.

Two boys were seriously burned yesterday when they used gasoline to kindle a fire in the kitchen stove of their home at 2618 West 17th street. They are Aldo Taccola Jr., 9 years old, and his brother, Donald, 8. Both were taken to St. Anthony's hospital. Neighbors told police the two prepare their own lunch before going back to school because both parents work. The two escaped thru a window. A neighbor extinguished the fire.

DOG GETS PRAISE FOR ASSISTING IN WARNING OF FIRE

Daisy, a dog owned by Mrs. Rose Zukowski, who lives on the second floor of a building at 1145 Milwaukee avenue, received high praise from firemen yesterday for assisting in turning in a fire alarm and averting a possible disastrous fire in which the lives of several persons would have been endangered.

The dog was in the basement of the building watching a man thaw out a frozen pipe with burning paper. The building became ignited and while the man went after a bucket of water, Daisy streaked upstairs, barking.

Mrs. Zukowski smelled smoke and yelled, "fire." Her mother, Mrs. Mary Zebrowski, 68 years old, fainted. Mrs. Zukowski called firemen who carried the older woman to safety.

The fire endangered nearby buildings until it was controled by firemen. Second Deputy Fire Marshal Michael Cody estimated the damage at $3,000.

FIREMAN DIES IN APARTMENT BLAZE; 50 FLEE

Fireman Bernard Golombeck of Engine Company 117 lost his life last evening while fighting a fire in an apartment building at 1551 North Lockwood avenue on the west side. The fire started in a basement storeroom and spread rapidly thru wooden partitions, filling the building with smoke and driving 50 tenants into the zero cold.

Golombeck collapsed while trying to break thru a partition in the smoke filled basement. He was carried upstairs, and a rescue squad under Capt. George Harper tried for almost an hour to revive him with an inhalator. Golombeck, who was 58 years old and a widower, lived at 3459 Milwaukee avenue. Damage to the apartment building was estimated at $500.

MILLION ASKED FOR HOSPITAL WAR PROJECTS

Urge 450 More Beds in County Institutions.

Dr. Karl Meyer, medical superintendent of Cook county institutions, yesterday recommended improvements and changes costing nearly a million dollars to meet possible wartime emergencies at Cook county hospital and Oak Forest institution.

The report proposed that 200 additional beds at the hospital and 250 at Oak Forest be made available for emergency use. The setting up of a public ambulance service with 12 ambulances and 42 drivers also was recommended.

Other Projects Urged.

Other proposals called for the installation of an intrahospital signal system for emergency mobilizations, blackout facilities for several operating and delivery rooms at the institutions, portable X-ray equipment, and construction of two underground tunnels between the main hospital building and the Durand-McCormick building and between the hospital and the out-patient building.

The program calls for approximately 260 additional employés, of whom 215 would be at the hospital and 45 at Oak Forest.

Cost of the program would be $757,624 at the hospital and $233,610 at Oak Forest. The report was referred to the county board's hospital committee. Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke, committee chairman, said he favored Dr. Meyer's recommendations.

Blood Preservation Facilities.

Dr. Meyer also suggested that the blood preservation facilities at the hospital be substantially expanded and that two physicians be added in this division.

The equipment of virtually all employés at the two institutions with hand flashlights for use during blackouts was urged. Immediate reduction in visiting hours to three hours a week at the hospital was suggested. The proposed visiting periods would be 7 to 8 p. m. on Wednesdays and 2 to 4 p. m. on Sundays.

Dr. Ole C. Nelson, assistant warden of the hospital, said the institution faces a shortage of interns for the first time in its 77 year history. He said interns have been taken into the armed services so far that the waiting list of applicants is exhausted and there are at present vacancies for six interns.

Marine Engineers Called by Canada for Winter Duty

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 5 (AP).—Munitions Minister C. D. Howe today urged marine engineers serving in lake trade to volunteer for work as engine fitters or lathe hands on ship repair work in Halifax and Saint John during the winter months. He said the need for experienced men was urgent.

CHICAGO RELIEF ROLLS DECREASE TO RECORD LOW

Shrinkage of relief rolls in November to a new low was reported yesterday by the Chicago Relief administration. With a sizable relief load remaining in the face of record employment, there were indications of tightening relief procedures.

Altho manufacturing employment in November was 40 per cent higher than the average for 1935-1939, and pay rolls 80 per cent greater, there were 117,220 persons still on the rolls. However, this was the sixth consecutive record low month for CRA and was 35 per cent under the figure a year before.

Nearly two-thirds of the 3,886 applications for relief during November were rejected or withdrawn, reflecting close scrutiny of applicants' needs. The principal reason for rejection was that private employment was available.

The relatively new aid to dependent children program more than doubled in November, its second month, with aid going to 5,092 persons. This resulted in the removal of 320 cases from CRA rolls. The number of old age assistance recipients in Chicago increased for the 20th successive month, to 47,197 persons.

MASS CEREMONY FAILS TO RELIEVE MARINES' RUSH

One hundred fifty marine recruits were sworn in yesterday in a mass ceremony in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel, while additional crowds of men were turned away because of lack of enlistment facilities.

Lieut. Col. Chester L. Fordney, officer in charge of marine recruiting, administered the oath to the recruits. The ceremonies were broadcast by W-G-N.

A BUS INCIDENT UPSETS TENOR OF CARUSO'S WAYS

A low bow and an apology in the Chicago avenue court brought a peaceful end yesterday to the Caruso-Nelson affair. The incident started in a loop bound Sheridan road bus. Principals were Enrico Caruso, 38 years old, 5036 Kenmore avenue, son of the famous tenor, and Miss Madeline Nelson, 35, of 941 Gunnison street, a beauty operator.

Both told their stories to Judge Leon Edelman. According to Miss Nelson, Caruso blocked her way as she tried to get from the front to the rear of the bus. When she protested he stamped on her toe, and slapped her, she said. Caruso's story was that the bus was so packed he couldn't make way for Miss Nelson. If he stepped on her toe it was accidental, and if he slapped her, he couldn't help it. Also, he added, Miss Nelson called him names.

Caruso said he had the names of three witnesses who offered to testify for him, but this wasn't necessary. Miss Nelson said she'd accept an apology. Judge Edelman said it would be all right with him. The charge was dismissed.

300 POUND SAFE AND $141 STOLEN.

YOU'LL BE GLAD TO LEARN THIS: WARMER TODAY

It is going to be slightly warmer this afternoon. The temperature was expected to drop to a low of 6 degrees below zero this morning, but then in the afternoon it should be around 10 above zero. Yesterday the low range was from 4 below zero in the city to 10 below on the outskirts.

There was no forecast on the probable duration of the cold snap, which already is more than three days old. Weather Man R. E. Gumph said Chicagoans might be suffering unduly because of the relative mildness of the weather in December. He recalled the severity of the winters of 1936 and 1940, and then suggested that the present cold spell was "only a warmup."

Firemen were busy, responding to about 300 alarms in the 24 hours ended at midnight. This was the highest total for any day since May, 1934, when there was an acute drouth. Most of the fires were caused by overheated furnaces and stoves.

FOUND DEAD IN STREET.

Paul Radikoff, 52 years old, 3508 North Clark street, a laborer, was found dead yesterday at Belmont and Sheffield avenues. Police said he apparently suffered a heart attack while en route to work and that exposure may have contributed to his death.

The Answer
TO YOUR SAVINGS AND INVESTMENT PROBLEMS

● WHERE AND HOW TO SAVE — where and how to invest — are problems for which many are trying to find a solution.

If not sure that you are saving in the most beneficial way — if you have funds you wish to invest to the greatest advantage — or if troubled by the investments you now own — investigate the savings and investment shares of this association.

Bell Savings is the largest thrift and home financing institution in Illinois. Its membership of more than 22,000 — its assets of over $24,000,000 — indicate the value of its services.

Fundamental strength is also found in the conservative management of the association under State and Federal supervision.

Finally, every savings or investment share account is insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the United States Government.

If you wish to save and receive the current income of 3 per cent — or if you wish to invest a lump sum with security, assurance of an attractive income and reasonable availability of your money, it will pay you to investigate what this association has to offer.

LAKE DIVERSION STEPUP URGED TO INCREASE POWER

Dewey Advances Proposal as Defense Measure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Rep. Charles S. Dewey [R., Ill.] today wrote Donald M. Nelson, executive director of the supply priorities and allocations board urging increased diversion of water from Lake Michigan to permit full use of electric generating units at the Lockport plant of the Chicago sanitary district.

Dewey called attention to the recent request of the war department of Herman L. Ellsworth, president of the City Club of Chicago, that additional diversion of water be permitted from the lake.

"Apparently the 1,500 second-feet now allowed," said Dewey, "produces only 8,200 kilowatts whereas if 6,700 additional second-feet were allowed these units at Lockport would develop 23,000 kilowatts."

He also called attention to an article in the Dec. 30 issue of "Victory," the official publication of the Office for Emergency Management, which emphasized the step-up in production. The article indicated that the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago must increase its power production from 74,000 kilowatts in 1941 to 160,000 in 1942.

"Here at Lockport," said Dewey in his letter to Nelson, "are electrical units, which are so difficult to obtain and to construct, not being worked to full capacity, and all that is needed is the permission to withdraw additional water from the lake which, I understand, is at high level at the present time."

Dewey stated that he had written also to Ellsworth.

DANCER BEATS TRAFFIC CHARGE WITH BIG DRUM

Delores Del Torres, a dancer, 30 years old, appeared in Safety court yesterday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Judge John V. McCormick found her guilty, placed her on probation for a year, and suspended her driving license. Miss Del Torres protested, stating that she had to carry a big drum with her whenever she dances, and asked how she would look carrying it in a street car. A court attaché informed Judge McCormick that her license was issued in Missouri and he had no right to revoke it. So he suspended the suspension.

Hunger Strike

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. MAE LANTZ.

Mrs. Mae Lantz, central figure in an extortion and love scandal in Waukegan in 1939, was released from St. Therese's hospital there yesterday after taking food that ended a supposed hunger strike begun New Year's eve. She announced the hunger strike by pasting heart shaped notes in the show window of her garment shop at 1406 Washington street, Waukegan. Police took her to the hospital Sunday night and she was given nourishment. Hospital authorities said she was in excellent condition for one who had fasted nearly 100 hours.

COURT ORDERS GAMBLING PROBE IN EAST CHICAGO

Judge William J. Murray of the Lake county, Indiana, Criminal court yesterday ordered a grand jury investigation of gambling conditions in East Chicago "as reported in the newspapers."

Judge Murray mentioned to the jurors that an investigation of the gambling situation was made recently by representatives of Circuit Judge T. Joseph Sullivan, as a result of which W. J. [Sonny] Sheetz and W. J. Gardner, operators of the Big House, gambling place in East Chicago, were arrested and brought to trial. Both were acquitted last week before City Judge Thomas W. Callahan in East Chicago.

The grand jury named Fred W. Spreer of Hobart as foreman and adjourned until next week.

Closed Nov. 7, Rockford Schools Reopened Again

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 5 [Special].—Rockford today reopened its public schools, closed since Nov. 7 by lack of funds. A 13 below zero temperature cut attendance at classes but regular school work was held in all buildings. All but three teachers returned to their posts.

OUT OF HISTORY'S GRAB BAG—A PLAN TO BEAT BOOKIES!

Safety Boxes Also Yield Collector's Items.

To the little room in the vaults of the American Trust and Safety Deposit company at 79 West Monroe street yesterday trekked students of historical documents, coin collectors, and the mildly curious.

They shuffled about peering at mementoes gathered in 2,500 packages of varying sizes and values. The packets have been collected for more than 70 years in the company's safe deposit boxes and are being sold to satisfy $193,735 in rentals owed on the boxes.

Lincoln Item Found.

"Sure, there's a story here," said C. H. Stanley, in charge of the sales, "but no one, I guess, will ever get the real one. That would be to find out whatever became of all these people. Why did they leave the stuff in their boxes year after year?" He held up one brittle, official looking document, "See? Who was this W. C. Daniels, whose appointment as a surgeon in the army volunteers in 1864 is found here among the papers of somebody named Paget K. Cady?"

This rarity yesterday drew bids from a dozen collectors of Lincolniana, for Daniels' appointment was signed by Abraham Lincoln shortly after he began his second term.

Methods reminiscent of Billy [The Clock] Skakel, a notorious Chicago bucket shop operator of the post-Civil war era, in whose establishments bets were taken on stock fluctuations known to the operators were reflected in a letter dated in 1906 from an Ed Wells to a Chicago telegrapher named Hummel.

Plan to Beat Bookies Outlined.

In the letter Wells outlined a plan to beat race horse bookies by having a telegraph operator hold up racing results and then tipping off confederates who might place bets on races already run.

One of the coin collectors became excited over finding an "Isabella quarter," the only American coin with a foreign monarch on its face. Some 90,000 of these were issued during the 1893 World's Columbian exposition. In numerous packages, too, were 10 and 25 cent paper certificates of the 1860's, Mexican coins, and British pennies.

For every noteworthy document—papers signed by Andrew Johnson, Robert Todd Lincoln, Gen. William T. Sherman, a share of stock in the Chicago White Stockings of 1876—there are 10 items which collectors pass by but which their owners once held vital. Lodge by-laws, photographs, house leases, policies, bills of sale, marriage certificates, watches, papers of defunct railroad firms, baby shoes, deeds, family letters, Bibles—these cram the other envelopes.

In one corner were three battered trunks. One was filled with rusty shells, half a hunting rifle, fishing tackle, a mess of other outdoor equipment, of value to collectors only. The others were crammed with glassware and china, deposited one day 30 years ago in a vault and never claimed.

The auction, Stanley said, will last about 10 days. Then the bids for various objects will be turned over to Referee in Bankruptcy Archie H. Cohen, 7 South Dearborn street, who has been authorized by the Federal court to accept the highest bids. Value of the items was determined by appraisers after a long examination of the articles.

Youth Admits Slaying Boy, Aged 5, with Razor

Morrison, Ill., Jan. 5 [Special].—Leo Jordan, 23 years old, who has spent all but 8 years of his life in Iowa correctional institutions, pleaded guilty in Whiteside county Circuit court here today to slaying Warren Paul Snyder, 5, with a razor on Nov. 3. Jordan confessed when he was arrested 10 hours after the crime. The court deferred sentence.

TRAIN NOW FOR THE New OPPORTUNITIES in ACCOUNTING

Accounting, for 20 years past, has offered outstanding opportunity for ambitious men and women. Growing fast, paying well for ability, leading often to executive positions, this profession is also unusual in that the beginner can (shortly after he begins training) get a job as bookkeeper, statistical clerk or junior and earn while he prepares for the higher jobs

Today those opportunities are greater than ever. The needs of defense, new and enlarged plants, increased government regulations—all demand more and better accounting, more bookkeepers and accountants in business offices and in government departments.

INVESTIGATE—Without Obligation

We shall be glad to tell you frankly about the requirements and possibilities in accounting—whether you are fitted for it, how much preparation you will need, what it will cost you.

For 25 years this school has been teaching accountancy. Everything is geared to practical training—to make you capable and successful quickly and at low cost. From this and its parent school have come over 10% of all Certified Public Accountants in the United States.

Naturally, we hope that our facilities and our record will lead to your enrollment, if you are one who should enter accounting. But at least, investigate accounting and its opportunities. Write, phone or drop in—without obligation. Get interesting FREE booklet. Open evenings and Saturday.

A Statement to Thoughtful Housewives

about Milk, Tires, Gasoline and Trucks

NOW War speaks to all of us and says: "We must save!" It is the command of national emergency.

Therefore, it is timely for the organization that brings you Dean's milk to give you some important facts.

A New System of Milk Distribution for Chicago

The Dean organization knows a great deal about saving. In fact the Dean system of milk distribution came into being only because Dean created a method of providing better milk at a lower price.

For a long time both Government and consumer sought a way to cut the family milk bill. And Dean's did it. Dean's milk was first introduced in 1938 to families in the West and North Shore suburbs.

Then, in 1940, the Dean organization expanded its operations to serve the larger demand in the city of Chicago.

Better Milk for Less Money

The Dean system was, and still is, a direct, express Farm-to-Grocer system, supplying milk bottled in the country with all the cream left in. Milk approved by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Chicago Board of Health.

Milk tested every day for purity.

A Saving for the Nation

But there now has arisen another aspect of this subject of vital interest to the housewife. Of vital interest to her, not as the buyer-consumer of milk, but as a patriotic American.

We refer to the urgent necessity for restricting the use of automobiles, tires and motor-fuel. Here, too, the command of national emergency is: "We must save!"

So let us give you more facts about the Dean system of milk distribution—facts you never knew before.

The Dean Country-to-City refrigerated motor transport fleet has always been a saving one—saving in equipment, tires, gasoline and oil.

One Truck Doing the Work of Eight

It has been estimated that only one Dean truck will deliver as much milk per day to stores as eight home-delivery trucks.

This may seem like a sensational statement, yet it is true. Dean delivery was created to perform every day at maximum, wasting neither time nor equipment. And as tens of thousands of families know and appreciate, when Dean cut out the waste of an extravagant delivery routine Dean passed the savings on to the housewife-buyer.

Peace-Time Efficiency Makes War-Time Economy

The Dean system was developed in peace-time for a war on the high costs of living. Now this same system in war-time conserves the material the nation needs for defense.

In this endeavor more than a thousand food-stores have co-operated. And here we wish to acknowledge the help they have given to us and to the communities who benefit by their services.

Gervasi Leaves for Unrevealed Destination

Flying a bomber to England last March was the start of a war-following trip around the world that took Frank Gervasi eight months—to England, Africa, the Holy Land, the Orient, the South Seas. He was with Wavell's wave in the African desert, saw 38 ships go down around his ship in a horror crossing of the channel. He accurately forecast the roles of the Dutch, the Japs and the British forces in the Pacific theater.

Davenport Goes to New Hot Spot

Walter Davenport has gone back to "join the Navy" in the Pacific. We say "back" because Davenport was with the Pacific fleet last summer as it sailed out to take its station in Hawaiian waters. His revealing stories on the home front more than a year ago helped to awaken the country to the urgency of the defense program—and keep us awake. Look forward to some Davenport articles from the Japanese theater.

McCormick Covers New War Capital of the World

Much of Robert McCormick's work is done behind the scenes at Washington, where he is regarded as one of the brightest correspondents at the capital. Watching the battle of the machines as this country speeded up to war footing, he has earned the confidence of our high command. His articles on the Army's new guns contain startling revelations of Uncle Sam's little known fire power.

Marshall in Thick of it in Pacific

Jim Marshall was aboard the U.S.S. Panay when the Japs bombed it in the Yangtze River. He knows his Asia. His articles from India and the whole Pacific theater of war have been uncannily prophetic. Long before the Axis was formed he called the turn on Japan's plans. He was winging west for the front again three days before the Japs descended on Pearl Harbor.

—AND FOR ADVERTISERS

Advertising will play its part in this war. It's too vital and essential a part of American life not to.

The economy and the powerful influence of national magazines as a medium become even more pronounced in wartime.

And advertisers will continue to utilize that unfailing Reader Response for which Collier's is unique in the multimillion magazine field.

We believe Collier's is closer to its readers—the active, thinking, modern-minded Americans who do things and buy things—than any other weekly. We believe Collier's readers are the best-informed of any magazine reader group in the United States.

THE NO. 1

Dive Bombers Attack Reynolds' Plane

Quentin Reynolds' stories from England put London right in your lap. With Steinhardt and Litvinov he made a last-minute Moscow exit—was with them on the flight to Teheran when their plane was lost. He has ridden the convoys, the combat planes, the bombers. He was bombed out of his lodgings in London. He has been the human target of dive bombers in Libya. Run the gauntlet of Germany's desert patrol with him in "Desert Tank Battle." See this week's issue of Collier's.

Gave us Preview of Siege of Hongkong

Martha Gellhorn's articles from Finland were pronounced by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as among the finest written on the war. Her more recent articles from the Orient gave us a close-up of the war in China. She pictured last summer in her story, "Time Bomb in Hongkong," the scenes being enacted today. She rode the perilous Chinese National airways over the Burma Road.

Courtney Off to New Theaters of War

W. B. Courtney, writing his fifth war, was the first American correspondent to accompany German paratroops. His articles on Guam and the Philippines in 1939 were so full of fact that they were read into the Congressional record. Ace flyer of all correspondents, he has written air war since World War I. He went through the Balkans with a German panzer division. Scores of his prophecies, made in his articles on the Pacific theater of war, were borne out in the first week of the war with Japan.

Only Correspondent in Russia when Hitler Struck

Alice Leone Moats was the only magazine writer in Russia when Hitler's hordes invaded the Soviet. She gave us firsthand the picture of Moscow embattled. Her previous articles dealt with the prelude to treachery in Japan. She flew out of Russia with Steinhardt and Litvinov. Watch for her articles from Africa.

Worts Was on Watch at Pearl Harbor

Stirring as it was, no fiction that George F. Worts ever wrote for Collier's compared with the story that exploded in his face in Hawaii when the Japs came. Worts hopped out of bed and was at work. A former radio operator in the Pacific, he's completely at home in that ironically-named ocean.

Gunnison at the Philippine War Front

On the wide rim of the Pacific they call Royal Arch Gunnison "the flying correspondent." His recent roundup — totalling 42,000 air miles—included such trouble centers as Auckland, Sydney, Melbourne, Singapore, Rangoon, Chungking, Batavia and Hongkong. And he wound up in Manila, ahead of schedule, to see the Japs loose death out of a Sabbath dawn (see "Manila Eye Witness," in this week's Collier's).

All-Out . . . We're All-Out to Cover it

WHEN the Japs' sneak punch knocked the lid off a new hell in the Pacific, it was but a matter of hours until the Collier's staff was either in the air or on the air. Those at the spots where trouble struck hopped to the wireless with their firsthand reports. The others were winging to new hot spots as swiftly as the spread of war itself.

The millions of Collier's readers will keep right on being the best informed of any in the multimillion magazine field.

Guam and Wake and Pearl Harbor are as familiar as Fort Wayne.

You feel you know the Burma Road as you know the Lincoln Highway.

The African desert is as close as Death Valley.

One or several of the trained Collier's correspondents have given you firsthand word pictures from most of those spots within the last few months — some, in fact, in recent weeks. A Collier's correspondent may be cabling or radioing the news back from any one of them tomorrow.

Years ago Collier's decided the rocking chair reporter was as obsolete as the roll-top desk. We began covering the world as a city editor would cover Brooklyn — dispatching trained, experienced analytical writers to whatever place news was being made or about to be made. And with them always went Editor William L. Chenery's instructions — "Get it first; get it right; present it clearly."

Collier's receives more original material from abroad than any other magazine published. Our staff correspondents have been traveling an average of more than 250,000 miles a year.

So you can count on Collier's—confidently—for a quick, intelligent, close-up, firsthand coverage of the history that will be made in the days ahead.

PRICE CONTROLS OUTPUT.

One statement of the senate committee on banking and currency in its report to the parent body on the price control bill is deserving of special consideration. As an indication of the need for speedy action on the measure it was asserted that the rise in prices since the summer of 1940 had cost the American people 2 billion dollars.

On July 6, 1940, the government's index of the price of all commodities stood at 77.5. The latest report, that for Dec. 27, 1941, shows that there has been an advance to 93.8. This is an increase of 21 per cent. Index numbers are available also for a number of groups of commodities. Between July 6, 1940, and Dec. 27, 1941, the period since the summer of 1940, farm products rose 43 per cent, foods 30 per cent, and textile products 27 per cent. These three classes of products are largely responsible for the fact that the average price level has gone up as much as it has.

Metals and metal products, a classification principally affected by the armament program, have risen but 9 per cent; fuel and lighting materials, 10 per cent, and house furnishing goods but 14 per cent.

Having observed that the average level of prices has been carried upward largely by the advance of three groups of commodities, it is pertinent to inquire what the government did to keep these particular commodities down. The answer is that it did nothing. It didn't want these commodities to sell at the price at which they sold in the summer of 1940. In fact, the government has done a number of things since July, 1940, for the deliberate purpose of raising the prices of the particular commodities which have been principally responsible for the lift in the price level observed by the senate committee.

The government continued to make loans to farmers to induce them to withhold products from the market, and it increased the loan prices. It purchased large quantities of other products of the farm to be hoarded in storage. It purchased other farm products and either issued them to persons on relief, thru the surplus commodities corporation, or made shipments abroad under the lend-lease program.

We're not here considering the merits of any of these steps the government took to put up the price of farm products, textiles, and foods. We do insist, however, that when the government puts up the price of some commodities to such an extent that the whole price level is raised it ought not to survey the consequences of its action with such grave alarm and conclude that a law must be passed quickly to prevent this thing from going any further. If Washington really believes that the advance in prices is a serious problem, it ought to stop doing what it has been doing.

There is in fact something to be said in favor of the higher prices now prevailing for farm products. They should assure an increase in farm production. Land of low yield which could not be profitably employed if prices were lower will be brought under cultivation next spring and the less efficient farmers will be able to make a living.

But just as it is in the public interest to bring out the cultivation of poorer land now, so is it in the public interest for the price of copper, lead, and some other raw materials to be higher to bring about the working of poorer properties which have higher costs of production. Nobody wants any price to go up except that of his own product. Popular prices are low prices, but low prices do not bring about maximum output.

There is a shortage of lead at present and some industries are not permitted to use any. The price is fixed by the government and that means that producers whose costs are greater than the price set aren't able to market their product. By insisting that copper be sold for no more than 12 cents a pound the government has been depriving itself of the copper which costs more than that to produce. It refuses to permit the price of rubber to go up enough to encourage Brazilians to go into the jungle and tap the trees to be found there. Some open hearths are closed down at Youngstown, Pittsburgh, and Detroit because the government refuses to permit the mills to pay enough to the scrap iron men for them to ply their trade.

It is all right for us to say that we want prices to stay down and for a senate committee to calculate how much the war will cost if there is a rise. But the price of some things must go up or there is going to be shortage of some of the things we need to win the war.

NEW YEAR'S HONORS.

The New Year's honors list announced by King George at London will illustrate the use of this device to mold the British people into one well integrated social system, and to keep the British peerage, which stands near the peak of that system, from becoming too moldy by constantly promoting to it commoners of ability.

The honors list ranges from Sir Auckland Geddes, the former British ambassador to the United States, who becomes a baron, to a canteen attendant who distinguished himself in air raid rescues, and a donkey engineman who displayed his courage on a merchantman at sea. The attendant and the donkeyman, it is to be understood, did not reach the peerage, but received medals which recognized their services and gave each of them a higher status in the social system.

Our republican government is barred from granting titles of nobility, but, even so, our republican institutions admit at least one New Year honor list. We have the list of 100 lowest automobile license numbers as released the other day by Secretary of State Hughes.

The matter of British honors raises another question, namely, that of Mr. Churchill. At the moment he is the first Englishman of his day, and if he brings Britain thru to victory he will become one of the great Englishmen of all time. A service such as that would in older times have brought no less a reward than a dukedom, as it did for Marlborough, Mr. Churchill's ancestor. If Churchill licks the Nazis he can have a dukedom, too, if he wants it. The question is will he want it? He has precedents on both sides. Pitt and Disraeli, among others, accepted peerages for their services in his post; Walpole and Gladstone, equally valuable men to king and empire, did not. Mr. Churchill, as he made clear in his speech to congress, holds dear his long service in the house of commons. He may prefer to go down in history as plain Mr. Churchill.

SOME REMEDIES FOR TRAFFIC JAMS.

North side motorists were baffled, annoyed, frustrated, irked, and enraged for several years by the Lincoln park Maginot line, created by the installation of a new traffic system there. They now discover that the completed portions of the system are almost as bad as the barricades thru which they had to filter while construction was going on. The congestion at and south of Oak street, where the system is presumably in its final form, has been monumental on recent evenings.

It appears that the motorists themselves, northbound in the evening rush, are the only people who can do much to relieve the jam at this badly designed intersection. This they can do by turning off Michigan avenue at the first corner which leads to the Outer drive. By taking this advice they may travel a little further but they'll save time and gasoline.

Another remedy that might be applied thruout the city is the staggering of working hours in the factories and business houses. The curtailment in use of the automobile is bound to throw a much heavier load on Chicago's local transportation services which are bad enough at present. The staggering of working hours should be started without delay, to effect the transition while the automobiles are still in operation.

It is promised, as to Lincoln park, that its present deficiencies can be remedied by better traffic control. Assurance of this is none too bright in view of the bungling that has characterized most phases of the project from its start. It may well be that these mistakes—vexatious and expensive as they have been—will save the city further and greater extravagance.

Experience shows that for genuine high speed traffic the elevated highway is necessary. The Congress street real estate promotion became antiquated with the arrival of the automobile as a means of mass transportation, and efforts to fit the design to modern conditions have failed because the basic idea was wrong. The longer construction of this folly is postponed, the surer it becomes that the city eventually will be able to avoid wasting its money on it.

SENDING THE BILL TO UNCLE.

It has long been the policy of the United States army to pay promptly for any damage done to private property in the course of its maneuvers. Now, however, the Louisiana highway department advances a public claim, filed with the public road administration, for $2,014,689. This, the highway department asserts, represents the damage done to Louisiana highways by the trucks, tanks, and guns of the 2d and 3d armies during the September maneuvers in that state.

The claim is a novel one, to say the least. It is generally recognized that the location of the majority of training camps in the south was a device for passing out political pork to that region. Louisianians, however, seem unwilling to take the bitter with the sweet and to regard their profits from the camps and the soldiers as compensation for damage to their roads.

Louisiana every year gets some millions of dollars from the federal government for the construction of highways. While the legal fiction which permits this contribution is that the federal interest is in the construction of post roads, for which the constitution allows congress to appropriate, it seems fairly obvious that this federal subvention contemplates the construction of a national highway system which will be available for use for any national purpose, including national defense. Louisiana will get all it is entitled to if it is told to reimburse itself for any road damage out of its next federal highway subvention, which certainly should not be increased because of exaggerated claims of damages.

DEFENSE PLANT MIGRATIONS.

President Roosevelt disclosed at a press conference that studies are being made of the possibility of moving airplane plants and other vital arms factories inland from coastal areas that may be subjected to bombing.

His news would have been more cheering if he had disclosed that instead of mere studies the government was actually starting the duplicate factories to which the production machinery could be moved without serious interruption of output. The project requires planning, but not more study. It has already been proved feasible in both Germany and Russia.

Experience in England has been that bombing of industrial areas causes some loss thru actual destruction but a great deal more thru the interruption of production by blackouts and other precautions against bombing.

Hundreds of thousands of man hours, and thus scores of planes, have already been lost because of blackouts and air raid drills in the Pacific coast plants. Whether the blackouts and drills were justified or are merely further evidence of the ebullient incompetence of Mayor La Guardia, the civilian defense director, is immaterial. The important fact is that national defense is being hampered most seriously by leaving the plants in their present locations.

Editorial of the Day

SMOKES AND TANKS.

[Memphis Commercial Appeal.]

Because 38 men employed in the army tank arsenal operated by Chrysler in Detroit were not allowed to violate a "no smoking" rule adopted as a manifestly necessary fire prevention device, they quit work and went home. Within two hours most of the 1,500 men working on that shift also stopped and went home and that plant had to be closed down. Union stewards said there was no authorization for the walkout, and the company said smoking presented a most definite fire hazard. The rule against smoking has been in effect since the plant opened.

Never disposed to gild the lily, we leave it to the common sense of the people as to whether or not men of this sort can get along without legal restrictions on their conduct as it relates to a vital war effort in a time of grave national crisis. What price voluntary agreement? The only possible excuse for these men lies in the fact that others more highly placed have now and again clearly indicated to them that such thoughtless irresponsibility was not serious enough to demand penalties from the nation.

If the Great Lakes basketball team can fight as well as it plays, the outcome of the war is not in doubt. —Indianapolis News.

SKIMMING THE SURFACE.

The London columnist who printed a brutal gibe at the American navy was known for a time as "he who got slapped." An American actress smacked him on the jowls in a London night club for similar conduct. [Circa 1932; see the clips]. We have heard English actors speak of him as "that swab, Swaffer."

• • •

It must be admitted, however, that Mr. Swaffer reflects the influence of certain branches of American journalism upon the inkstained wretch business in England.

• • •

"Marines Call Hamlet, Boston Football Coach."

• • •

Subzero temperatures with high winds catch the indoor man out of costume. His woolen socks are too light; his suits are of middle weight weaves; his gloves are too thin; and his overcoat is far from blizzard-proof. Hence the wails and shrieks that fill the air when a spell of fine arctic weather comes along.

• • •

Chicago was built by men who owned buffalo robes and black suits of cloth that weighed 16 to 22 ounces to the yard. Try to find a 16 ounce bolt of cloth now; or, except in sporting goods and work clothes shops, a pair of woolen socks heavy enough to justify the wearing of oxfords in below zero weather.

To the official advice regarding conservation of tires, we will add this: "Quit tossing your empty booze bottles into the street." This warning is directed at the class of citizens represented by the famous roadside sign: "Vehicles with lugs."

CANTICLE FOR A CALENDAR.

Dates and figures, and figures and dates—
Days in a row, and weeks in a line—
What enigmatical score of the fates
Is stored in each secret, silent sign?

A swart assembly of symbols banded
To grant your longing or wreck your scheme—
One to 30 in columns candid—
Read 'em and wonder, add 'em and dream!

One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—
Anything, nothing, may soon befall—
Portions of earth and of hell and heaven
Hang there, waiting you on the wall.

"How shall I grapple those unguessed morrows?"
Even the wisest of earth can't say.
Expect few joys and you risk few sorrows
Is the worldly-wise man's proven way.

Eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen—
Now is the only time we'll know;
So why be fearful of what's between

Seize on the imminent, magical minute!
Pause not to reckon what prize, what price!
Live the bright moment for all that's in it,
And time will more than your needs suffice!

WINTER STALKS.

Summer in its loveliness is over,
  Now days are made of steel instead of gold;
Dear laughter, laced in sunshine, is no longer,
  Reality dawns sharply with the cold.
Now nights are set in somber, quick demandings
  That man consider, grimly, many things,
But even with these briefer sunset fallings
  Man knows that there will still be other springs;
When once again the trees will bow profusely,
  When open roads will lead to joyous days,
When memories of barren months can't linger
  Against the tune the hurdy-gurdy plays.

HOW PAIN IS RELIEVED IN PLEURISY.

WHENEVER the pleura becomes inflamed distress will be felt with every movement of the chest wall. The sensation varies from a sharp stab to a "catch" or "stitch." We speak of the result as "pleurisy," and the sufferer will hold his side and take shallow inspirations to lessen his discomfort.

What is this structure? It is a double walled sac, inside of which lie the lungs. Ordinarily the two surfaces glide smoothly over each other. Trouble comes when germs cause irritation.

Now, nature does not like disease in this area. An attempt, therefore, will be made to secrete enough fluid to force the two folds apart. As soon as a sufficient amount has been produced the pain will cease, but the ailment is still present.

Treatment consists in doing everything we can to allay coughing. In addition, wide strips of adhesive plaster may be used to immobilize the affected part. This will reduce the excursions of the lungs and thus help to bring about recovery.

When fluid collects in large quantities the respiratory apparatus itself will be pressed upon and constricted so that the patient may complain of shortness of breath. Sometimes a sizable pond is created so that the heart and the trachea will be pushed over toward the uninvolved side. It may be necessary to remove some of this liquid, but as a rule the excess will be absorbed if the patient is kept in bed for 10 days after the temperature has subsided.

In the meantime it is wise to have an X-ray film of the chest, not only to reveal the exact location of the disturbance, but to determine if any other disorder exists. If repeated examinations of this type show that the effusion is disappearing it may be better to let well enough alone.

Occasionally it is advisable to withdraw a small portion of the miniature reservoir and examine it for bacteria. It has been stated that pleurisy points to tuberculosis always, but this is not true. Any one of a score of organisms may be responsible. In fact, the manifestation is a fairly common complication of rheumatic fever. Furthermore, it may follow any acute or chronic disease. For example, exposure to dampness or cold may predispose to an infection—with this malady appearing within the thorax.

In severe cases, sedatives to reduce coughing and to make rest possible may be called for. Collapse of the lung on the affected side is practically devoid of risk. At the same time it is one of the best methods we know of to relieve agonizing stabs.

A chronic state of affairs is quite unusual. When an attack comes we expect cure to be complete within a month or six weeks. On the other hand, it is not unusual to encounter seizures, in approximately the same region, at intervals of two or three years.

The question of nourishment must be given due consideration. Feedings may need to be reinforced, so that resistance will be raised. If appetite lags, vitamin B will be helpful.

We must not forget that these sharp, lightninglike twinges may be the first sign of an oncoming pneumonia. With the advent of the symptom the rule is to make for home and get into bed as promptly as possible.

A POCKETFUL OF GERMS.

J. F. writes: In your article, "Why Disease Is Catching," you say nothing about pockets and purses, the repositories of soiled handkerchiefs. What about paper linings for these recesses?

REPLY.

Frequent cleaning of garments is advised. The process eliminates noxious bacteria. The hands should be washed periodically and handkerchiefs renewed as they become soiled. A removable, washable lining for handbags would be a noble invention.

A CONTRACTION.

G. H. writes: What is a stricture of the bowel?

REPLY.

A narrowing or a constriction of the intestinal tube. The caliber is decreased. Common causes are adhesions, ulceration, or pressure.

LINDBERGH AND GEN. MITCHELL.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Recent press dispatches indicate that Lindbergh has volunteered for war service. The same sources report that the army brass hats say that they do not know what disposition will be made of his request. One report said that he would have to be considered on the same basis as tho he were entirely new. Such action shows the greatest pettiness and should be publicly condemned. Personally, I did not agree with Lindy's stand, but that was no reason for calling him a Copperhead, which, on the face of it, was historically incorrect, and a most unjust statement. In fact, I know of no one in our recent history who was so misquoted and maligned as Lindy, unless it be Mr. Hoover, who was damned for everything that happened.

Lindy was certainly right in urging our own arming and not a denuding of ourselves. The events in the Pacific are justifying him 100 per cent. Suppose we had only a little of the air power that we have dispatched abroad out in the Philippines, would we now be reading of the Japanese in control? Our government calls for unity from us all, and justly so. It will be interesting to see whether such exhortations are carried into effect as regards Lindy, or if pettiness and spite are to rule. Are we to see another Billy Mitchell case, where an able officer was crucified because he dared to tell the truth? A. H. C.

PATRIOTISM IN THE HOME.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—A few days ago, Hitler gave another one of his divining speeches. Thruout his latest sputtering, he emphasized his wonderful "intuition" and "inner call", which he claimed would give him "guidance" to make plans for a victorious Germany. Stripped of all pretentions and verbiage, Hitler reveals his war plans are no longer based on scientific and military calculations, but rather on his hunches, dreams, omens, voices from the dead, and second guesses. Let's dump Hitler, the fortune teller, into complete moony confusion by sending him a fortune telling uniform, crystal balls, a deck of cards, loaded dice, sea shells, divining rods, and a tent studded with stars and quarter moons.

FARMERS' COMPLAINT.

Prairie du Sac, Wis., Dec. 30.—The landowners' committee, writing for the farmers in the Sauk-Prairie-Merrimac area to be affected by the projected powder plant in this region, having seen in print stories about their reluctance to coöperate, would like to keep the record straight by presenting their side of the question as it now stands: [1] We would like to make it clear at the outset that, especially in this time of war, when unity is all important, we are not trying to keep the government from appropriating our land, but want only a fair price. We are not being offered a fair price. We are being offered on the average approximately two-thirds to three-fourths of the actual price we paid for our farms, with no allowance for improvement of soil or buildings, nor for the time lost in settling elsewhere. Moreover, we are not even being permitted to know what appraisal figures are.

On the morning of Dec. 29 our committee waited upon Mr. Silas Knutson, negotiator for the purchase of the land, in his Baraboo office and protested the prices being offered. We, the six members of the committee, were told off in these words: "Your standard of living is too high. You people don't need furnaces, or plumbing, for instance. Get a heater, warm your stomach, and then turn around and warm your back."

[2] We charge that the plant has now become a political football. We believe that pressure groups of politicians and business men are insisting upon the plant being put here; but very few, if any, of those men have any personal stake in this area and are not qualified or authorized to speak for those living here.

FIFTH COLUMN WORDS.

Oak Park, Ill., Dec. 31.—To my fellow Americans and to the public press in particular, I offer a suggestion for a New Year resolution to be kept for the duration of the war, or better yet, always. Let all of us resolve never to utter in our conversations, or print in newspapers, books, and magazines these foreign words: Lebensraum, Fuehrer, herr, luftwaffe, strafe, blitzkrieg, blitz, ersatz, and their like. I ask, is our English language so poor that we must make use of words offensive to American ears? By constant use such terms seep into our daily speech and newspapers and spoil our English. So, down with those fifth column words! Editorials in our daily papers all over the country on this subject would destroy this German word front quickly. A. F. DANA.

GOVERNOR GOES ON AIR TO ARGUE DEFENSE PLANS

Little Progress Evident in Legislature.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—Gov. Dwight Green made his arguments for adoption of his state defense program directly to the people of Illinois over 17 radio stations today, rather than to the legislature which reconvenes tomorrow to consider his requests.

Apparently in an effort to soften Democratic resistance to two of his bills, the governor announced that he was proposing an amendment which would limit the proposed increase of the highway police from 350 to 1,000 men to the duration of the war, and another to permit the health department to establish defense health zones only when local authorities request them.

No compromise was offered by the governor on the third bill, an appropriation measure to grant him the right to expend up to $3,000,000 in the event of epidemics, catastrophes, and disasters.

Can't Foresee Emergencies.

"No one knows what emergencies may confront us," Green said in his radio address, referring to the latter measure. "There have been catastrophes in the past and there may be disasters, epidemics, and other demands which would call for immediate action to save lives and property. A contingent fund has been asked to meet any such purpose, a fund which would be only at the disposal of the governor. No pay rolls would be met, or no jobs would be created. I pledge my word that no dollar would be spent except to meet emergencies."

The governor said that he had received thousands of communications from citizens recently, assuring him that there is a public demand for measures which would insure that the state contribute its complete share of national defense.

Radio Address Blankets State.

The governor addressed radio audiences which virtually blanketed the state, including two Chicago and two Springfield stations and others in the following cities: Bloomington, Champaign, Danville, East St. Louis, Galesburg, Harrisburg, Herrin, Joliet, Peoria, Rockford, Rock Island, Jacksonville, and Tuscola.

After the governor spoke, five Republican and four Democratic representatives met in Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg's office and made progress on some minor bills in the health department program but none on the major measures. The conference will be resumed tomorrow.

As a result of this conference and the governor's speech, the health zoning bill will be amended to provide that the zones shall not be established unless they are requested by local authorities. As a substitute for a measure providing for licensing and regulation of handlers of germ cultures by the health department, a bill will be submitted amending the criminal code to provide a 1 to 20 year penalty for persons possessing germ cultures with the intention of injuring public health or animals.

The police bill was not discussed, the speaker said.

Some Democrats Affronted.

Several of the Democrats attending the conference were aroused by the governor's radio speech, seeming to consider it as an affront.

"I, personally, lost faith in the governor's pledges long ago," said Minority Leader William Vicars of Pontiac. "Furthermore, there is no compromise on a poor program."

Rep. Timothy J. Sullivan [D., Springfield] was even more caustic.

"'The voice is the voice of Jacob but the hands are the hands of Esau,'" Sullivan quoted. "When you add up what the governor said, the message means nothing. It reminds me of the lawyer who started a lawsuit for $5,000 but settled for $150."

The principal bone of contention has been the new jobs which the proposed measures would set up—802 in the health department, and 650 in the police force. In a secondary sense, the minority—which is now politically potent because the governor must have its partial support to get his legislation thru—also objected to the state health department being given the right to establish health departments at will, which they regard as a violation of home rule.

Green's amendment would remove that objection, but it was considered doubtful that his agreement to limit the police increase to the end of the war would ameliorate the opposition to that measure.

ELIZABETH IVANOVICH.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ivanovich, 22 years old, was arraigned before Judge Charles Dougherty in Felony court yesterday on charges of passing three worthless checks for a total of $183 in loop department stores in December, 1940.

The case was continued to next Thursday, and Mrs. Ivanovich was held in $3,000 bonds. She said after the hearing that she was released Saturday from an industrial home for women at Taycheedah, Wis., where she was sentenced on bogus check charges. She said her husband, Peter, is in the Green Bay, Wis., reformatory on a similar charge.

Mrs. Ivanovich said she and her husband passed the checks when they learned she was about to have a baby and they had no money for medical bills. The baby, 4 months old, is now in St. Vincent's orphanage, she said, and a girl, 4 years old, is in Bisbee, Ariz. Mrs. Ivanovich said she studied two years at the University of Missouri before marrying Ivanovich, and that she formerly lived in Kansas City, Mo.

BARRETT TO BACK BILL FOR STATE SABOTAGE CODE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5 (AP).—Attorney General George F. Barrett announced today he would back a bill in the state legislature which would write the definition of the term "blackout" into Illinois statutes.

He said the measure would be introduced in the senate tomorrow and that the general purpose would be to provide a code for dealing with sabotage and other subversive activities during war time.

The bill provides for stiff prison sentences and fines ranging up to $25,000 for subversive activities during war time but provides that no one shall be tried under its provisions unless the prosecution is approved by the attorney general. It also contains a provision that it shall "not be construed to impair, curtail, or destroy the rights of labor."

Both university faculty members and coast guard officers will conduct the training course, Capt. Shanley said.

DUNHAM DENIES REPORT HE WILL RUN FOR SENATE

Expects to Retire After Park Job Is Finished.

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago Park district, made short work yesterday of a report that he might be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for senator in the Illinois primaries next April.

"I shall not be a candidate," he said. "I've got a job to finish in the Chicago parks and when it is finished I hope to retire."

The published rumor was that Democratic leaders, uncertain whether State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney will run, had started grooming Dunham because of the widespread approval of his record by civic organizations and his high standing thruout the state.

Courtney Maintains Silence.

State's Attorney Courtney continued his protracted silence concerning his own plans and some of his associates believe he has not reached a decision. As far as has been learned none of the thousands of straw ballots for a test of his strength against Sen. Wayland Brooks, the Republican whose term expires this year, has been put to use.

There was a slight flurry among Republicans when Hill Blackett, former Republican national committeeman, launched his long expected effort to defeat Brooks for renomination. He mailed a circular letter to downstate Republican county chairmen and others urging that the senatorial nominee this year must be some one who agreed with the Roosevelt foreign policies before the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

Sworn Foe of Brooks.

He did not mention Brooks by name but ever since Brooks aided in ousting him from the national committeeship which he obtained for himself from the Republican state committee after the death of George F. Harding, Blackett has sworn that he will do everything in his power to defeat Brooks. One report as far back as a year ago quoted Blackett as saying that he would spend a million dollars to accomplish that purpose.

Blackett's mail campaign was interpreted as lining him up behind State Treasurer Warren Wright who may run against Brooks. A few days before Pearl Harbor, Wright declared himself in favor of the Roosevelt foreign policies and he thus meets what Blackett described as the needs of the situation. Wright may announce his candidacy this week.

FRANCES CHANEY.

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—David E. Lardner, 22 years old, son of the late Ring Lardner and himself a writer, and Frances Chaney, an actress, obtained a marriage license today. They said they would be married Friday at the municipal chapel. Miss Chaney, who is 24, was born in Odessa, Russia, daughter of Leon Lipetz. Lardner was born in Chicago.

NEW INCOME TAX SCHEDULES TO BE RECEIVED TODAY

Taxpayers in northern Illinois will get a direct idea today of all the income tax stories they've read in 1941 when they receive income tax schedules thru the mails.

The blanks were mailed out yesterday by the office of Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue for the northern Illinois district. He said more than 1,000,000 blanks were marked for mailing.

These, he said, represented only those residents who paid taxes last year. Because of lower exemptions under the new tax, between 500,000 and 600,000 more are expected to file returns.

PUZZLE OF MONDAY, JAN. 5, SOLVED

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will attempt to answer draft and military service questions, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the query.]

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

Women and young girls, eager to serve with the nation's armed forces in the manner in which women of Britain now are serving, have deluged this department with inquiries. They ask whether there are organized branches of the army, navy, or marine corps which they can join, how to go about getting into a war uniform, what qualifications they must have.

At present the United States has no uniformed women's services, such as England's Women's Auxiliary Air Force, Women's Royal Naval Service, or Auxiliary Territorial Service, which relieve many thousands of men for combat duties.

Serve as Hostesses.

The only women now employed by the war and navy departments in semi-military positions are the senior and junior hostesses in army camps, camp librarians, and nurses. These positions are not open to untrained persons. Hostesses must have had practical experience in such work; librarians must have been engaged in that profession, and nurses must all be graduates of approved schools of nursing.

A bill now is pending before the house of representatives which provides for formation of a paid, uniformed feminine corps serving directly with the army. This bill has been recommended by Secretary of War Stimson.

Under the bill, introduced by Rep. Edith Rogers [R., Mass.], members of the corps would be stationed in large army posts in such assignments as cooks, machine operators, telephone and telegraph operators, welfare workers, etc. An aircraft warning service is being considered as an auxiliary to the corps.

QUESTIONS

M. F. asks: In an announcement the other day the army air corps stated it now is accepting married men as aviation cadets provided they show that their dependents have means of support. Does this mean support other than the cadet's salary?

Answer: The air corps requires that a married applicant show positive proof that his dependents are provided for from his own private income other than his pay from the air corps, or from an income of their own, such as a position held by the wife.

P. F. L. asks: Will you please advise me whether a United States army officer pays income tax on his army pay?

Answer: Yes, the army officer pays the same rate of tax as civilians on his base pay. His various allowances, and the 50 per cent additional pay which flying officers receive, are exempt from tax, however.

J. W. M. asks: When I am called into the service, will I be forced to have the brace removed from my teeth, or will army dentists continue the work?

Answer: While you are at the army examination station your dental brace will be observed, and the examining officers will decide whether you are considered physically fit for military duty. The army will not force you to remove any dental brace that you actually need.

ANN SHERIDAN, GEORGE BRENT WED IN FLORIDA

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP).—Two of Hollywood's most prominent performers—Actress Ann Sheridan and Actor George Brent—were married here tonight by County Judge Richard P. Robbins.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Mrs. Sam Harris, widow of the late Broadway producer. Mrs. Harris is Brent's sister. Her son, Pat Watson, was best man for his uncle. William Q. Cain, Palm Beach attorney, gave the bride away.

Plans for this first big movie wedding of 1942 had been kept secret even from Hollywood columnists. It had been planned for last Saturday but bad weather forced the couple's plane to land en route from Hollywood and they completed the trip by train this afternoon.

LABOR TO SHARE AUTO INDUSTRY CONTROL IN WAR

Ten Men Named to Lead Arms Conversion.

Knudsen, who recoiled from the scheme a year ago, was asked whether the industry could be converted, now that passenger car production is to be stopped.

"Of course, now that there's nothing else to do," he answered.

Two hundred industrial, labor, and government leaders attended all-day, closed-door conferences. Knudsen and Hillman said that full coöperation was promised by all sides to realize the government's stepped up program.

Five Suggestions Studied.

Favorable consideration was given to five suggestions from J. Douglas Brown, chief of the OPM priorities division. They are:

1. Pooling of machine and tool facilities.
2. Interchange between companies of dies, patterns, and processes.
3. Concentration of difficult and complex jobs [aircraft, tanks, guns, etc.] in large plants, and elimination of simpler jobs [shells, ammunition cases, etc.] from these plants in order to make most effective use of highest managerial skill and technique.
4. Subcontracting to the maximum extent, with each auto company farming out work, insofar as possible, to its regular suppliers as well as other groups which have man power and machinery which can be utilized in the war effort.
5. Concentration of necessary civilian production in smaller plants not required or readily suitable for war production.

Industry's Program.

The program presented to the industry and its organized labor by the army, navy, and OPM was:

1. Cessation of all nonmilitary passenger car and light truck production around Jan. 31.
2. Immediate creation of a management-labor subcommittee on conversion to work with the OPM.
3. Advancement of production schedules for about 4½ billion dollars of army and navy orders already held by the automotive industry.
4. Placing of 5 billion dollars of additional war orders in the industry under new procedure designed to speed up initial production under them. This, plus the orders already placed with the industry, would boost the total to approximately 9½ billion dollars.

Urges Capacity Tool Work.

Mr. Brown urged continuous operation of defense plants and machine tool shops on a 24 hour day, seven day week basis.

Walter H. Wheeler, deputy director of the OPM division of contract distribution, told the conference that, both to achieve maximum production in the shortest possible time and to minimize dislocations after the war, the industry must spread work as widely as practicable under subcontracts.

"It entails risk, perhaps some spoilage of materials," he said, "but the risk of delay is greater than any other."

New Plants Planned.

A plan to ration the 450,000 automobiles now in dealers' hands, plus approximately 200,000 more cars still to be made from existing inventories of parts and materials, is also being worked out at these meetings. Price Administrator Leon Henderson predicted last week that the car rationing will be even more restrictive than the rules limiting purchases of new tires.

Knudsen, after the preliminary discussions, said that the enlarged program will call for new plant construction. Tank and plane assemblies can't use passenger car factories, it was said. In previous discussions there have been a wide variance of opinions as to how much of the motor car factories' equipment can be used for war production with estimates ranging from 15 to 85 per cent.

New tools and skilled labor were said to be the bottlenecks that must be broken for the capacity production sought by the army and the navy. Local draft boards have not been uniform in their applications of deferment policies for men of special skills.

Employment Problem.

There are approximately a half million men employed by the automobile industry. Many have been laid off in recent months during the retooling of factories for production under the previous 4 billion dollars' worth of arms orders. With the additional 5 billion dollars in orders and with passenger car production halted, more will be laid off for the retooling of plants.

Today's conferences were also concerned with these lay-offs. As yet unanswered are questions of how many, for how long, and who will feed them.

In normal times the annual change in car models suspends assembly lines for a month or longer. For this reason automobile labor has always been seasonal work. The change from production of passenger cars to armament is more drastic than the change from one model to another.

FOUND HANGED TO BEDPOST.

Budget Approved

(Story in adjoining column.)

The city council last night approved the Chicago corporate budget for 1942. That figure is compared with corporate budget figures for recent years.

TAX PAYMENTS GAIN 8 PER CENT IN COOK COUNTY

Cook county's total tax collections on both current and delinquent bills in 1941 amounted to $200,585,096, an increase of $14,820,584, or 8 per cent, Treasurer John Toman's year end report showed yesterday. The collection figures for the three classes of property subject to local taxation are:

Pers. Prop.	39,998,788	31,726,042	22.9
Railroads	10,659,913	9,622,311	10.8
Totals ..	200,585,096	185,764,512	8.0

The jump in personal property receipts was caused partly by aggressive collection practices and was also boosted by tax payments for past years of more than 4 million dollars by public utility companies as a result of court decisions.

Collections on current bills in 1941 totaled $178,467,000, up $11,752,000 over corresponding 1940 figures. Of the gain, $8,139,000 was in real estate, $2,273,000 in personal property and $1,340,000 in railroad taxes.

UNITY PLATFORM TOPIC OF AFL, CIO MEETING TONIGHT

Union officials of both the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations will meet at 8 p. m. tonight in the council chambers to plan a unified platform to speed up national defense production. Principal speaker will be Mayor Kelly, civilian defense coordinator for the metropolitan area. The meeting was called by Victor A. Olander and W. L. McFetridge of the AFL and Fullerton Fulton and Albert E. Glenn of the CIO.

COUNCIL PASSES ITS 1942 BUDGET OF $166,320,000

BY EDWARD WILSON.

The city council yesterday approved a budget for 1942 totaling $166,320,000, which is approximately $2,750,000 greater than the 1941 budget. The corporate, or operating fund, of the budget, which is financed from the city tax levy and license revenue, totals $55,500,000, or about $1,000,000 more than a year ago.

Included in the corporate budget and the water fund, which is derived from the payment of water bills, is an earmarked fund of $2,000,000 for "defense purposes."

New Fireboat Included.

Major defense items in the corporate budget are: $500,000 in an emergency fund for general use for civilian defense; $175,000 for a new fireboat, said to be a defense need in the South Chicago industrial area, and $120,000 for operation and maintenance of the defense headquarters at 23 North Wacker drive, the Service Men's center, at 174 West Washington street, and an auxiliary center at 5111 Calumet avenue.

By reducing the cash discount allowed for prompt payment of water bills from 15 to 8 per cent, another $1,000,000 emergency fund was provided. That item did not increase the budget because full payment of the bills already had been anticipated as revenue.

In the water fund several appropriations, all providing for repair or maintenance of water pipe, hydrants, and sewers, or for increased chlorine supply, were increased a total of approximately $250,000 because of possible defense needs. To offset these increases reductions were made in other water fund appropriations.

$50,000 for Motorcycles.

The council provided $50,000 for new police motorcycles but reduced the police equipment account the same amount.

The total appropriation for the health department was increased $149,000 to provide for 80 nurses and doctors who were laid off at the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium Jan. 1. The nurses and doctors will be on the health department pay roll but will be assigned to the sanitarium.

Alderman Paul H. Douglas [5th] was the only member to vote against the 1942 budget.

CANADA AUTO PLANTS TO HALT OPERATIONS WITHIN THREE MONTHS

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 5 (AP).—Manufacture of passenger automobiles in Canada will be stopped as soon as existing inventories of already fabricated parts are assembled—by the end of March or early in April—Munitions Minister C. D. Howe announced tonight. In the meantime, monthly production will be limited to one-half the 1941 rate.

A reserve of passenger automobiles will be established at once to form a "pool" for emergency purposes. These will be available, under permit only, to persons who need a car to perform duties of an essential nature.

"No further restrictions have as yet been imposed on truck production," a statement issued by the munitions and supply department said.

EXECUTIVE, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES OF INJURIES

William Allen, 60 years old, 1536 North Kedvale avenue, general manager of the Grand Packing company, 4125 Grand avenue, died in Danish-American hospital early yesterday of injuries suffered Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile in Grand avenue near the packing company. The driver was William Argentino, 33, of 5027 Grand avenue, a

Miss Helen Hoban, 26, of 1309 South Talman avenue, died last night in the Westlake hospital, Melrose Park, of injuries suffered Sunday when the car in which she was riding struck a support of the Illinois Central railroad viaduct over Roosevelt road, in Westchester. She was assistant manager of direct mail for a loop department store. Her companion, Kenneth Flanagan, 31, of 1231 South 49th avenue, Cicero, is in a serious condition in the Westlake hospital.

Elizeo C. Cabrera, 36, of 13223 Western avenue, Blue Island, died in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, after he was struck Sunday night by an Illinois Central train at the Union street crossing in the suburb.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 14 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, eight were killed in Chicago, where 335 were injured in the same period.

BURGLAR, CAUGHT IN THE ACT, SHOT DOWN BY POLICE

A lone gunman was shot down by police yesterday a few moments after he had robbed an office of the Household Finance corporation at 4704 Irving Park road. He identified himself as John Rigens, alias Rigenski, 30 years old, of Detroit, and said he is an ex-convict.

Rigens fled from the office shortly after Policemen Herbert Demke, Edward Ganschow, and Donald Kenny, in a squad car a block away, were notified by radio that a holdup was in progress. Kenny ran to the rear of the building. Demke and Ganschow, seeing Rigens come running out, chased him. When he failed to halt both fired. Demke's shot creased his scalp and brought him down.

A revolver and the $140 stolen in the robbery were found in his pockets. In his room at 1450 North Fairfield avenue, police found papers indicating he once served in the army under the name Zigmund J. Slowinski.

COUNCIL FACES A TASK: PROBE OF BALBO DEATH

The city council yesterday faced the prospect of investigating the death of Air Marshal Italo Balbo of Italy who was killed June 28, 1940, when his plane was shot down over Tobruk, Libya. The matter came up when Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th] asked the council to change the name of Balbo drive to Garibaldi drive because Balbo had been one of the founders of Fascism and had fought against the democracies.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] arose in opposition, insisting that the council make certain of the circumstances of Balbo's death before changing the drive's name. There have been repeated stories that [a] Balbo was murdered because Mussolini was jealous of him and [b] that Italian anti-aircraft guns deliberately shot down the air marshal's plane.

Who's Who IN THE COMICS?

NAME THE TRIBUNE COMIC CHARACTERS REPRESENTED BY PUZZLES APPEARING IN THE DAILY TRIBUNE?

No. 5—"WHO'S WHO IN THE COMICS?"—Chicago Tribune

$5,000 IN CASH PRIZES!

IT'S fun—rearranging the scrambled letters to spell the names of famous comic characters. A new puzzle picture like this appears each day in the Daily Tribune. $5,000 in cash prizes will be paid to the persons who send in the best answers.

★ THE RULES ★

WHO CAN ENTER? This game is open to everybody—men, women, boys and girls everywhere—excepting employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families.

WHAT TO DO? Each week day a picture containing the scrambled name of a Tribune comic character will be published in the Daily Tribune until 45 have appeared. Unscramble the name. Use every letter in the picture. Write or print the name on the line provided. Facsimilies are acceptable. Hold all answers until you have the complete set of 45. Do not send them in separately.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Comics," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. With your entry send a letter, giving your name and address, and telling in 50 words or less which is your favorite comic character and why. Letters will be considered only in the event of ties in naming the comics. Entries must be in the office of the Chicago Tribune by midnight one week after Name No. 45 has appeared.

BASIS OF AWARDS: Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree to accept the judges' decisions as final. Awards will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of unscrambled names. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid.

DEALERS CHARGE TIRE RATIONING SETUP IS UNFAIR

Say Plan in Chicago Will Stifle Defense Work.

Charges that the tire rationing setup in the Metropolitan Chicago area is discriminatory and will stifle rather than expedite defense work were made yesterday at a meeting of the Tire Dealers, Inc., at the Hotel Sherman.

N. P. Trimborn, general manager, who said members of the organization handle 85 per cent of Chicago's truck tire business and 65 per cent of the passenger automobile tire business, was instructed to draw a petition for presentation to Michael F. Mulcahy, local tire rationing administrator. This document will ask that all reputable tire dealers in the area who have proper equipment be designated inspectors.

Protest Selections.

Among the complaints made at the meeting which will be included in the petition are the following:

1. There is no inspector farther south than 39th street and none farther north than Addison street.

2. The manner of selection of inspectors discriminates against bonafide tire dealers as it directs customers to other tire outlets. This was based on the belief that the tire inspector likely will make the tire sale, and this will result in economic strangulation for dealers not designated as inspectors.

"Not Equipped for Work."

In the discussion it was held the present setup will enhance bootlegging, and that half the places named for inspecting tires are not equipped for the work. It was pointed out that some rubber companies who allotted inspectors determined who they should be by drawing names of dealers out of a hat with no regard to location.

One dealer reported that Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck, with 10 tire outlets each, were each given an inspector among their dealers while Standard Oil, with 500 outlets, was not. Another complaint was that defense workers, needing tires, unless located near one of the designated inspecting places, would lose valuable time.

Politics Rumored.

"They're talking now of making each ward office an inspection place," said one dealer, "and that will make the thing 1,000 per cent political."

"What's to keep an inspector dealer from allowing the inspection price of 50 cents a tire to apply on the price of the tire if he makes the sale?" another wanted to know.

"In other places in the United States," said a third dealer, "the tire applicant goes to the inspector and then to the rationing board. Here he must go to the rationing board, then to the inspector, and then back to the rationing board. Why is that?"

Administrator Mulcahy, told of the charge, said: "The inspection locations were recommended by the tire manufacturers. The inspectors are represented as qualified, competent, experienced and as having adequate and sufficient tools to make inspections."

Meanwhile the tire rationing went into effect with the eight Chicago boards and one board in each county downstate open for business. All reported no great rush of business in Chicago and only 150 applications were filed all day.

Kelly Unaware of Charges.

Mayor Kelly, unaware of the charges made by the dealers, thanked the tire administrator, his aids, and the people of Chicago for their start toward conserving rubber for war needs as evidenced by the small number of applicants.

"The tire rationing presents an almost unbelievable demonstration [to me] of the patriotism of the 4,222,000 residents of the metropolitan area," the mayor said. "Nothing like it has happened within my memory.

Exhibition of Unity.

"Admittedly, the weather may have discouraged a few but the showing the first day of tire rationing is an exhibition of unity of purpose, which I do not believe Chicago has ever attained before. The small number of applicants is intensely important.

"I am certain that the nation—especially the soldiers, sailors, marines, and pilots—will be grateful to Chicago for conserving rubber, the prime essential of our task."

Paul Lemke, board member at 20 North Carpenter street, said that 15 persons had called at the board office. One application blank was issued to a truck driver who said he was engaged in defense work.

At 3308 Belmont avenue, Daniel Egan said he had turned away a business agent for the well diggers union who said his jurisdiction extended over five states.

Among those seeking tires on the first day of rationing were a teacher and truant officer, several traveling salesmen, a steeple jack, an embalmer, a man who lights gas street lights for the city, farmers, and a plumber who said that half his time was spent in defense work. More likely to be successful were several truckers who said they were engaged in defense work to the exclusion of other tasks, and a physician.

Henry Pope Jr., tire rationing administrator for the downstate section, sent a wire to Gov. Green and federal tire rationing officials announcing that a board had been set up and was operating in each county in Illinois. He reported a spirit of coöperation thru the state.

DRUG STORE BURNS.

Baby, Left in Crib by Stove, Found Dead by Suffocation

For warmth Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reich, 6124 Ingleside avenue, early yesterday placed their daughter, Lola, 5 months old, in her crib near the kitchen range and lighted the oven burner. Then they took a nap. When they awakened they found Lola dead. Police said the open gas flame had consumed the oxygen in the room, causing her death.

COUNCIL CLOSES 14 THRU STREETS TO NIGHT PARKING

Parking after midnight on 14 thru traffic routes was banned for this and future winters in an ordinance passed by the city council yesterday to facilitate snow removal.

At the same time the sponsor of the measure, Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chairman of the traffic committee, told the council that the city administration will hold off its threatened enforcement of the dormant ordinance prohibiting overnight parking on every street.

This threat, voiced Friday by Mayor Kelly, caused gloom among the majority of passenger car owners who do not use garages. If all garages were filled, more than half of the 587,000 passenger cars would still be out in the cold.

From now until April 1, police will enforce the new no-parking order between midnight and 7 a. m. on the following routes:

1. Addison street—Lake Shore drive to city limits.
3. Foster avenue — Sheridan road to Northwest highway.
4. Ashland avenue—Warren boulevard to Pratt avenue and Roosevelt road to 95th street.
5. Cicero avenue — Devon avenue to Roosevelt road.
6. Peterson avenue—Caldwell to Ridge avenues; Ridge avenue, Devon to Bryn Mawr avenues, and Bryn Mawr, Ridge avenue to Sheridan road.
7. Noble street—Augusta boulevard to Erie street; Erie, Noble street to Michigan avenue.
8. State street—Van Buren street to Archer avenue; Archer, State street to Cicero avenue.
9. Indianapolis boulevard — From the state line and with it Avenue L. Ewing avenue, and Mackinaw avenue connections with South Shore drive.
10. Michigan avenue — 55th to 60th streets; 60th street to Vincennes avenue; Vincennes, State to Halsted streets; Halsted, Vincennes avenue to city limits.
11. Stony Island avenue—67th to 130th streets; 130th, Stony Island to Torrence avenues; Torrence, 130th street to city limits.
12. Western avenue — 67th street to south city limits.
13. 55th street—Central Park to Cicero avenues.
14. 67th street — Cicero to California avenues.

Mayor Kelly yesterday designated Philip Harrington, city commissioner of subways and superhighways, to represent the city on the new Cook county superhighway authority. Robert A. Gardner, who was appointed chairman by Gov. Green last week, said that a meeting will be held at 4 p. m. today in the office of the state division of highways at 35 East Wacker drive.

The authority was created by the 1941 legislature with power to issue bonds to build superhighways and operate toll roads to raise funds. Chairman Gardner said Sunday that it is doubtful whether major projects could be carried out during the war.

Tells Wedding Plans

DOROTHY DARRELL.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—Dorothy Darrell, 21 years old, a dancing actress, said today she and Film Producer Joseph Pasternak plan to be married at Palm Springs. Pasternak produced most of Deanna Durbin's pictures.

Sally Rand and Fiance Denied Church Wedding

Glendora, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—There will be no church wedding tomorrow for Fan Dancer Sally Rand and Rodeo Rider Thurkel Greenough. Plans for the ceremony at Grace Episcopal church were canceled today after Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of the Los Angeles diocese held it would be contrary to Episcopal church law concerning marriage of divorced persons. Instead, the couple is to be married in the rectory with a minister of another church officiating. Greenough was divorced from Mrs. Helen Greenough in Billings, Mont., Last Dec. 16.

PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER IS SUSPENDED

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 5 (AP).—The Evening Public Ledger, last survivor of a group of newspapers the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis hoped to build into a great press empire, went out of existence tonight at the direction of the United States District court.

The three judge court rejected a stop-gap proposal whereby the 828 Ledger employés would operate the newspaper for another week without pay while further efforts were made to save the 27 year old paper. The court announced a receiver would be appointed tomorrow to liquidate the property.

No formal order was issued by the court pending clarification of the status of the Ledger's Associated Press membership and the good-will of the paper's name. The judges did, however, make a formal order permitting the Ledger company to continue operating the Ledger syndicate for a maximum period of 30 days so that efforts might be made toward finding a purchaser for the syndicate.

it's just the same today

HOMES to defend; enemies to defeat; weapons to make; all destiny seeming to hang in the balance.

All-out defense is changing your whole life. It is changing industry.

For all-out defense, millions of Americans are getting along without the aluminum to which they had grown accustomed; hundreds of American industries have given up the aluminum which they depended upon in their manufacturing operations.

That aluminum has gone into airplanes, anti-aircraft equipment, warships, mobile field kitchens, ponton bridges, communications apparatus, and for many other military purposes. It has helped to win a reprieve for liberty. It has helped to halt the onrush of dictatorships.

That is why defense is Alcoa's only business today.

That is why we have undertaken to produce aluminum at a rate equal to the total aluminum production in Germany, Italy, and the Nazi-dominated countries of Europe. This aluminum will be produced in our own plants and in the Government plants we are building with all the speed and know-how we possess. And remember this: Alcoa is not the only producer of aluminum in America.

All this makes possible tonnage teamwork by Americans keyed to all-out-for-America production – by scores of aluminum fabricators, thousands of foundries, and by the aviation, automotive and other industries which are fashioning aluminum and aluminum products into essential military tools in this flying, mobile war.

Four times since the war in Europe started, we have voluntarily reduced the price of aluminum – a total of twenty-five percent. Today, at 15 cents a pound, the aluminum which goes into defense means savings to taxpayers of millions of dollars a year.

A year ago we said: "If you can't get all the aluminum you want when you want it, you will know that aluminum has gone off to defend your home and your country." Today we say: "Alcoa is all-out-for-America." When Victory is assured – and not before – then you will get for the products of peace, more aluminum, better aluminum, at lower prices than any nation or any people ever had.

FALL OF MANILA SILENCES THREE RADIO REPORTERS

Four Stations Dismantled in Philippines.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The fall of Manila silenced the voices of three American radio reporters. They are Royal Arch Gunnison, Mutual's observer in the Philippines; Bert Silen, NBC, and Tom Worthin, CBS. The networks have had no direct word from their men stationed in Manila since the Japs took over the city.

Gunnison, a correspondent for a press service, had just arrived in Manila from Hongkong when the war started. He had flown from Batavia to Australia, thence to Singapore, to Chungking and then to Hongkong, reporting on far eastern developments. He had intended staying in Manila only a few days before rejoining his wife in Batavia.

Bert Silen, who has been in Manila for more than a decade, was manager of KZRH, an NBC affiliate. Worthin had been on CBS assignments at several posts for about a year.

Besides KZRH, Manila had three stations, licensed by the Philippine government but run much like American stations. A war department announcement stated that these stations had been dismantled and destroyed when Manila was declared an open city.

W-G-N has begun the practice of opening the day's broadcasting schedule with the song "America the Beautiful" and closing it at night with "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Quiz Kids have laid away during the last year $26,000 in United States defense bonds. Each child receives a $100 bond for each appearance. Richard Williams, the mathematics expert, leads all others with $3,900. Joan Bishop leads the girls' section, with $1,400 to her credit. Jack Lucal is the second boy, with a total of $2,800; Gerard Darrow has $2,200; Claude Brenner, British born Quiz Kid, has the same; Van Dyke Tiers, $1,700; Betty Swanson, $1,000; Cynthia Cline, $700, and Emily Anne Israel, $500.

FOUR WITNESSES MISSING; FRAUD TRIAL DELAYED

Fraud charges against nine officials and employés of the Resources Corporation International were continued to next Monday by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday because four key witnesses for the government are missing.

Assistant District Attorneys William J. Connor and Thomas B. Hart presented affidavits showing that since Dec. 20 federal deputies have sought Meta Gerth, formerly of 2150 Lincoln Park West; Phyllis Purvis, 1421 Gregory street; Dorothy Snell, Peru, Vt.; and Hallie Westcott, 517 Oakdale avenue.

The defendants are Arnold Joerns, president; Franklin A. Hofheins, George E. Howard, W. L. Kellogg, former president; Bruce L. Hoover, William D. Durland, Leonard L. Cowan, Ray Soldwell, and John J. Jennings. They are accused of conspiring to misrepresent the value of Mexican timber holdings and of swindling investors of $7,350,000.

MADAME SHAW SURRENDERS TO ENTER PRISON

Victoria [Vic] Shaw, one time toast of Chicago's red light district and a contemporary of the notorious Everleigh sisters, was surrendered to United States Marshal William H. McDonnell yesterday by her attorney, Leo Klein.

Sentenced last June to five years in prison for peddling narcotics, Mme. Victoria, now 72 years old, will serve her term in the Seagoville reformatory, Dallas, Tex. In sentencing Victoria, whose real name is Mrs. Emma Ludwig, Judge Charles E. Woodward said her brownstone mansion at 2906 Prairie avenue apparently was a center for south side narcotics sales.

Mme. Shaw admitted at the trial that she had been a habitual user of narcotics for 40 years, but denied she had sold dope. She was given a stay of sentence to wind up her personal affairs after the United States Circuit Court of Appeals confirmed the sentence.

PUBLIC DEFENDER TO ASK PARDON FOR SLAYER OF 4

Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach yesterday prepared to file a petition for executive clemency on behalf of Bernard [Knifey] Sawicki, confessed killer of four. Sawicki, a parolee from the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles, is scheduled to be electrocuted Jan. 17 for the murder last summer of a policeman, an aged farmer, a youthful pal, and a robbery victim. Bachrach said the petition will be filed with the division of pardons and paroles.

FIGHT FIRE FOR SEVEN HOURS.

Firemen under Chief John Hefferman of the 28th battalion fought a fire in the two story brick ragshop and warehouse at 1518 South Albany avenue for almost seven hours Sunday night and yesterday morning.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Engagement Broken

PRISCILLA LANE.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—Screen Actress Priscilla Lane said today her engagement to John Barry, Victorville, Cal., newspaper man, had been broken by mutual agreement.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF 3 ANNENBERG AIDS

The United States Supreme court yesterday upheld convictions of three associates and employés of M. L. Annenberg who were found guilty here on Sept. 12, 1940, of evading federal income taxes. They are James M. Ragen Sr., Arnold W. Kruse, and Lester Kruse, all of Chicago, who were among the operators of the Consensus Publishing company of St. Louis, Mo., printers and distributors of racing sheets.

On Feb. 26, 1941, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the conviction of these three and two others, holding the government's contentions were "incredible" and criticizing Judge Walter C. Lindley's instructions to the jury.

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, obtained permission a few weeks later to have the Supreme court review the reversals. The high court, in a 6 to 0 decision yesterday, held the government's evidence sufficient for conviction. Ragen is under sentence of a year and a day and must pay a $10,000 fine, Arnold Kruse was sentenced to 18 months and fined $10,000, and his son, Lester, was fined $1,000.

FINAL OPERETTA ENTRIES BOOST TOTAL TO 2,232

Last minute entries in W-G-N's $10,500 quest for the Great American Operetta swelled the total registration to 2,232. All these have signified their intention of submitting original operettas that reflect the spirit and achievement of America.

A New Year's day announcement listed 2,173 entries. Jan. 1 was the deadline. Fifty-nine were received later, postmarked prior to midnight Jan. 1, and were entered in the competition.

Complete operettas must be submitted to W-G-N by Feb. 10. They will be judged by a board of 10 nationally known composers, musicians, and producers. Three operettas are to be selected for production on the W-G-N Theater of the Air the first three Saturdays in March. The composers of the winning works will receive $1,000 each in prizes. There will be an additional award of $5,000 for the work judged the Great American Operetta. A total of $2,500 will be distributed to the listening public for naming the three winning operettas.

THE KELLY TWINS OF A POLICEMAN FAMILY RETIRE

Lieut. George T. Kelly of the Stanton avenue police station and his twin brother, Patrolman William J. Kelly, operator at the Central station, left the force last night after reaching the retirement age of 63 years. Lieut. Kelly joined the force in 1906, his brother in 1908. Their father, Lawrence Kelly, also was a policeman, as were four brothers: Lawrence Kelly, now retired; the late John Kelly, Raymond Kelly, who was shot and killed, and Bernard Kelly, still a member of the force.

Capt. Joseph P. Mulhern of engine company 70 of the fire department, also retired after 40 years of service. He was 63 years old yesterday.

Capt. Mulhern joined the department New Year's day, 1902. He became a lieutenant in 1914 and a captain in 1919. He won two honorable mentions for bravery. Capt. Mulhern lives with his wife, two sons, and a daughter at 8121 South Winchester avenue.

NEW JURY TAKES OATH; GAMBLING QUIZ TO CONTINUE

Two Indicted by December Group Post Bonds.

The January grand jury of seven women and 16 men was sworn in yesterday by Chief Justice Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court.

Judge Dunne issued routine instructions to the jury, and warned the jurors to keep their work secret. He did not touch on the gambling investigation conducted by the last two grand juries after THE TRIBUNE'S expose last October of activities of the Jack Guzik syndicate.

W. G. Tanzer Is Chairman.

William G. Tanzer, 7219 Constance avenue, manager of the Crooks Terminal Warehouse, Clearing, was chosen foreman of the jury.

Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, said he will go before the grand jury in a day or two and inform it of the gambling investigation, which will be taken up where the December jury left off.

Meanwhile Louis A. and David Sachs, brothers who allegedly headed a large syndicate "nerve center" at 624 South Michigan avenue and who were indicted by the December jury on charges of conspiracy to tap telephone wires to conduct a gambling business, appeared in Criminal court and posted bonds of $1,500 each.

They Have Nothing to Say.

Neither they nor their attorney, Emmet Moynihan, had anything to say. The brothers reportedly fled to Florida after their offices were raided Dec. 5 on orders of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Arraignment of Lawrence [Dago] Mangano and two aids, Thomas Stapleton and Henry Phillips, on charges of conspiracy to commit malicious mischief by tapping telephone wires, was set for today. The three were indicted after police raided another syndicate "nerve center" at 59 East Chicago avenue Dec. 2. Mangano has long been known as a close associate of Jack Guzik and other gambling bosses.

Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Central police raided an alleged handbook at 6 West Randolph street yesterday, found no one at home, but removed two telephones. In a restaurant at 214 North Clark street Capt. Duffy arrested Morris Rath, 42 years old, and James Stewart, 35, and removed two telephones and a radio.

Fire in Business Building Causes $20,000 Damage

Damage of $20,000 was caused last night by fire, which swept thru a two story store and office building, 6320-22 Cottage Grove avenue. First Deputy Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney said the fire started in a typewriter exchange. Patrons of a tavern next door fled when smoke filled the place.

$1,000 BLAZE ROUTS SIX TENANTS.

Fire caused damage of $1,000 to the building at 3117 Lake street yesterday and drove six tenants to the street.

Miss Margaret Zimmermann's Betrothal Told

BY JUDITH CASS.

AT a cocktail party on Sunday in their home in Geneva, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Zimmermann announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Richard Donovan Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ami L. Allen of St. Charles. Young Mr. Allen came from his army station for the party.

Miss Zimmerman, who always is called Peggy, was graduated from the Brownmoor school in Santa Fe, N. M., in 1938 and attended the Finch school in New York. She made her debut at a tea at the Arts club before the Princeton Triangle club's 1938 appearance here, sharing honors with her sister, Lee, and her cousin, Miss Jane Rockwood. Mr. Allen was graduated from Elgin academy in Elgin. Before entering the army he was in business in Kansas City and Chicago.

Saddle and Cycle Club Play Is Set for Jan. 18.

Footlights and costumes will be lacking from the play which is scheduled for Jan. 18 at the Saddle and Cycle club, but the enthusiasm in the audience is expected to surpass many professional first nights. The play, a topical comedy laid in Washington, D. C., is the second in a series to be read without costumes or scenery. A buffet supper at 6:30 o'clock will start off the evening, and the "curtain" is set for 8 o'clock.

Original plans were for Walter Frazier to direct the second play and Louis Ellsworth Laflin the third. Mr. Frazier is to be in Washington, D. C., on the 18th, however, so Mr. Laflin will trade places with him. The latter, whose interest in the theater dates from the days when he coauthored two Princeton Triangle shows, recently received his Ph. D. degree in drama at Yale university.

Casting for the 15 parts is under the direction of Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr. To date two important rôles have been filled by Mrs. Eugene Swigart and Earl Kribben.

Junior Arthur Burrowses Parents of First Child.

The first child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Burrows Jr., who arrived early yesterday morning at St. Luke's hospital, has been named Arthur Andrew III. Mrs. Clarence B. Mitchell and Mr. Burrows Sr. are the baby's grandparents, but Col. and Mrs. Robbert G. Peck practically share that status since they raised the former Laura Moyer, their niece.

Victor Granados, Spanish composer, conductor, and cellist and son of the eminent composer, Enrique Granados, and Rudolph Ganz, Chicago pianist, will be the guests today of the Chicago Chamber Music society and the Russian Trio for the latter's concert at the Arts club. Following the 11:30 o'clock program, several of the guests will entertain at luncheon. Among the hostesses will be Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Moise Dreyfus, Mrs. Robert Reid, and Mrs. William H. Hubbard.

Vera Gillette and Vincent Micari, whose two piano concert two years ago at the Woman's Athletic club was received with great enthusiasm, will have a return engagement there at 11:30 o'clock today. Among those with luncheon reservations following the program are Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Mrs. Louis Leverone, Mrs. Charles W. Moore, Miss Nettie Baumann, Mrs. Eugene P. Kealy, Mrs. John L. Porter, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. John F. Rhett, Mrs. John Wilder, Mrs. James Tatman, and Mrs. Charles C. Hopkins. The club has sent out questionnaires to organize Red Cross and defense work in which its members are to participate.

Woman's Athletic Club to Hear Talk on War.

"The War Today" will be discussed by Edgar Ansel Mowrer, foreign correspondent just recently returned from the far east, at the Woman's Athletic club at 8:30 o'clock Friday night. Dinner will be served before Mr. Mowrer's talk.

"Premiers Nuages," a one act play in French, will be presented this afternoon before the Cercle Français by Mrs. Edgar J. Cook and Mrs. James Kane. Raoul Josset will talk on "The History of Sculpture." At a tea following the program Mrs. Joseph Allworthy and Mrs. Jean Morel will pour.

The North Shore Vassar club will meet at 2:30 o'clock today in the home of Mrs. Horace Capron, 560 Ridge avenue, Winnetka. Before tea three recent graduates of Vassar will review books dealing with Harvard, Vassar, and Wellesley colleges.

Miss Emily Goehst will interpret Alice Gerstenberg's "Across the River" following dinner tonight at the Chicago College club. Miss Gerstenberg, author of the series of dramatic episodes about the history of Chicago, will be the club's guest at dinner from 6 to 7:30 o'clock. Miss Isabel F. Jarvis, Mrs. Herbert H. Riddle, Miss Helen C. Saunders, and Mrs. Katherine W. Sloan will serve as hostesses.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lawrence of New Rochelle, N. Y., formerly of Wilmette, announce the marriage on Jan. 3 of their daughter, Jean, to Stanley E. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Jacobs of Evanston. The former Miss Lawrence attended the University of Illinois. Sergeant Jacobs, who is in the army, was graduated from Northwestern university.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy M. Miller of Geneseo, Ill., to Knute E. Nielson of Oak Park took place on Sunday in Geneseo. The bride was a member of the football court of honor during her last three years at the University of Illinois. Mr. Nielsen, who also was graduated from the university, is a 2d lieutenant in the field artillery reserve.

Michigan Girl to Wed

Miss Betty Ann Pease of Birmingham, Mich., whose engagement to David E. White of Birmingham has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pease Jr., has many friends here. Her father used to live in Kenilworth and her paternal grandfather still lives there. She is a niece of Mrs. Edwin E. Sheridan of Evanston. Mr. White's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. K. White of Birmingham.

How to Win a War.

We are touched by the patriotism of a wiry, weary little man on Oak street. Late Saturday he was hit by an automobile and taken to Henrotin hospital. Physicians bandaged his serious cuts, anointed his bruises and said it was imperative he remain at the hospital pending X-rays. "No," said John Warneck. "I can't. I have to be at my steel mill by five in the morning to adjust the oil gauge. This is war, you know." And off he trudged thru the dawn.

They Read the Telephone Directory.

Songs of a Lost Home.

It all sounds ironic now, the fact that Enya Gonzales, lovely young soprano from the Philippines whose grandfather was a famous Philippine diplomat, has for the past year been singing the title rôle in Madame Butterfly, she being the young Japanese girl, Cio-cio-San, who falls in love with and marries an American naval officer. When she sings here at the Arts club on Jan. 11 she will sing songs of her native Philippines.

Attention All Cats.

The happy, uninhibited days of the cat kingdom are nearing a close. Mignon Eberhart, the mystery writer, announced during a holiday visit here that she is momentarily abandoning the invention of fine murders to invent a cat-carrier. As usual, necessity is mothering this invention, Mrs. Eberhart having a Siamese cat who refuses to coöperate when the air raid alarm sounds in New York; he leaps, scratches and spits and has yet to be taken quietly down to the basement refuge from the sixth floor. The cat-carrier is to be a bag that zips up the back and leaves only the head protruding. Should this not prove feasible, Mrs. Eberhart may pore for other clues thru the pages of Nine Lives, the story of a London cat in wartime which her Chicago hostess is sending her. The sister of the author, Alice Grant Rosman, has the quaint wartime post of air raid warden for pets.

Nuts to Him, but Edible Ones.

After a Chicagoan's praise of the service at the Chicago public library was printed in the Voice of the People, he received a large box of shelled pecans from a woman in Texas.

"I'm not a native of Chicago," she wrote, "but every time I'm there I go to the library and they are just wonderful to me. I'm so glad you told the truth about them. Here are some pecans for you, and God bless the girls."

Beans.

A Chicago man who considered himself a wag and a wit sat at a lunch counter, idly intent as his neighbor told the waiter, "I'll take a bowl of beans." The waiter turned, howled down to the kitchen, "A thousand up!" Then the wag and wit spoke up. "And I," he said with great cunning, "will take 998." The waiter regarded him impassively, turned and howled into the depths, "A thousand up—minus two!"

Perilous Waters.

The Nautilus, the chambered fish car of the Shedd aquarium, came back from the Pacific coast last week much earlier than expected, its load of fish much lighter. Its crew, headed by Max Mayer, the aquarium's chief collector, found they were as unwelcome in most of their old fishing holes as the Japs, all the waters being under heavy patrol. In desperation the three went to fish off the cliffs of La Jolla, and all went well until a wave upset the boat. Heavy hip boots made swimming impossible, and they clung precariously to their overturned boat for three hours. At last two coast guard boats came out, hauled them in, gave them hot drinks and dry clothing, put them back in their own boat and towed them the 18 miles to their Nautilus. "All in all," commented one, "we were more trouble than the Japs."

This being Christmas eve for the Serbians, among others, and they being our allies, we pass on their Christmas greeting: Mir Bozji—Hristos se Rodi!

Russians, Serbians, and Ukrainians Will Observe Christmas

Chicagoans of Russian, Serbian, and Ukrainian birth or origin celebrate Christmas eve tonight with the offering of the great liturgy of Christmas tomorrow morning.

The Rt. Rev. Leonty, Russian Orthodox bishop of Chicago, assisted by the choir of Holy Trinity cathedral, 1121 North Leavitt street, will sing the ancient liturgy of St. John Chrysostom at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. Other officers of the divine liturgy will be the Very Rev. Sergius Snegireff, dean of the cathedral, and the Rev. Emilian Solanka. The cathedral, in which there are no pews, is lined with Christmas trees for the festival.

At Holy Resurrection Serbian Orthodox church, 1905 West Schiller street, the Very Rev. Petar O. Styachich, archpriest of Chicago, will offer the divine liturgy of Christmas tomorrow at 10 a. m. He will be assisted by the Brancho Radichovich choir, singing under the direction of Alexander Savine. At St. Nicholas Ukrainian Catholic church, midnight mass will be offered tonight, with Christmas masses tomorrow at 8 and 10 a. m.

Chicagoans of Serbian ancestry will celebrate their Christmas tomorrow with a program of national music, historic pageantry, and folk dancing in the evening in the South Chicago branch library, 9055 South Houston avenue. Thruout the month the library will have Serbian art and handicraft on exhibit.

The Well Wishers auxiliary of the Fox River sanitarium will hold a meeting at 1:30 o'clock today in the Free Sons clubrooms at 116 South Michigan avenue.

Red Cross Fund Drive Opened by Industries

Requisitions for 269,000 employés' pledge cards from corporations thruout the city were received by the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross yesterday, marking the opening drive of the industrial division in the chapter's war relief campaign.

This was reported by James B. Forgan, general chairman, with the expectation that more than one-half of the anticipated million pledge cards and other campaign material ordered from business and industrial firms will be distributed thruout the week.

Mr. Forgan pointed out that speed in the collection of the pledge cards is urgent and that the need for money by the Red Cross demands that Chicago fill its $3,750,000 quota toward the national $50,000,000 goal. He asked for "a day's pay from those who work for those who fight."

One large mail order house will meet the speedy demands of the drive by setting up a whirlwind solicitation Wednesday, the monthly anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack. In 24 hours the company intends to distribute and collect pledge cards among 9,000 employés. The story of the drive will be told by the general manager over a loud speaking system thruout the plant Wednesday afternoon.

Women's defense organizations are rapidly putting their programs on a systematic basic also, announcements revealed yesterday.

Responses to application blanks sent out by the Women's National Republican club of Chicago poured into headquarters at the Palmolive building, 919 North Michigan avenue, according to Mrs. George Weichelt, secretary and co-chairman of the defense committee. The application blanks seek to determine for what type of defense work members and prospective members are best suited. It enumerates Red Cross activities and emergency services, including clerical work, food preparation, and social service. Special units for Red Cross and civilian defense work will be organized by the club.

The Cook County council of the American Legion auxiliary will open an intensive defense campaign with a meeting Friday in the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Mary Berkemeyer Quinn, legislative chairman, will speak on "The American Legion and Its Auxiliary's Legislative Program in Action." Other speakers will be Rep. Bernice Van Der Vries [R.], who will talk on "The Illinois Legislature's Special Session as Relating to Defense Measures," and Rep. Roland V. Libonati [D.], whose topic will be "The Legion's Larger Legislative Program as to National and Civilian Defense."

The Chicago Navy Mothers' club opened its headquarters at 333 North Michigan avenue yesterday and will be prepared to accommodate navy men on liberty the first of next week, Mrs. Helen Joyce, director, stated.

"We are asking all mothers of navy men in the Chicago area to enroll because there are many jobs to be done," Mrs. Joyce explained. "This is a total war, military, economic, and psychological, and there is a lot that the mothers can do psychologically. Chicago is the center of the 9th Naval district, from which one-third of the total navy personnel is drawn. The Chicago club will unquestionably be the most important unit in the national organization."

Alumni of Earlham in Chicago to Hold Banquet Saturday

The Chicago Earlham alumni banquet will be held Saturday in the Chicago Real Estate Board banquet hall, 32 West Randolph street. More than 300 Chicago alumni of Earlham college, a Quaker school at Richmond, Ind., will hear R. Warren Barrett, general counsel and vice president of the Lehigh Valley railroad, and Dr. William C. Dennis, president of the college, give the principal talks.

Chicago alumni will participate in the nation-wide drive to raise $225,000 for a new women's residence hall. Former President Herbert Hoover, holder of an honorary degree from the school, is honorary chairman of the drive.

give. Mr. Stock doesn't relax easily. He'd have a firm grip and a long, vigorous drive, but I wonder if he doesn't sometimes overshoot the green! Note the long swing to the first and last letter.

It is the capital "A" that interests me. This is sometimes called the old fashioned "A" because it reveals a characteristic which unfortunately has gone out of fashion. It reveals kindness and a protective sense toward the underdog—toward those who are at the mercy of the strong. I'm afraid much of the world's present trouble goes back to loss of that trait in the shuffle for power.

Engaged to Chicagoan

At a tea and cocktail party in Irvington-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., on Saturday Miss Virginia Lee Robinson's engagement to Weymouth Stone Kirkland of Chicago was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Robinson. Mr. Kirkland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland of North State street, went east for the announcement party. Young Mr. Kirkland's sister, Mrs. James Scott Kemper Jr., and Mr. Kemper of Pelham Manor, N. Y., also attended the party.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

The Newcomer's Place.

In business, as in the army, unending struggle goes on between seniority and ability. The new girl in business [like the young officer in the army] may have twice the ability of the oldtimer. But—the oldtimer got there first.

The newcomer in an office may have a sorry time of it if the senior worker—to quote a letter signed "A slightly ruffled white collar girl"—"hasn't a broad view of true fellowship in work."

"I have had the experience of being both senior worker and beginner," she writes. "In the particular office where I was a senior worker we never took privileges that were not extended to the beginners. In fact, we were more considerate of the beginner than of ourselves. We wanted the newcomer to feel at home and to feel she was wanted. To me, this is the more natural way to do things. It creates harmony among fellow workers and does away with separateness and cliques."

And then she tells, with no hint of malice, about the situation in the office where she is now employed, brought about by the noncoöperative attitude of the women employés of 10 or 20 years' service with the concern.

How to solve it? Perhaps a hint to the newcomer to make haste slowly when it comes to the matter of privileges. And perhaps a hint to the oldtimer to remember that even those in high command can be replaced.

A Painful Subject.

Overheard in a shoe repair shop:

The customer: "My goodness, you look solemn. Doesn't anything funny ever happen in here?"

For Your Vocabulary.

1. Turnover—Ratio of amount of annual sales of goods to goods on hand.
2. Obsolescence—State of being outmoded.
3. Net—Buying price.
4. Gross—Selling price.
5. Markup—Profit in percentage.
6. Appreciation—Increase between price when bought and replacement price.
7. Depreciation—Decrease between price when bought and replacement price.
8. Consignment—Goods on which the store may elect to return the goods or their cost to the supplier.
9. Bonded goods—Goods held in a warehouse on which duties have not been paid.
10. Tally—An actual count which must agree with the current theoretical count. The word comes from the old counting sticks called "tallies," on which notches were made to keep track of figures.

Suit of Brilliant Hue Will Chase January Blues

BY REA SEEGER.

A bright idea for January is a vividly hued suit. Color dramatizes a long fur coat, a fur jacket, a fabric coat with fur collar, or the indispensable topper of tweed or thick wool. With a bright suit, any dull winter robe snaps into fashion. There are dozens of reds from cerise to fire truck or traffic reds; there are bountiful supplies of green, from kelly to bronze. If these don't click, try the screaming yellows, the biting blues, or the flattering pastels.

Or you may hold out for the new checks and plaids, worked into suits as smart as your big brother's uniform, from precisely cut pockets to other tailored details. Soft flannel, warm as eiderdown, swanky tweed mixtures, diagonals, and ribbed textures are the most popular.

And one of the newest ideas for achieving color is a colored two-piece suit topped with an eye-catching top coat . . . a green suit with a red coat, a bright canary yellow topper over a blue suit, for example. The big idea is to team the boldest, brightest colors you dare. Combinations are limitless.

Most of these gay new suits are easily worn as a two-piece outfit, but sweaters or blouses may be added. Snowy white is best if the suits are of tweed mixtures or the checks or plaids . . . bright contrast if the suits are of monotones.

Skirts are short and extra snappy because of the diversified pleating . . . three in a group, formations of two, all-the-way-round, or the classic kick pleats in front and back!

Chic Uniforms for Women in Civil Defense

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Women civilian defense workers can now get down to work in earnest. It has been decided what they are going to wear.

There was no lack of style in the official uniforms for women which were shown here for the first time yesterday at the regional Office of Civilian Defense, 20 North Wacker drive. In fact, the uniforms which have been approved by the uniform committee of the Volunteer Participation committee of the Office of Civilian Defense in Washington, D. C., should entice many busy young girls and women to hurry into defense work.

In varying shades of blue—the one color becoming to all women—the uniforms have a smart military air. They include a dress uniform for women in the drivers' corps, a dress uniform for women in the messenger group, a canteen worker's uniform, a hospital worker's uniform, an office worker's uniform, and a nurse's aide uniform.

The dress uniform for women in the drivers' corps has been designed for outdoor work and the fact that there will also be men working side by side with the women. A soft blue, two piece suit, it has a long jacket and slim skirt. It boasts of shiny metal buttons and shoulder straps. To wear it a worker must have training in first aid, gas defense, drill, night driving, blackout driving, map reading, emergency motor maintenance, and a general course.

When a driver has finished her training she will also receive insignia to wear on her arm, a red steering wheel in the center of a white triangle.

Even under a rain of bombs the messenger girls will look like models in a subdeb fashion magazine. They will wear a two piece suit, similar to those of the drivers' corps, but in sturdy denim. Assigned to air raid warden posts, message centers, hospitals, and other first aid posts, the messengers must have first aid work, fire defense, gas defense, and a bicycle. Their insignia will be a flash of red lightning on a white triangle.

The canteen worker, who will go around with a red coffee cup on a white triangle on her sleeve, will be dressed in a chic, shirtwaist costume of light blue denim. She will have to know only how to smile and be qualified in gas defense.

Hospital workers, who must be trained to render first aid and assist in the evacuation of the wounded, will look like young Florence Nightingales in a navy blue and white striped dress topped with a starched, white jumper apron. They will have the insignia of the medical corps, a red caduceus on a white triangle.

Efficiency with an effect describes the uniform of the office worker in civilian defense. She will be on the alert in a gray blue, light weight wool frock with a slender skirt and softly bloused bodice. Gold buttons will parade down the front of the bodice and gold epaulettes will shine on her shoulders. The insignia on the sleeve will be the red initials "CD" on a white triangle.

All of the uniforms will be manufactured by designated and licensed firms, who will sell the uniforms to any retailer who agrees to resell them at a standard price set by the Office of Civilian Defense, Maj. Raymond J. Kelly, director of the 6th civilian defense region, explained yesterday.

All but the nurse's aide uniform fall under this regulation. To be issued only by the American Red Cross to volunteer nurses' aides when they have completed the course of instruction, the uniforms are light blue denim jumpers with broadcloth shirts. A perky, two pointed nurse's cap of blue denim, framed in white, completes the uniform. The aides will wear insignia of the Red Cross on a white triangle.

MISS GERALDINE SCHLOERB.

Miss Geraldine Schloerb's engagement to Frank Richard Meyer III. has been announced by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Rolland W. Schloerb of Kenwood avenue. Miss Schloerb is a senior at Oberlin college. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Jr. of River Forest, will receive his degree in April from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and at the same time will be commissioned as a lieutenant in the United States army.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Now's the time, for a couple of reasons, to stock up on the kind of after bath preparation that foils the ravages of cold weather—and woolen clothing—against the skin.

One of our favorites is an emulsion, quite unlike any other product of this type that we've ever used. It's a thick, creamy lotion with lots of oil in it—oil, by the way, that might settle at the bottom of the bottle, which means you should shake the bottle well before using it.

This is applied after your bath or shower while the skin is still a little bit moist. Being an emulsion, the creamy liquid mixes smoothly with the moisture. Massage it in well, using generous quantities for the elbows and legs. Then blot off any that remains with your bath towel.

This is a marvelous lubricant and the most impressive thing about it is that tho it oils the skin it doesn't leave it greasy or sticky. Your clothing won't be stained by it. It's an economical product, too. One bottle seems to last an amazingly long time; you'll find, as you use it, that you use very little after each bath.

INSTALLMENT II.
QUESTIONING.

There was a pause and then Cornelius continued his insolent statement. "You know best whether he'll be pleased to have the record and what he'll set about doing with it.

"I may say at once that any funny business such as torture or third degree to find out where the cylinder is and what arrangements I've made for it to reach Goering, will defeat itself, because any doctor you like to put on to me will tell you I'm liable to buckle up at any moment. That's really why I'm talking to you like this. I want to get away to America and lead a quiet life there. It doesn't seem possible this side of the Atlantic. I'm good for another 40 years or so if I don't have any shocks, but I'm afraid anything like third degree would leave you with a corpse on your hands, and then Goering would get that cylinder."

There was a pause. The man leaned forward, propping his chin with one of those white womanish hands.

"What do you want?" he said.

"To go to America."

"And what guarantee should I have if I let you go?"

For the first time, Cornelius smiled. "Guarantees are so difficult to arrange, besides being a bit fly-blown nowadays. I was thinking of a gentleman's agreement. As soon as I'm across the Atlantic I cable my instructions, and the cylinder will be delivered to you instead of to Goering."

The man's hand covered his lips for a moment. When he withdrew it they were smiling. He put a finger on the bell in front of him. The door behind Cornelius opened. He turned, and heard the voice restored to smoothness.

"Show Herr Roos out."

The other interview took place in the study of Col. Garrett's flat. The name had been bequeathed by a previous tenant. The shabby furniture, consisting of one serviceable table and several worn but comfortable chairs, was Garrett's own. There were no pictures, no ornaments, no photographs, no odds and ends, and very few books.

A pipe-rack hung over the mantelpiece, and a large tobacco jar stood upon the shelf. A seedy Brussels carpet covered the floor. It had originally presented a pattern of maroon and green upon a mustard colored ground, but with years of wear and London grime the colors had mercifully retreated into a general foggy drab. The curtains, of a thick tapestry trimmed with an archaic ball fringe were of the same date and color.

Col. Garrett himself looked as little like the head of an important government department as is possible, but if a guess had been offered as to which that department was, it is improbable that any one would have hit upon the foreign office intelligence. He was, in fact, the opposite number of the man in Berlin, and he also was engaged in interviewing a Rossiter.

Instead of sitting behind a table with a bell within finger reach and a guard before his door, Col. Garrett stood in front of the fire and filled an aged pipe. The charlady who did for him had completed her ministrations by 11 a. m., and, it being now about 11 o'clock at night, there was no one else in the flat. An air raid had been going on, and another would probably be along within the next half hour or so, but for the moment there were neither bombs, gunfire, nor the throb of hovering planes.

Col. Garrett tamped the tobacco with a splayed thumb. He was in tweeds, baggy, hideous, comfortable. Like his curtains and his carpet, they inclined toward mustard in color—old mustard, dried in the pot—but there was a pink over check. Altogether one of the more painful examples of a notoriously distressing wardrobe. Even in competition with this suit, a green tie with scarlet spots, and a purplish cotton bandanna worn hanging from a bulging pocket forced themselves upon the attention.

Garrett's sandy hair stood up like stubble all over his head. His eyes, of the sharp gray of steel, were turned suddenly upon Antony Rossiter.

"When did you see Cornelius last?"

Antony considered. He sat on the arm of the largest and shabbiest chair. He was not at all like Cornelius to look at, being of middle height, slim, and somewhere pleasantly between fair and dark in complexion. That is to say, his hair was brown, his eyes of the shade commonly called blue, and his skin as well tanned as a healthy young man's should be. His features were pleasing, mobile, and irregular, and he had very white teeth. He displayed a lounging grace as he balanced on the arm of the chair, and had an air of being very much at his ease. He was, in fact, a distant connection of Col. Garrett's, and addressed him sometimes with a formal sir, and sometimes quite familiarly as Frank.

"Cornelius—" he said, "now when did I see Cornelius last?"

"I was asking you that!" snapped Garrett.

"Yes, you were—and I'm trying to think . . . O, a long time ago—before the Boche walked into Holland. I went over and met him there."

Garrett drew at his pipe. Ghosts of all the other pipes which he had smoked in this room hung in the air. He said with a kind of violent suddenness.

"I think he's double-crossing us."

"Cornelius?" His agreeable voice was unhurried.

Garrett barked at him.

"That's what I said, didn't I?"

"O, yes—I was just wondering. What makes you think so?"

"I don't know. I don't like the feel of some of the stuff he's sent us. How far can you trust him yourself?"

Antony said, "I don't know."

It has been said that he had a mobile face. The most remarkable thing about it at this moment was the complete absence of expression. There was none in his voice either.

"How well do you know him?" Garrett's tone was easy.

Antony looked at the fire. It burned brightly—logs on a foundation of red hot coal—a very comfortable fire. He said:

"How well does one know any one? He's 13 years older than I am, and that gives him a ten year start of me in the family. He was three when my father and mother adopted him."

Garrett drew at his pipe. "Lunatic business, adopting some one else's child. What possessed them to do it?"

"O, well—they wanted a child. Some people do, you know. They'd lost one, and after five years they'd rather given up hope. It was when my father was out in the Dutch East Indies. One of the clerks was drowned and the wife died soon afterwards. There didn't seem to be any relations, and I gather that my mother rather grabbed at Cornelius. I didn't come along for another 10 years."

"By which time they were repenting at leisure."

"Not a bit of it—they were very fond of him. I don't remember much about it all, but I do remember that. My father came back to Holland and settled down in the firm there when I was a baby, and when he died they offered Cornelius a job. I was about eight then. My mother died a year later and her people brought me up, so I didn't see Cornelius again until I left school. Then I spent a long vacation in Holland picking up my Dutch and having a general look round. There was some idea that I might go into the firm. They thought a lot of my father."

Garrett blew out a cloud of smoke. "And what did they think of Cornelius?"

"I didn't ask them." There was a faint sparkle in Antony's eyes.

"Don't you know anything without asking? Don't play the fool! How did he stand with them?"

"Quite well, I think, but really I don't know."

There was a pause which prolonged itself until Garrett said suddenly.

"Seen much of him since?"

"A certain amount. I didn't go into the firm, as you know, because I got red hot about flying. Mr. Merridew made me take my degree and then he had to let me do as I liked."

"Some relation of your mother's, isn't he?"

"Umpteenth cousin—family solicitor. She made him my guardian. He was by way of being trustee for Cornelius, too—they left him a little money. Anything else you'd like out of the family archives?"

Garrett looked at him sharply.

"Not at the moment. Some old stuff, and some new. Run together, it amounts to this—you haven't lived at close quarters with Cornelius Roos since you were eight, but you did live at very close quarters with him till then. A boy of eight knows the people he lives with inside out and down side up. He knows a damn sight more about them than if he were three or four times as old. They talk in front of him, and they don't bother to put on frills. I should think you were sharp enough to cut yourself when you were eight."

Thorne Miniature Rooms to Be on View Thruout January

The gallery in the Art institute where the current exhibit of Thorne rooms are displayed has had 125,000 visitors. In order that all may have an opportunity to see this series, considered by many to be the finest of Mrs. James Ward Thorne's world famous restorations, a tour of the exhibit has been postponed, and the 37 "American Rooms in Miniature" will remain on view in gallery A-12 until the end of the month. The special fee of 25 cents will be dropped, and admittance will be free.

Mrs. Thorne plans to present her American series to the Art institute. This will give the institute complete control of 97 Thorne rooms, all Mrs. Thorne has created, with the exception of one miniature given to Queen Elizabeth of England, which is in the Victoria and Albert museum in London, and the Colonial meeting house, now in the Chicago Historical society.

The American group is her last series, Mrs. Thorne says. The Thorne miniature restorations have set the standard for future work in the field.

Daughters of Civil War Veterans Install Friday

Officers of Mrs. Ellsworth Tent, No. 5, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, will be installed at 8 p. m. Friday at 6236 Princeton avenue. Mrs. Florence Cheadle, 76 East 100th place, is president elect. New flags for the patriotic instructor and color guard will be dedicated. Maj. Thomas L. Beem, 917 West 77th street, son of a veteran, and aide de camp of the Grand Army of the Republic, will post the colors. Mrs. Bonnie B. Smith, 7936 Merrill avenue, president of the Illinois department of the DUV, will officiate at the installation.

GASOLINE ALLEY—EAVES DRIPS

CAN I COME OVER, SALLY? I'VE GOT TO TALK TO SOMEBODY ABOUT NINA AND ME GETTING MARRIED. AND THERE'S NOBODY BUT YOU TO PICK ON.
1-6
OF COURSE, I CAN'T AFFORD IT BUT WHO CAN, NOWADAYS? BESIDES, PEOPLE WOULD THINK I WAS TRYING TO DODGE THE ARMY.
MARRIAGE WOULDN'T SAVE YOU FROM THE ARMY NOW, SKEEZIX.
I KNOW, SALLY, BUT YOU KNOW HOW PEOPLE ARE. I'M DUE FOR SERVICE ANYWAY BUT IF WE COULD. GET MARRIED FIRST—
I KNOW HOW YOU FEEL AND I CAN SEE YOUR SIDE OF IT.
DID YOU CATCH THAT? THEY ARE TALKING OF GETTING MARRIED.
I WOULDN'T PUT IT PAST THAT MISS SNIPE—TRYING TO ROB THE CRADLE!

The Eyebrows Deserving of Greater Care

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

When the rage was on for pinpoint eyebrows, a stupid, distorting style if ever there was one, some girls sheared off completely the natural eyebrow line and drew in one with pencil. Such persons could then have seen, if they had the mind so to do, what eyebhows are to the face. At least, the sillies who denuded themselves of eyebrows had to put on substitute ones, since the face would be a construction without a pair.

We think this eyebrow world is still, for a good many women, unmined territory. They're not getting out of it what is there. Visualize, if you can, a face without eyebrows. Or, to the other extreme, visualize them twice, three times their depth and width, and think of the resulting hairy-ape resemblance. All of which is mentioned merely to point up eyebrow importance and why we should concentrate more on this facial area. Too many women are unaware of the part eyebrows play in expressive beauty. Some women will spend hours on their eyelashes, tinting them, curling them, scarcely giving the eyebrows the once-over.

The new school of eyebrow care and beauty insists upon their being brushed regularly. Brushed up first with an eyebrow brush, then brushed back from the outer edge and, finally, brushed down smoothly. The object is to stimulate hair growth and to train a neat, clean arch with all the hairs going in one direction. Indeed, as a final rite in the eyebrow dressing, a wee bit of cream smudged on the finger tip and rubbed on is suggested, the better to make them glisten and give life and light to the eyes.

It's always best to keep to the normal, natural line of brow that is your very own, but improve that line as much as possible. If need be, use your pencil to fill out sparse places along the line, or your mascara brush. Don't attempt to convert your eyebrows to a shape foreign to their original design; that is, to raise an extremely high arch where one never normally existed.

The taste for avocados usually is acquired, but once acquired is likely to be insatiable.

The avocado is a peculiar fruit, being bland in flavor, not juicy, and having a high oil content. It is rich in vitamins and minerals. There are supposed to be more than 26,000 varieties of avocado, varying in size, shape, color, and quality. Those now on the market come from California, and are carefully graded and selected for standard quality. The name "calavo," which you see on most of this fruit, stands for "California avocado" and indicates that the avocado so branded is a thorobred, one of the 14 kinds which are cultivated for a wide market.

Test an avocado for eatability by pressing it ever so gently between the palms. If it "gives" a bit, it is ready for the table. If it is hard, leave it at room temperature for a day or two, during which time it will ripen. Never test the fruit by pinching or squeezing, or you'll leave it bruised.

Those of us who love avocados [I'm quick to admit that they're one of my favorite fruits] like them best "on the halfshell or halved and seeded with the skin stripped off. On the halfshell you eat the fruit with a spoon, but if it's been peeled, a fork is the implement. A liberal sprinkling of salt and drizzle of lemon juice or lime juice are the proper dressing. You may prefer a sharp French dressing. That's good, too.

Mayonnaise, being an oily, bland dressing, doesn't offer enough contrast to the oily, bland fruit, but add chili sauce and vinegar or lemon juice to mayonnaise and you have another excellent dressing.

Grapefruit and orange sections often are combined with sliced avocado for salad. Tomato is a good accompaniment, too.

"Guacamole" is the name of an avocado paste popular in Mexico. It is highly seasoned, mashed avocado pulp, and is eaten with tortillas. We like it on canapés and crackers, with cocktails or without. There are many versions, the genuine article being made with chili pepper. Chili powder is a good substitute.,

GUACAMOLE.

Mash the pulp of two fully ripe avocados. Beat it until light. Add a small onion, finely minced, 1 tomato, peeled and mashed, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, salt, and chili powder to season as highly as you like. A little garlic flavor won't come amiss, altho there'll be some of that in the chili powder.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Lace molasses wafers, today's prizewinner, are thin, crisp, and delicate cookies, perfect for a tea party. Mrs. Ida Riggs, 5216 Dorchester avenue, wins the $5 recipe contest award. "I am 75 years old," she writes. "I can remember that to me, as a child, these cookies were better than candy. The recipe is very old."

Every day some good cook wins a $5 prize for an excellent recipe. Send your own choice to Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and watch for the daily winner.

Lace Molasses Wafers.

- 1 cup light molasses
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder

Combine molasses, sugar, and butter in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil for one minute and remove from heat. Add flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. Stir well. Drop mixture from teaspoon onto a buttered baking sheet, leaving plenty of space between wafers. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, for about 10 minutes, or until brown. Remove wafers carefully from baking sheet when cool. The cookies are paper thin and break easily.

Save this for your scrapbook.

The Housewife

One of the neatest household gadgets we've come across recently is a glove for your broom. Made with thick yarn at the end, it fits over the broom and ties on. You use it to dust the upper walls that are so hard to reach, and the moldings and the ceiling. This wall duster can be washed, of course, and is as inexpensive as it is helpful. Keep a couple in your broom closet. EDITH WEIGLE.

MISS' WINTER FROCKS.

White wool is the mid-winter rage and these two patterns are perfectly adapted to it. One model has simulated bertha neckline which is echoed by the low waistline and the sleeve bands. The trimming is merely fancy braid. The other frock uses stitching for adornment around round neckline, armholes and peplum.

Style No. 3484 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material; 3½ yards of braid.

Style No. 3337 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The winter pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 5.—Orson Welles will start shooting "Journey Into Fear" Wednesday, and tomorrow will have a party commemorating the making of a star out of Joe Cotten. Joe will have the lead in "Journey"—the part of an American munitions expert who gets chased by the Nazis in Turkey.

Cotten, who was fine in "Citizen Kane," has the lead in Welles' "The Magnificent Ambersons," which will be shooting until Jan. 23. So he'll shuttle between the two pictures. He is co-author with Welles of the "Journey Into Fear" screen play, based on Eric Ambler's novel. All in all he's been a busy boy, much too busy to drive his automobile, which to the great delight of Hollywood cops and myself is equipped with an old-fashioned street car motorman's bell—the kind you stamp on. Norman Foster will direct "Journey," and Welles probably will play a villain in it.

"The Magnificent Ambersons," which is Booth Tarkington's story of an early Indiana automobile family, promises to be as stunning photographically as was "Kane." Gregg Toland did "Kane" and the new picture is being shot by Stanley Cortez.

Cortez, following Welles' dictum that the camera must move, was shooting a fascinating scene the other day—a scene with no actors. It was to illustrate the return of Tim Holt to the bedraggled, dirty house which once was the family mansion.

The house, complete, two stories high and very ornate, is on a sound stage and has been the setting of "Ambersons" from the beginning. A few weeks ago it was jampacked with awful paintings, knickknacks and overstuffed furniture befitting a millionaire family of 1900s. The other day it was stripped, except for one busted chair, and dirtied up. Holt was supposed to walk thru it.

What we will see is the place thru Tim's eyes. A stage hand has had a sort of table strapped to his shoulders and tummy. Mounted on this table at eye level was a regulation camera weighing 65 pounds without its sound protecting "blimp."

With two men to guide him along a route marked out to the inch; with cameramen following him on six inch wooden clogs to keep the lens in focus; with electricians trailing loops of cable for camera power; with more electricians lightening and darkening rooms as he passes, the stagehand has carried the camera downstairs and up and looked around the house just as Tim Holt would.

This tour has been shot many times, for it must be perfectly steady and the problem of changing the lens focus has been fabulously intricate. . . . And thus the camera goes back to "old stuff," which was the epithet thrown by miffed critics at "Citizen Kane." In Germany and in the early days in New York, cameras were slung on ropes and moved—and a moving camera was as much of a revolution as D. W. Griffith's closeup. Then came the development of the crane, or boom. Universal perfected the first big boom and made a lot of money renting it out. Today studios have all manner of dollies and cranes. . . . But a primitive thing like a stage hand walking with a camera may turn out to be the shot of 1942.

Studios have now been equipped with air raid shelters, and some of the most elaborate are at the Warner plant. Schools now have air raid drills, as well as the customary fire drills. The kids crawl under their desks and lie flat for protection. At Warner's the other day there was an air raid drill. The siren blew and everybody walked to his alloted shelter within three minutes. Everybody, that is, except a pretty secretary in the writers' building. When the siren sounded all the scribes and their staffs headed for shelter, except Dorothy Brooks. Dorothy started off in another direction. "Hey, where are you going?" somebody yelled. "To punch out first on the time clock," she replied.

Hollywood women are going all-out for defense. The other day one movie gal applied for PBX and teletype training. She was sure she was fitted for the job, she said, because she had a new sewing machine and had learned how to run it.

The Warners have made another raid on Broadway and have come up with two prizes. Not only have they bought Lillian Hellman's "The Watch on the Rhine," but they have also engaged Herman Shumlin, producer and director of the play, to direct the film version. Herman, who leaped to fame with his staging of "Grand Hotel," will come here in three or four weeks to confer on the casting of "Rhine."

Opera Is Given as Highlight of Symphony

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A condensation of Donizetti's "Don Pasquale," a 99 year old opera full of bounding humor, was presented in English at the Eight Street theater last night in a curious combination of concert and operatic form.

The singers wore evening dress rather than operatic costume and they held their scores dutifully in their hands, yet at the times they would point up a situation by making gestures and faces at one another just as if they were acting the whole farce out.

Lois Wallner, Edward Stack, Kenneth Morrow, William Tabbert, and Michael Signorelli sang Norina, Pasquale, Ernesto, Malatesta, and the notary, respectively. The orchestra was the Illinois WPA Symphony, and Leo Kopp conducted.

"Don Pasquale," which is virtually never performed in Chicago, was revealed as an authentic comic masterpiece whose music glamorizes, or rather glorifies, a slight and not very plausible story of love, jealousy, mistaken identity, and final triumph.

The delicate and gleeful little tunes, which are the staple of the score, give way at times to sustained and superlatively lovely melodies whose power is cumulative and whose gracious contours convey a wealth of emotional meaning.

Because of his rich and easily produced voice, and because he skilfully used nuance and tone coloring as means of characterization, Mr. Stack probably carried away first honors among the singers. Mr. Kopp conducted with a lightness and flexibility which emphasized the music's blitheness and wonderful aliveness.

"Pasquale" occupied only the post-intermission part of the program. Earlier there were performances of the "Youth" overture by Philip Warner [Chicago composer and pianist] and Schubert's fourth symphony. The former is an attractive, romantic little piece with one especially expressive theme and with a general air of competence and sincerity. The latter is worth an occasional revival if only for the beautiful gravity of its opening adagio and the glorious theme on which its andante is built.

Claudio Arrau, Chilean pianist who appeared with great success with the Chicago Symphony orchestra last Thursday and Friday, has been reengaged by that organization for the concerts for March 5 and 6.

Enrollment Is Up for Lower Grades in Catholic Schools

An upward trend in enrollment in kindergarten and primary Catholic schools of Chicago for the second consecutive year was reported by the Very Rev. Daniel F. Cunningham, superintendent of Catholic schools, to Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch. The report covered 1941 and told of a total enrollment in all Catholic schools and colleges of 190,159 students.

The report cited a loss of 1,676 pupils in the 400 elementary parochial schools during the year, bringing enrollment for those schools to 149,196.

With the increased registrations in kindergarten and first grade schools, the report made it clear that attendance trends now are toward stabilization. In addition the report stated that 73 additional teachers were needed to care for the increases in Catholic high school attendance during the year, totaling 1,066 more than the 1940 figure of 26,883 pupils.

Three new elementary schools and one new high school were reported for the year. These were the Queen of All Saints school in the Sauganash and Lincolnwood districts, St. Vincent Ferrer school, River Forest, and St. Raphael school, 60th and Justine streets. The new high school is at 48th and South Paulina streets.

Stage Notes

"They Can't Get You Down," a musical comedy jointly produced by Jack Kirkland and Dwight Deere Wiman, will open at the Studebaker theater on Jan. 25. It was first staged in Los Angeles, where it met with considerable approval, and stops in Chicago on its way east to New York. Edward Eliscu, Henry Myers, and Jay Gorney, who were responsible for most of the words and music of "Meet the People," have written the new show. The cast includes Jan Clayton, Kenneth Patterson, Glen Turnbull, Peggy Ryan, and Eddie Thompson from the original company of "Meet the People" and Bernie Gould, a leading comic of "Pins and Needles."

On Thursday night the Goodman Memorial theater opens its January production, "Right You Are, If You Think You Are," by the late Italian, Nobel prize winning Luigi Pirandello. The comedy will run thru Jan. 24, with extra performances Thursday afternoon, Jan. 15, and Sunday evening, Jan. 18.

Dainty Luncheon Set

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Here is a crocheted luncheon set which fairly exudes daintiness and charm, as well as an air of fragility and freshness. It has the rather unpretentious title of "fish net" pattern, but when created in fine ecru crochet cotton, and stiffly starched, it has all the regal grandeur of the finest and most elegant of handmade laces. A couple of hanks of inexpensive crochet cotton are all that are required to make a set of four place mats and a runner.

For instructions in crocheting the fish net luncheon set, No. 61, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Gossip Brings Misery to Two Innocent Girls

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

A story has come to our ears of how a diabolical rumor started by a mother, caused two young women, daughters of an acquaintance, the most abject misery. The two girls had been out and had a long trip home. They missed train connections and so this vicious tongue-wagger, coming upon them at an extremely late hour, running to get home, decided they were up to something with no more evidence on which to pin her suspicions than that standing at the corner were two youths of questionable reputation.

The woman spread the story that the girls were out with the two boys, and when they saw her, they took to their heels and ran. That night, to add to the drama, said boys were put under suspicion for a minor neighborhood robbery charge. The girls never even spoke to the boys on the corner, in their haste to get quickly to their own door.

We wonder how a mother of a growing family, girls among them, could so hastily condemn the daughters of another mother without more than a brief [and false] summary of a situation as could be glimpsed from the car in which she was riding. You'd think her first reaction would be to protect the good names of the girls.

In this particular instance we fear fate may show a vindictive hand sooner or later, for this parent is mother of a son due for trouble, it's widely predicted. Fate often does swing back with a stinging blow after good names are reviled. But aside from that, there ought to be, among parents, a code of protection for their young, the other persons' as well as their own.

A mother, particularly, should bite her tongue off before she permits it to broadcast impeachments against the character of another woman's daughter, unless that girl's record were common, proved knowledge and even, then, the good mother would refrain from joining the vicious anvil chorus of gossipers.

Sauciness in Childhood Is Sure to Pass

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Once in a while I get a first letter and then a follow up letter from a mother or a father. Sometimes, and it does give one a lift, a second letter will tell of improvement that followed a bit of advice. At other times a second communication will follow a first one, and tell how troubles cleared up just because the children "outgrew" them.

Sauciness in small children [mostly boys] around 5 distresses a great many mothers. One such discouraged young parent wrote me, saying that her explanations and talks to him had been in vain.

Then a few days later came this second letter:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: It might interest you to know how my problem was solved. I was quite discouraged because nothing I said seemed to make any impression on my boy. Then, one day, he brought one of his 3 year old playmates into the house with him, and when I spoke to her she was very saucy.

"Quick as a wink my boy whirled on her and said: 'Don't you talk that way to my mother! Don't you know she doesn't like it?' Since that day I've had very little trouble with disrespect.

"Sometimes it seems to take the actions of another child to make a youngster realize how it looks and sounds when he does the same things. And O, what a relief it is to know that the things one has been repeating over and over again have really made an impression on their little minds! I firmly believe that if they have been taught right while young, they will meet the emergencies of life in the right way. But, they have to be told."

You can never tell what is going to turn the tide with children. You may talk and explain and show you are hurt, and then start all over again, without apparently making any impression. And then, all of a sudden, some little thing will happen, and it seems as tho suddenly all your work bears fruit.

But it isn't as sudden as it seems. Your efforts haven't been wasted. The leaven has been working all the time. Still, I don't know of anything more salutary to a child than hearing some other youngster say the very same thing he has been reproved for saying.

We have to work on faith so much with children. And we have to allow somewhat, too, for the fact that, like the heavenly bodies, they pass thru phases.

How can you amuse the convalescent child? What is the most difficult age? How may stubbornness be prevented? These and other problems are discussed in "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid, 18 cents.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

A certain New York foursome that plays regularly each week includes a man who has had to take quite a lot of kidding all his life because of a pronounced lisp. After the hand described below occurred, however, it was his turn to laugh.

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
4 no trump*	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

*4-5 no trump convention.

I have recorded North's first response as two spades, because that was the bid he actually made. South, however, could have sworn that North said "three spades," and, of course, South's subsequent bidding proved that he was depending on North for considerable strength. North, blissfully unaware of partner's misunderstanding, kept the ball rolling, with the result that a slam contract, which had about one chance in a hundred of succeeding, was reached.

After West had opened the club king and the dummy went down, South demanded in no uncertain terms to be told how North could have given a double raise with such horrible distribution and only two honor tricks. North protested vehemently that he had not bid three spades over one, and at this stage of the proceedings the declarer heartily cursed North's speech impediment. He could not know that the prankish gods had prepared a rare feast for him.

Winning with the club ace, declarer grimly took the diamond finesse, which held. He then led the queen of spades and overtook with dummy's king, after which he ruffed a club. He next led the spade eight and overtook with the nine. Trumps breaking, he ruffed dummy's last club, then laid down the ace and a low diamond. Not only did this suit break also, but East could not avoid taking the lead, and now could make no return that would defeat the contract. Obviously, a club return would have permitted declarer to discard one heart while he ruffed with dummy's spade deuce, then to discard his other losing heart on dummy's 13th diamond. The heart return that East actually selected was just as satisfactory to the declarer, who let it ride to the heart queen. The diamond then provided a discard for declarer's other losing heart, and the contract was cold.

Obviously, miraculous breaks were required for declarer to avoid losing two tricks. And as soon as the defenders had recovered their voices they bitterly discussed the advisability of sending North, at their own expense, to a doctor who might be able to correct his lisp!

THE Kitchen Kibitzer

Better lower the oven temperature a bit for that chocolate cake. Chocolate scorches easily, and usually it's better to bake the brown cake and cookies at about 25 degrees under the temperature for non-chocolate goodies.

• • •

Nothing much for a salad, huh? Well, how about grating some of those crisp carrots and adding a few chopped olives, a little chopped pickle and some mayonnaise? Good, and good for you!

• • •

Careful in washing those lovely china plates! Better buy a rubber mat for the bottom of the dishpan and a rubber cover for the faucet if you use the sink for soaping. A chip would be heartbreaking.

• • •

Another hint or two about china: Be sure to keep mats between the dinner plates when you stack them, so they won't scratch each other. And don't stack those cups! Oh, I know you're short of cupboard room, but there must be some way to give 'em space!

• • •

'Sa good idea to buy vitamin-enriched breakfast cereals. There are several kinds to choose from, including enriched farina, and whole grain cereals.

• • •

Reason cheese gets stringy when you cook it is that you use too much heat, or cook it too long. Cheese is as sensitive to heat as eggs. Gets tough when you treat it rough.

• • •

Does your tomato soup curdle? Here's how to prevent it: Blend butter and flour, add strained tomatoes and cook until thickened. Pour the hot mixture into the cold milk, gradually, stirring all the time. Heat to boiling, season as you wish, and serve.

N. U. BEATS MINNESOTA; PURDUE, IOWA WIN

C. Y. O. FIGHTERS TO CLASH FOR TITLES TONIGHT

CHAMPIONS TO DEFEND CROWNS IN 3 DIVISIONS

18 Bouts Climax Tournament.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Twenty-six of the finest amateur boxers in this section will meet for eight championships in the 11th annual tournament sponsored by the Catholic Youth organization in CYO center, 31 East Congress street, tonight. Eighteen bouts are scheduled, 10 in the semi-final round and eight in the championship bracket. The first contest will start at 8 o'clock.

Al Noto.

Nichols to Face Vera.

Dawson defeated Henry Nichols to win his championship, but Nichols will vie for the vacated featherweight title this evening. His opponent will be Henry Vera.

The Dawson-White and Nichols-Vera encounters—the only championship events already established—are expected to develop into two of the most exciting fights on the lengthy card. Vera, former novice Golden Gloves bantamweight champion, is determined to win his first open championship, which should be bad news for Nichols. Altho Dawson carries a hard punch, White's superior boxing ability gives him a fine chance to become the new 118 pound title holder.

135 pounds—Pat Cianci, Al Reasoner, Od Thomas, Melvin Johnson.
147 pounds—Joe Dugo, James Hunt, Pedros Louis, Jim Martin.
175 pounds—Harry Stephens, Hubert Hood, Blaze Zorich, Ed Kaminski.

Prepare for Golden Gloves.

Winners of this evening's battles will be eligible for the annual Illinois Athletic club and Golden Gloves tournaments. The IAC meet opens in the IAC gymnasium, 112 South Michigan avenue, Jan. 20.

Tonight's contestants will report at CYO center gymnasium between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon to be weighed in and examined. Drawings will be held at 7 p. m.

Thomas O'Connell, CYO boxing director, is making arrangements to handle a capacity crowd of more than 1,000. Tickets are priced at 75 cents. There are no reserved seats.

EARL JUUL, 48, FORMER PITCHER OF CUBS, DIES

Earl H. Juul, son of the late Congressman Niels Juul, died yesterday in Hines hospital. He was 48 years old, and lived in the Park Gate hotel, 1535 North California avenue. Mr. Juul served in the army air corps during the first World war. Before the war he played professional baseball, serving with the Chicago Cubs and other teams as a pitcher.

Mr. Juul was in the sales business at his death. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Weylander, and a brother, Niels. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 201 Lake street, Maywood. Burial will be in Mount Olive cemetery.

Hawaiian CYO Boxer Dies in Honolulu Raid

Thomas O'Connell, Catholic Youth organization boxing director, yesterday received word from Willie Minn, lightweight member of the Hawaiian team, which met CYO boxers in an intersectional match in Chicago last Sept. 17, that Paul Inamine, his flyweight stablemate, was killed during an air raid in Honolulu. Inamine was defeated by Harold Dade of the CYO in the 1941 tournament.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 5.—Altho General Manager James T. Gallagher continues to insist that the Cubs will train on Catalina Island again next spring, well informed sources here [to borrow from the war bulletins] announce that club officials have made inquiries as to accommodations in this charming Texas city. . . . Chairman Sheldon Clark of the Illinois Athletic commission, who paid for a ticket to the recent Sammy Angott-Lew Jenkins battle in New York, said he considered it the poorest investment of his long career in sports. . . . Julien Brignac, 165 pound Lutcher [La.] boy, was the unsung hero of the 1941 Tulane football team. . . . Red Dawson said he had been trying for years to locate a back who could run to his left and Julien was the answer to his prayer. . . . Doc Romnes, former star of the Chicago Blackhawks, is doing very well as coach of the hockey sextet at Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton. . . . Ned Day, national match game champion, will bowl in all 1942 tournaments as a member of the Blue Ribbons of Milwaukee. . . . Ned replaces the late Rudy Reipel. . . . Tony Zale is the first undisputed champion of the middleweights in the last three years, not in the last ten, as a lot of sports writers have announced. . . . The muddled situation had its inception in 1938 after Fred Apostoli scored a ninth round technical knockout over Freddy Steele of Seattle, then possessor of the belt, in an overweight match. . . . When Mike Jacobs' efforts to induce Steele to risk the title in a rematch proved futile, the New York commission relieved Freddy of the prize. . . . The National Boxing association, however, refused to concur, chiefly because Jacobs was said to have sought exclusive rights to Steele in exchange for a return bout with Apostoli. . . .

Most college press agents [pardon, publicitors] feel it is their duty to soft pedal the affairs of their alma maters when things are not breaking just right. . . . Not so the lad at the University of Omaha who prefaces his weekly basketball release with "A checkup on the records of the 1941 part of the season shows that the University of Omaha basketball team has won one game and lost five." . . . Such candor deserves recognition. . . . All eight forward candidates on Northwestern's basketball squad are sophomores. . . . Army Orders Silver Skates Thru Gadus

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Steve Gadus, tall, husky Chicago ice skating star, is back at his post this morning in the quartermaster corps at Scott field near St. Louis. Steve is receiving the congratulations of his buddies for his fine performances in two meets over the week-end, but the potential radio experts of the air corps training at that base are anxiously awaiting the day the Chicagoan returns triumphantly from the Silver Skates Derbies, which will be held under the auspices of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in Garfield park Jan. 17 and 18.

Scott field cannot match the record of Great Lakes Naval Training station in basketball, but the fellows quartered in the downstate Illinois post are certain they have the champion ice skater of service centers in the middle west. They believe Steve will prove as unconquerable on the ice rink as they will in radio communications work, which they are studying to operate the sets in Uncle Sam's fast expanding air forces. Steve, too, is confident that the predictions of the airmen are not full of static.

Needs Change of Pace.

Gadus has seen victory slip from his grasp in the final yards of the Silver Skates Derbies and other important meets. These disappointing efforts were due to his failure to pace himself properly in the long races. Gadus had acquired a habit to display a sudden burst of speed during the early stages of a two mile event, then fall back when rival competitors charged desperately near the finish line. Steve believes he will not duplicate his performance in the Silver Skates last winter when he raced to the front of the field shortly after the gun barked, then faded.

Steve's capture of third place last year is considered quite an achieve-

OFFICIALS CALL OFF RACE MEET AT SANTA ANITA

Action Follows Talk with Army Men.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—War conditions in the Pacific, which caused the transfer of the annual New Year's day Rose bowl football game to the Atlantic seaboard, resulted today in cancellation of Santa Anita Park's 1942 horse racing season.

So far, however, the scheduled start Friday of the $10,000 Los Angeles Open Golf tournament has not been affected.

Opening of Santa Anita's season, originally set for Dec. 31, was postponed in the hope war conditions eventually might bring a lifting of the ban, but today Dr. Charles H. Strub, general manager, said the park must, "in fairness to the horsemen stabled here, call off this meeting so that they may make arrangements to race elsewhere if they so desire."

$1,160,000 Plans Go Awry.

"On the other hand," he added, "the track will be kept open to those who wish to stay to take their chances of racing being opened sometime in the future."

Track officials had arranged the richest meeting of the plant's history, with purses and stakes totaling approximately $1,160,000. The annual $100,000 Santa Anita handicap had drawn the largest number of nominations since the track first began operations. More than 1,400 horses have been quartered at the plant.

Strub's statement, issued after his return from a San Francisco conference with Lieut. Gen. John L. De Witt, commanding officer of the 4th army, stated:

"The directors of Santa Anita are in accord with me in offering all-out coöperation with our government in this crisis. We want the public to look upon this cancellation not as punishment or a restriction of their pleasure but a necessary decree by the governing forces of the United States.

Money to Be Refunded.

"Just as rapidly as possible, all monies for tickets, boxes, memberships, nomination fees, together with tax, will be refunded, starting today. This probably will take a week or so, but will be carried forward in an expeditious and orderly manner."

Several prominent owners already had withdrawn their horses from the park. These included the Millsdale, Strube and Collins contingent, and a portion of the Charles S. Howard stable.

Among the horses now here, which are nominated for the $50,000 Widener Stakes event at Hialeah Park, Miami, Fla., on March 7, are Mioland, Pictor, Porter's Cap, Cis Marion, and Challedon.

Gen. De Witt earlier canceled temporarily the race meetings at three northern California plants, the first of which had scheduled a race program for mid-March.

Pioneers of Baseball in Chicago

The above tablet, a baseball showing the names of four of the member clubs of the original National league, stands today in Chicago's Graceland cemetery. It was erected to the memory of William A. Hulbert, the Chicagoan who is known as the Father of the National League, after his death in April, 1882. On the other side are the names of the other four clubs—Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, and Buffalo. At the time of the inscription these eight clubs were the league members, the personnel having changed since its foundation in 1876. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

William A. Hulbert was the Chicagoan who was most instrumental in the founding of the National league in a New York meeting in February, 1876. He was president of the White Stockings and served as league president for six years.

Gen. Philip H. Sheridan of Civil war fame and long prominent in Chicago was one of the vice presidents of the first professional club here, as founded in 1869.

Potter Palmer I., first member of the famed Chicago family, was president of the first Chicago professional baseball club, founded in the old Briggs house on Oct. 12, 1869.

A City and a Sports Department

(The Tribune Grows Up with Chicago)

[This is the third of a series of articles on the highlights of the development of sports in Chicago, with especial reference to the part the Tribune sports department played in reporting them.]

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

"A MEETING of gentlemen interested in securing a first class professional baseball club for Chicago was held at the Briggs house last night. About 50 attended. Mr. S. W. Tanner was called to the chair to state the purpose of the meeting—the perfecting of an organization which would get together a professional baseball nine; a nine which would play ball and nothing else; a nine which would beat the world. A price of $10,000 was suggested as necessary to secure and maintain such an organization. The meeting was adjourned until Thursday next."—From THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of Oct. 2, 1869.

Followed another adjournment on the aforesaid Thursday, and then on Columbus day of that year, the first professional baseball organization in Chicago actually was formed in the same Briggs house [All right, all right, if you don't remember the Briggs house it stood exactly where the present Steuben club, Randolph and Wells streets, is now]. The president of the organization, known as the Chicago Base Ball club, was no less a renowned Chicagoan than Potter Palmer. Among the vice presidents were Samuel Medill, brother of Joseph, the prime moving spirit in the development of THE TRIBUNE. At one time Mr. Samuel was such a good sporting reporter that he was known as "one of the best in the west." Still another vice president was Gen. Phil Sheridan who, if you remember your Civil war history, jockeyed several furlongs to Winchester, Va.

Opening on the Road Seemed to Be Custom.

As the original White Stockings, forerunners of the present Cubs did, this first Chicago team opened on the road. They whipped the New Orleans Atlantics on the latter's home grounds on May 6, 1870, by the score, incredible then or now, of 51 to 0. The game started at 4 p. m. It also is interesting to note that in those days a runless inning carried the line "Whitewash No. 1, 2, 3, 4, etc." at the end of each play by play account.

The game progressed on a pickup basis until Oct. 24, 1875, when THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE of that date let fly with a story on the baseball situation of the times. In those days, sports authors apparently were permitted to take full swing at the ball, for there was nothing mincing about the manner in which The Tribune man lashed out at a number of abuses which, he contended, were endangering the life of the game. It was on an article of a something-must-be-done nature.

Eastern Clubs Liked to Stay at Home, It Seems.

Chief objection cited in the story was the habit eastern clubs had formed of not traveling westward to play, since the home club always took two-thirds of the gate receipts. The Tribune man suggested a compact league arrangement by which only

Northwestern's basketball team continued in its rôle of giant killer by dealing Minnesota its first defeat of the season, 49 to 38, before a capacity crowd of 3,000 in Evanston High school gymnasium last night.

After the lead had shifted repeatedly during a first half in which neither team was able to gain more than a two point advantage and which ended with the Wildcats clinging to a 16 to 15 edge, the Purple gradually pulled away to a comfortable margin in the closing minutes.

Otto Graham, Northwestern sophomore, again paced his team's attack with 20 points on seven field goals and six free throws. The agile Waukegan lad scored the first points of the game on a tip-in shot and wound up the night's scoring by dribbling in for a basket just as the final gun sounded.

Clason Gets 11 Points.

The Wildcats again used the same seven players who formed the winning combination against Indiana Saturday. Capt. Henry Clason, Graham's running mate at forward, scored 11 points and Russ Wendland, a guard, rolled up 13 points on five baskets and three free throws.

Don Smith, Minnesota's veteran forward, was high scorer for the losers with 12 points. He initiated a belated Gopher rally in the closing period which accounted for seven straight points.

Lead Shifts Frequently.

The lead alternated four times in the first half as both teams kept within striking distance of each other. With the score tied at 15-all, Wendland dropped in a free throw just before the gun to give the Wildcats a one point lead.

The Gophers clung to this one point deficit for the first five minutes of the second period. Then Clason and Wendland hit in succession to open a gap which the visitors never overcame.

INDIANA WINS, 38 TO 34

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 5 [Special].—Dropping in four baskets in the last three minutes of the first half, Indiana's basketball team took a 17 to 14 lead and maintained its advantage thruout the remainder of the game to beat Wisconsin, 38 to 34, tonight.

Up until the Hoosiers hit their fast breaking stride, the Badgers held the upper hand and a 14 to 11 lead. Big Ed Denton, Indiana center, started the scoring spurt with a short shot. Warren Lewis and Andy Zimmer followed with long ones, and Denton connected again to give the Hoosiers their 3 point advantage at the intermission.

Zimmer's basket and free throws by Irvin Swanson and Dick Wittenbraker increased the Indiana lead to 22 to 14, before Edward Scheiwe scored for the Badgers in the second half. Scheiwe led a Wisconsin rally midway in the period, but the Hoosiers managed to stay in front altho leading at one stage by only one point. Scheiwe paced the scoring with 14 points on five baskets and four free throws.

FEAR COLLAPSE IN LEAGUE OF STATE COLLEGES

Augustana Seeks Place in Midwest Conference.

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 5 [Special].—The collapse of the Illinois College conference was forecast in some circles today after it was learned that one of the members, Augustana, had petitioned for enrollment in the Midwest conference, seeking the membership relinquished by Carleton college of Minnesota.

Definite action on the petition is expected at the Midwest's meeting in May. Present members of this circuit are Coe, Cornell, and Grinnell of Iowa; Beloit, Lawrence and Ripon of Wisconsin, and Knox and Monmouth of Illinois.

Cite Lack of Unity.

Monmouth and Knox also belong to the Illinois College conference, but apparently value their membership in the Midwest more highly. The majority of their athletic contests are with Midwest rivals.

Bradley Tech of the ICC met only one league opponent, Illinois Wesleyan, in football last fall and scheduled only three conference basketball games.

The ICC was formed by 10 colleges which withdrew from the so-called Little 19 conference, now composed of only six members for football competition. The ICC never has installed a rotating schedule such as the Little 19 and Midwest groups support.

Freshman Rules Conflict.

The Illinois college group works under a halfway freshman rule. No freshmen are allowed to participate in conference football and basketball games, but may be used in nonconference games. Moreover they are eligible for baseball and track competition.

The freshman rule was one of the causes for the formation of the league. Teachers colleges of the state, now comprising the Little 19, refused to deny their students four years of varsity competition. Since the advent of war there has been renewed agitation by some members of the ICC to abolish the freshman rule. Their squads have been greatly diminished by the draft and defense work.

Augies Favor New Rule.

Athletic Director Lee Brissman of Augustana is in favor of discarding the freshman rule at least for the duration of the war. The future of intercollegiate activities at Augustana, as at many other smaller colleges, is clouded by the war issue.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Topee, $6.60 straight, $4.50 place, $3.20 show; Unknown Land, $7.30 place, $4.40 show; Grand Central, $3.60 show.

TOPEE began to move up around turn, rushed into lead in stretch, and drew away easily. UNKNOWN LAND displayed excellent speed and held on gamely. GRAND CENTRAL closed a big gap. DEAR YANKEE had early speed. GALLANT PLAY ran good race. OVERSIGHT performed poorly.

EIGHTH RACE—Purse $1,000. Four year olds and up. One mile and 70 yards. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 5:25. Off at 5:26. Winner, ch. g., 5, by Reigh Count-Daunt by Luculite. Owner, I. Bieber. Trainer, H. Jacobs. Time, :22 2-5, :46 1-5, 1:11 3-5, 1:37 4-5, 1:42 4-5.

Chicago's public and Catholic prep quintets begin their quests for league basketball championships today. Five junior games and a double header between Calumet and Hirsch on the latter's court will be played in the Public School league. The Catholic league's opening program will include six double headers. Leo High, defending champion in both the junior and senior divisions, drew a bye in the starting round.

Marshall, 1940-'41 Public School league junior titleholder, will open its campaign for a second successive championship against Foreman in the Foreman gymnasium. The Marshall juniors still boast their record of 45 consecutive victories, altho four members of the squad were in the lineup of the tournament team which lost to Du Sable in the Midway fieldhouse last Saturday.

The football committee of the National High School federation will open its annual meeting in the Morrison hotel Thursday. . . . West Rockford will travel to West Aurora in the only Big Eight conference basketball game scheduled tonight. . . . Ray Adams, De Paul academy coach, keeps in condition by practicing with his basketball quintets. . . . Adams occasionally sinks a long shot. . . . Bill Shea, St. Philip forward, is among the entrants in the Silver Skates Derbies. . . . Morton High will seek its fifth straight Suburban league triumph against New Trier in Winnetka Friday night. . . .

BEARS, GIANTS LOSE $5,401 ON NAVY BENEFIT

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—It cost the Chicago Bears and New York Giants $5,401.62 to earn $26,654.84 for the Navy Relief society in Sunday's pro all-star game at the Polo Grounds.

The two clubs shared equally in the loss altho the Giants' part in the game was only to furnish the invitation to use the grounds, a few players, and Steve Owen to coach the All-Stars, who lost, 35 to 24, to the Bears.

Financial details were announced today after a check for half the net receipts was presented to Rear Adm. Adolphus J. Andrews by Tim and Wellington Mara of the Giants. The navy's share included $1,000, representing a half share in the radio receipts, and $125 in donations.

The pros received $26,529.83 and ran up expenses of $31,931.45 to stage the game. Largest items in this total were $12,979.80 for the Chicago team's expenses, $11,004.32 for the All-Stars' expenses, and $3,829.47 rental for the baseball park.

WILSON JUNIOR TO MEET GEORGE WILLIAMS TODAY

The Wilson Junior college basketball team, victorious in five of six starts, will open the 1942 portion of its schedule this afternoon against George Williams college in the Wilson gymnasium at 3:15 o'clock. George Schnackenberg, ex-Hyde Park High school star, is leading the Wilson scorers with 55 points.

Has His Orders

Private Steve Gadus, who finished third in last year's Silver Skates Derbies, has been ordered by his buddies at Scott Field near St. Louis to bring home a pair of silver skates this year.

Army Orders Silver Skates Thru Gadus

ment since he finished behind two of the world's leading performers—Bernie Cannata of the Catholic Youth organization, winner of the event, and Leo Freisinger, veteran Olympic star, now coach of the CYO squad, who took second place. It was in the final half mile that Steve lost the race, the Scott field representative having led the pack for several laps. A few days later Gadus received orders to report to the army air corps radio post.

They Want Those Skates.

"I am deeply grateful to the officers at Scott field for their permission to participate in skating meets in the Chicago district over week-ends," said Gadus. "Of course, it means doubling up on my work during the week to make that possible, but I hope to bring back several championships to Scott field. I particularly must return with a pair of Silver Skates. The fellows at the post already have set aside a place for them. I've been enjoying myself immensely at Scott field, but life will be very unpleasant if I don't come back with those Silver Skates."

Gadus, a graduate of Tilden Technical High school, is 22 years old. He was a member of two of Tilden's championship ice skating teams. He won third place in the half mile event of the Public School league meet in 1935. The following year he entered the senior mile race and again finished third. In 1937 Steve was just a few yards behind Bobby Sherman in the 880 yard race in the national meet. Sherman had to break the United States record to beat out Gadus in that event.

He's Better on Indoor Rinks.

Steve already is the possessor of a pair of bronze skates his award for finishing third in THE TRIBUNE's 1941 meet. His collection also includes 40 medals. He was runner-up in the Tri-State carnival in Elgin last season, and plans to return there this coming week-end. He started preparations for the 1942 Silver Skates by participating in several indoor races in St. Louis, 23 miles west of Scott field. Gadus has found better success on indoor rinks than outdoors.

Gadus likes only one other sport—softball. He played on a Scott field team last summer, and his slugging and fly chasing played an important part in leading the squad to the finals for the post championship. Steve's outfit failed to get the trophy emblematic of the title, but all will be well in the quartermaster corps at Scott field when the Chicagoan returns with the Silver Skates come Jan. 19.

SOONER STAR'S STATUS PUT UP TO KANSAS STATE

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 5 (AP).—Gerald Tucker's participation in basketball—which has created a furor on the eve of the Big Six season—now needs only the approval of Kansas State, the school he left in the fall of 1940 to enroll at Oklahoma.

The conference faculty committee, after a four-hour session today, clarified the status of the Winfield, Kas., athlete in regard to the Big Six residence regulation.

Tucker was declared ineligible until the close of the current semester, Jan. 28. At that time the sophomore center, who has scored 7 points in five games, will have completed a full academic year, consisting of two full semesters at the Sooner school. This will establish his residence under the Big Six code.

Committee Is Mum on Rule Change Plans

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 5 (AP).—The national collegiate football rules committee remained in executive session today in the most appropriate place in the country for its private deliberations—in the shadow of Mummy mountain.

This odd stack of red rock, its name a hangover from the Indians, lies back of Camelback inn and the inn is where the rules group is in conference.

Spirits said to haunt Mummy mountain had nothing on the rules committee, which had nothing to say.

See Few Changes.

"And we won't have until the last session," said Chairman Walter R. Okeson. He emphasized that the committee was in a conservative frame of mind, however, and hoped to keep intact present rules as much as possible.

"One rule change may disturb four other rules, so we have to be very careful," Okeson added. He intimated that they have more than 50 suggested changes to consider.

Sees Benefit in Switch.

He believes that the suggestion of giving a team scored upon an opportunity to switch goals might prove effective in a wind.

The offense might be aided, too, by the recommendation governing the penalty assessed for a lateral pass illegally tossed forward. Instead of bringing the ball back to the line of scrimmage, the change would bring a five yard penalty from the point of the lateral violation.

Ball Writers Hold Annual Party Tonight

Members of the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers association will turn giddier than usual tonight for their 4th annual diamond dinner. The writers and guests to the number of 500 will assemble in the Terrace Casino of the Morrison hotel at 6:30 p. m. for the liquid course of a program that will move from there to the feed bag and thence to a series of mirthladen and educational acts.

Baseball notables will be all over the place, some of them lending a hand from behind the footlights. Charley Grimm, Milwaukee manager, bringing the newest of his creations, arrived yesterday for advance consultation with his favorite stooge—Robert C. Lewis, traveling secretary for the Cubs. Joe Kuhel, White Sox first baseman whose act is shrouded in mystery, will arrive this morning. Jim Wilson, Cub manager reported to headquarters yesterday but will limit himself to the rôle of spectator.

The American association will combine business with pleasure during the day and evening. Led by President George M. Trautman, the A. A. club owners will hold a business session. Altogether, the association group will number about 30. The Cincinnati club will be represented by General Manager Warren Giles and Secretary Gabriel Paul and the St. Louis Browns by Vice President William De Witt.

Pete Reiser, the National league batting champion, who was picked as the rookie of the year by the Chicago chapter, will be presented with the J. Louis Comiskey memorial trophy. The winner of this award last year was Lou Boudreau, now manager of the Indians.

WILLIAMS AGAIN AWARDED BOSTON WRITERS' TROPHY

Boston, Mass., Jan. 5 (AP).—Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox's American league batting champion, today was voted the award made annually to Boston's most valuable major league player by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

This trophy, dedicated to a deceased Boston baseball writer, will be known as the "Jake Morse Memorial" this year and will be presented to Williams during the writers' annual dinner on Jan. 28. Williams was similarly honored two years ago and thereby becomes the first repeater in the chapter's history.

DODGER ROOKIE SHORTSTOP'S IN THE NAVY NOW

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—Claude Corbitt, smart fielding rookie shortstop whom the Dodgers bought from their Montreal farm club last September, informed Brooklyn club officials today that he has enlisted in the navy. Corbitt, a resident of Sunbury, N. C., enlisted in Raleigh, N. C.

Dodger officials regarded Corbitt as sure to remain with the club thru the 1942 season and conceded him a chance to beat out Pee Wee Reese for the regular shortstop position.

Shift Amateur to Chicago, Mayor Urges

Mayor Kelly and Avery Brundage, first vice president in charge of special events for the Chicago Association of Commerce, yesterday joined in the move to transfer the 1942 National Amateur Golf tournament from Pebble Beach, Cal., to Chicago because of the war situation. Both the mayor and Mr. Brundage sent telegrams to the officers of the United States Golf association, which will hold its annual meeting and election of officers in New York City Friday and Saturday.

George S. May, president of the Tam o' Shanter club, and his board of directors already have extended an invitation to the USGA to merge the national amateur with the $15,000 Tam o' Shanter Open, richest open event in the world. Merle Macbein Mr. May's personal representative, is leaving today for New York to repeat the invitation.

It Isn't Unanimous!

Pebble Beach authorities, in the meantime, have indicated that they will fight any move to transfer the tournament from Pebble Beach, which was awarded the event several months ago, before the war broke out.

Mayor Kelly's telegram was sent to the five officers of the USGA: President Harold W. Pierce; Vice President George W. Blossom Jr., the Chicagoan who will take office as president in Saturday's meeting; Vice President Morton G. Bogue, Secretary Frank M. Hardt, and Treasurer Jess W. Sweetser.

The Case For Chicago.

The telegram read as follows:

"On behalf of the citizens of Chicago I respectfully urge the officers and members of the United States Golf association to consider the merits of Chicago as the site for the 1942 National Amateur Golf tournament. Amateur sports at this time are valuable aids to wartime morale, and should be supported. Chicago offers you a central location unequealed transportation and hotel facilities, and the support of many thousands of enthusiastic but well mannered sports fans."

Assign Alsab 109 Pounds in Widener Stake

Miami, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP).—Mrs. Albert Sabath's Alsab, the 1941 juvenile champion, will be assigned an impost of 109 pounds if his owner decides to enter him in the $50,000 added Widener stake at Hialeah Park March 7.

Top impost among the 90 thorobreds eligible for the event was assigned to Circle M. ranch's Big Pebble, last year's winner by Charles J. McLennan, racing secretary and handicapper. However, it is regarded as certain that Big Pebble, weighted at 129, will not be entered.

Winner Is Injured.

He had to be withdrawn from racing because of an injured tendon and has been shipped to Circle M.'s newly acquired Slickaway farm, near Lexington, Ky., for stud purposes.

Next behind Big Pebble in the weight allotments were Charles S. Howard's Mioland with 128 pounds; W. L. Brann's Challedon and Pictor and Samuel D. Riddle's War Relic, each with 126 pounds.

Three Are on Coast.

Mioland, Challedon, Pictor, and Kayak II. are in California, but it is believed possible that at least one will be brought here for the Widener.

Considerable Widener interest will center around four 4 year olds—War Relic, Market Wise, Attention, and Our Boots—each of which holds a decision over Warren Wright's Whirlaway.

SENATE VOTES MILLER O. K. AS U. S. ATTORNEY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—A football minded senate judiciary committee didn't hesitate long today in approving President Roosevelt's nomination of a United States attorney for the northern district of Ohio today.

Chairman Van Nuys [D., Ind.] explained that the nominee, Donald C. Miller of Cleveland, was one of the famed Four Horsemen who made football history at Notre Dame.

"It made quite a hit with the committee," Van Nuys told reporters afterward.

The committee also approved the nominations of William A. Holzheimer, Noel K. Wennblom, and Ralph J. Rivers to be district attorneys for the first, third, and fourth divisions, respectively, of the district of Alaska.

BOWLERS MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR CHARITY MATCH

Classic League Teams Will Meet Randolph.

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Arrangements for the inter-league bowling battle of the season, the match between the Classic and Randolph circuits at Bowling Lanes Saturday night, have been completed. Seven teams from the Classic league will meet a like number from Randolph. The Red Cross will be the beneficiary. As an added attraction, the Goransons of the Congress women's league, will clash with the Double Colas, defending women's city champions. Seats probably will sell at $1 and standing room at 50 cents.

Because of previous commitments the Mineralites of the Randolph league and National Bowling Equipment of the Classic will be unable to compete, otherwise the seven leading teams of each circuit will meet each other. The lineup, with the Classic team mentioned first in each instance:

Schlitz vs. Budweisers; Pabst Blue Ribbon vs. Burlington Zephyrs; Monarch Beers vs. Chapin & Gore; Koenig Brau vs. Joseph L. Gills; Blatz vs. Gold Crown Beer; Ambrosia vs. Joseph J. Butlers; Washington Shirts vs. Bireley's Beverages.

Other Benefit Scheduled.

Another Red Cross benefit match will bring Herb Freitag and Joe Sinke of the Pabsts into competition with Paul Krumske of Schlitz and Adolph Carlson of the Gills after the Classic league matches at Marigold Arcade Wednesday night. Foby Rankin will give an exhibition of his bowling imitations as an added attraction.

Out of town teams had returned home yesterday after leaving most of the money offered in the week-end sweepstakes at Ray Schalk's Evergreen Towers and Gold Coast recreation in Chicago. Biggest money winners were the Monarch Beers who took first prize, $1,200, on a 4,121 total in four games at Gold Coast and fourth, $400, on a 3,820 count at Schalk's. They have placed in all of the six Schalk events.

Two Teams Win $1,100.

Tied for second were Chicago Recreation and the Gills, each with $1,100 won. Chicago Recreation, little known as name teams go, was without question the week-end's No. 1 outfit, winning the Schalk sweeper in a field of 120 of the country's best teams. It earned its $1,100 by bowling 4,044, just 128 pins more than the Gills rolled in gaining second place. The team is sponsored by Al Suva, proprietor of Chicago Recreation at 3937 West 26th street, who has been backing teams for 22 years.

The Gills' second place total of 3,916 at Schalk's won them $700, and they earned $400 more by taking third on a 4,091 count at Gold Coast. The Schlitz Classic league team also cashed in in both events, winning $325 by taking seventh place at Schalk's and $237.50 by tying for fourth at Gold Coast. Stroh's Bohemian Beers of Detroit won $800, second money at Gold Coast, and missed tying for the last two places at Schalk's by three pins.

PEDEN BROTHERS DROP TO SECOND AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5 (AP).—Bill Anderson of Cleveland and Charley Yaccino of Chicago sprinted into the lead tonight in Milwaukee's six day bike race, which passed its 75th hour at midnight. The new leaders gained a lap on the field during the 73d hour sprints to break a five way tie for the mileage lead. The brother team of Doug and Torchy Peden had held a margin on points since opening day. Standings at midnight at the end of 75 hours:

	Miles.	Laps.	Points.
Anderson and Yaccino	1,113	9	229
Peden and Peden	1,113	8	328
Yates and Audy	1,113	8	297
De Bacco and Rodman	1,113	8	244
Letourner and Bergna	1,113	8	210
Logan and Eiler	1,113	7	106
Carfagnini and Kuehn	1,113	5	204
Debaets and Wissel	1,113	4	88

Leader—Anderson.

EXPECT RUTH TO LEAVE HOSPITAL LATE THIS WEEK

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—Babe Ruth was resting comfortably today and recovering rapidly from the extreme nervousness that necessitated his removal to a hospital early Saturday. Mrs. Ruth, wife of the man who once was paid $80,000 a year for playing baseball, said "he was getting along fine" and that she expected him to be released late this week.

A narrow escape in a car accident during the holidays, when his car was wrecked, and a heavy dieting program during which he lost 37 pounds in a few weeks, brought about the nervousness, a physician said. Ruth also is suffering from a heavy cold.

nine clubs would play, and which would make permanent a regular schedule of 80 games a year, making 40 home contests for each city in the league.

Reported on Formation of National League.

That Tribune suggestion apparently was not without merit, for the solid western clubs, led by William A. Hulbert of Chicago, who has since been recognized as the "Father of the National league," made it a point for action. Mr. Hulbert, then president of the Chicago club and later to continue as boss of the White Stockings until his death in 1882, was a leading proponent of a regular league at a meeting in 1876.

THE TRIBUNE took a bow for itself in being the only Chicago newspaper to report the organization of what is now the National league in a telegraphic dispatch, the first lines of which follow from the issue of Feb. 5, 1876, under a New York date line:

"The most important measure ever adopted by the professional baseball clubs of this country has been considered and approved by a council of the representatives of the eight principal clubs of the country, in session at the Grand Central hotel. The new scheme, which is designed to elevate baseball to the rank of a legitimate amusement, is the formation of a new association of professional baseball clubs on the débris of the old National association. The member clubs are Hartford, the New York Mutuals, Chicago White Stockings, Boston, Philadelphia Athletics, Cincinnati, Louisville, and St. Louis."

HERE'S A POINT IN BAER'S FAVOR: HE'S NOT AFRAID

He'll Try Hard Against Joe Louis, Record Indicates.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lakewood, N. J., Jan. 5.—Buddy Baer boxed four rounds this afternoon on the stage of the Palace theater as he began his final preparations for a second effort to grab the heavyweight crown owned by Joe Louis. Buddy will box three rounds tomorrow and two Wednesday and rest completely the following day.

While Madison Square Garden is not now sold out, it probably will be before Friday. Thus with the top price of $30 for ringside locations, Promoter Mike Jacobs expects to achieve his goal of a donation of $225,000 to the Navy Relief society fund. The champion, defending his title for the 20th time, is donating his services. Buddy will receive a portion of the sum he might normally expect, and since most agree that he will be knocked out it seems logical to pay him for his punishment.

Baer Discounts Beating.

Twenty-six year old Buddy, who only escaped from brother Max's pugilistic shadow in the last two years, emphatically disagrees with the opinion that designates him as a punching bag for the champion's thunderous punches. Today he discounted his licking by Louis last May in Washington, D. C., on the basis of the punch Louis loosed at the bell ending the sixth round and Washington's early summer heat that cut his reserve strength.

The theory is open to rebuttal, of course, for while Buddy was hit after the bell rang ending the sixth round he could not have continued much farther. Baer weighed 237½ pounds for the fight last May. He believes this weight, the lowest since he began his ring career, was too low and he attributes it to the enervating heat. He may be correct. Baer will know Friday night for he plans to weigh 245 pounds and weighed only one pound more than that this afternoon.

These observations actually are beside the point. Buddy was given his second title chance solely because he proved his courage. He's young, husky, and willing and he's not afraid of Louis.

Expects to Land Punches.

"I guess I took about every punch Louis had in our first fight," Buddy said this afternoon as he rested in his cubby hole of a dressing room under the theater stage. "I feel much stronger now and there's nothing bothering me. I expect to hit Joe just as hard and often as I can and one of us is going to get knocked out. This time it'll be Louis."

Because of his Washington fight boxing fans know that Buddy will follow this plan of action. They do not expect him to win, indeed, the odds on the result are prohibitive, but they know Buddy will give them a dividend on investment. Charity has little to do with selling the show since the people who can afford $30 tickets would give that money as readily in outright donation to escape the boredom of another Lou Nova-Louis match.

Ancil Hoffman, Buddy's manager, and Trainer Issy Kline always have said Buddy could have continued against Louis except for the blow after the bell. Buddy did not come out of his corner for the seventh round and as a result Referee Arthur Donovan disqualified Baer over the vehement protests of Hoffman, who argued that Louis should be disqualified for delivering an illegal punch. Incidentally, Hoffman will resume protesting if Donovan is assigned to officiate Friday night.

May End Arguments.

Louis should end all arguments Friday night. Buddy appears to be in splendid physical condition, but he doesn't carry the armament for an encounter with the champion. This afternoon, altho Baer kept lunging at Jimmy Robinson, a 212 pound heavyweight, he caught far too many right hand blows to the head and left hooks to the body. Buddy fights wide open and Joe Louis has proved he can take this kind of an opponent whenever he wishes.

Danny Cox, a light heavyweight who was a member of the New York Golden Gloves team that invaded Chicago last March, also went two rounds with Buddy. Cox whipped Roy Standifer of Kansas City in the intercity Golden Gloves and he now has nine consecutive victories in the professional ring. Danny's speed presumably is sharpening Buddy's accuracy. What Buddy really needs is brother Max's wallop just as Max needed a bit of Buddy's fighting heart.

He'd Make Good Champ.

If by chance Buddy Baer should become heavyweight champion of the world, it would be difficult to find a better successor to Louis. Buddy is quiet, intelligent, and he possesses qualities that are summed up in the hackneyed expression perfect gentleman.

Friday night, however, we're guessing Joe Louis still will be champion of the world altho our visit to Lakewood today recalls memories of Louis training here for his first fight with Max Schmeling and his only professional defeat.

VETERAN HEAD OF INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY QUITS

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 5 (AP).—Theodore E. [Pop] Myers, for 31 years in charge of the annual 500 mile automobile race here tho he himself never drove a car, said tonight he had no more active duties with the speedway.

Myers' title has been vice president and general manager of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. He said he would remain a vice president with nothing to do. Last week the race, held each Memorial day, was canceled for the duration of the war.

IF SPOLDI'S AN ALIEN HE CAN'T BOX IN COLISEUM

Sheldon Clark, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, yesterday opened an investigation to determine whether Aldo Spoldi, lightweight from Italy, is an American citizen, or contemplates becoming one. If the answer to either question is no, Spoldi will be refused permission to meet Nick Castiglione of the west side in a 10 round bout in the Coliseum Friday. Spoldi and his manager will arrive from New York today to supply the answer.

Spoldi arrived in the United States six years ago.

He Was an Alien in November.

When he renewed his application for a license to qualify for a 10 round draw fight with Willie Joyce in Marigold Gardens on Nov. 24, Aldo said he was not a citizen.

It was recalled Spoldi withdrew from a scheduled bout with Chalky Wright in New York last April because the event was for the benefit of the British-American Ambulance corps. At that time Spoldi said "it would be out of place for an Italian citizen to fight to aid the British."

Maxin Seeks Sparmates.

Joe Maxin yesterday confined himself to floor work for a 10 round windup contest against Booker Beckwith in the Coliseum because no sparmates were available. He plans to box four rounds this afternoon in Trafton's gymnasium against Nate Bolden and Luther Brent. Beckwith rested yesterday. He will return to his chores, also in Trafton's gymnasium, today.

Matt Dougherty, Milwaukee lightweight, has refused a six round preliminary match against Robert Earl, 1941 city Golden Gloves 135 pound champion. Matchmaker John Strachan now is seeking Vito Rizzo to oppose Earl. Jackie Nichols, Gary featherweight, is paired with Johnny Gaudes in a six round event. A four round opener will bring together Frank Pintero, Milwaukee 142 pounder, and Hymie Dabb.

NORTH END LEAGUE.

The Gold Crown Beers and the Budweisers now are tied for the lead in the North End Traveling league. The deadlock was created last night when the Gold Crowns lost two games to the Samuelsons, while the Budweisers took two of three games from the Keeleys. The Schamberger-Schlitz bowling team set a league series record of 3,280 in scoring three victories over the Pepsi-Cola squad. Scores:

Mother of Jack Britton Will Be Buried Today

Mrs. Mary Breslin, mother of Jack Britton, former prominent lightweight boxer, will be buried in Mount Carmel cemetery this morning following funeral services in Annunciation church. She died last Saturday. Besides Britton, who assumed that ring name when he took up boxing, Mrs. Breslin is survived by three other sons, one daughter, and six sisters.

Under the Basket—Where Big Ten Action Begins

Camp Grant, Fort Sheridan Fives to Play

Fort Sheridan's undefeated basketball team will play Camp Grant in the Fort Sheridan post gymnasium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. It will be the first basketball meeting for the Northern Illinois army centers, tho they have clashed in Chicagoland Amateur Boxing league matches.

Camp Grant has lost one game, a 39 to 24 whipping by Loras college in its opener. Since then, however, the soldiers have beaten Illinois Wesleyan, 45 to 37; De Kalb Teachers, 56 to 43, and Joliet Junior college, 35 to 34.

College Stars in Plenty.

Coach Monty Rudolph of Fort Sheridan has a collection of former collegiate players. Don Lee, forward, played at Eastern Washington College of Education. William Collins won monograms in football, baseball, and basketball at Wayne university. Narchie Karwoski was football and basketball captain and voted the outstanding athlete in the conference in his senior year at Hillsboro college.

Other Fort Sheridan players include Ike Schaffer of Southern Illinois Normal; William Fuchs, Illinois Tech; Floyd Sterrenberg, who played with the independent basketball champions of Kankakee, Ill., and William Hickey, out of St. Norbert's college.

Here's a Tall Center.

Camp Grant has its quota of collegiate talent. Ernest Herbrechtsmeier, the team's 6 foot 5 inch center, averaged 10 points a game for two years at Iowa State Teachers' college. Ed Kotlarczyk starred at Seton Hall college. Florian Amelung played with the Superior State Teachers' college quintet, which reached the third round in a national college tournament in 1940.

GEORGE NYBERG WINS BOUT WITH SAMMY SECREET

George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., welterweight, was awarded a split 10 round decision over Sammy Secreet of Cannonsburg, Pa., in Marigold Gardens last night. Referee Bernard Weisman ruled the slugging match a draw, but Judges James Lynch and Harry Gamson voted for Nyberg. The 1,054 spectators greeted the verdict with cheers. Gross receipts were $1,506.

Nate Bolden, 1937 intercity Golden Gloves middleweight winner, hammered out a victory over Vince Calzaretto, local light heavyweight, in a six round semiwindup. George Feltes, Great Lakes middleweight, outpointed George McFarland in a four round opener.

In other events Luther Brent stopped George Mitchell, Hammond 158 pounder, in one round, and Jimmy Crow scored a second round technical knockout over Joey Davis, welterweight, also of Great Lakes.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 5 [Special].—Purdue doubled the score on Michigan tonight, 36 to 18. It was the Boilermakers' seventh straight collegiate victory, their second conference triumph in as many starts and Michigan's second Big Ten defeat.

The Wolverines led, 6 to 2, after four minutes. Then the Boilermakers' defense tightened and did not surrender a point for 14 minutes nor a field goal the rest of the half. Meanwhile Purdue rolled in 18 consecutive points to lead at intermission, 20 to 7.

MAROONS LOSE, 53-39

A drive led by Tom Chapman, Iowa's forward, in the first ten minutes of the second half, in which Chapman made five of his six baskets and added a free throw, gave the Hawkeyes a 17 point lead which the University of Chicago's Maroons whittled down but could not overcome as Iowa won, 53 to 39, before 1,800 in the Midway fieldhouse last night.

It was Iowa's second victory in two Big Ten starts, both of which have been on the road. It was the Maroons' second defeat.

Milton Kuhl, the Hawkeyes' 6 foot 6 inch center, led the scoring with eight baskets and a free throw for 17 points.

The Maroons fought their way to an early lead only to lose it at half time, when Iowa led, 30 to 24.

Toledo, O., Jan. 5 [Special].—The De Paul university basketball team, beaten by Southern California in Chicago last Saturday, 54 to 48, will attempt to break the University of Toledo's eight game winning streak here tomorrow. Toledo's most recent triumph was achieved against Dartmouth's Eastern Intercollegiate conference champions, 59 to 46.

De Paul also will be seeking revenge for two defeats suffered at the hands of the Rockets last season, 47 to 45 in Toledo and 55 to 51 in an overtime battle in the Chicago Coliseum. Tomorrow's game will be the fifth between these two rivals. De Paul swept the opening home-and-home series during the 1939-'40 season, 37 to 36 and 41 to 39.

Among the Toledo veterans who opposed De Paul last season are Bob Gerber, center, Bart Quinn and Frank Clemens, forwards; Bob Nash and George Grailer, guards. Gerber scored 17 points against De Paul in Chicago last March. Clemens and Nash, Negroes, helped Toledo rally on that occasion after trailing at the half, 25 to 20.

Coach Willie Wendt of De Paul will bring a squad of 13 players. The Demons' attack centers around Jim Cominsky, speedy forward, and Frank Wiscons, 6 feet 5 inch center. They have accounted for a combined total of 133 points in nine games.

BRADLEY VS. TEXAS TECH

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 5 [Special].—It will be speed versus height here tomorrow night when the Bradley Braves meet West Texas State. The Braves, altho averaging 6 feet 1 inch, will be dwarfed by the Texans, whose starting lineup averages 6 feet 6 inches. The Texans have won their first 12 games this season.

Bradley, which features a fast break offense, was called "the fastest team ever seen on the coast" following its recent 48 to 36 triumph over California at Berkeley.

Chris Hansen, Bradley's center and holder of Bradley's all-time game and season scoring records, will face Charles Halbert, the Texans' 6 foot 10 inch center.

BUTLER ELECTED PRESIDENT AGAIN BY RIDING GROUP

W. Earl Butler, Chicago automobile dealer, was reëlected president of the Town and Country Equestrian association, largest amateur horsemen's organization in the United States, at its 36th annual meeting last night in the Hotel Sherman. Other officers chosen are Frank Bering, vice president; John C. Bowers, executive vice president, and John M. FitzGerald, secretary-treasurer.

Butler announced that the 892 members of the association are voting 3 to 1 in a postcard poll in favor of a proposal to require a $5 license fee for every horse using the forest preserve bridle paths. The proposal is aimed at curbing reckless drivers and increasing funds for maintaining the 200 miles of county trails, Butler said.

BLACKHAWKS AND BRUINS PLAY IN BOSTON TONIGHT

Chicago Team Hopes to Snap Losing Streak.

Games Tonight

Detroit Red Wings at New York Rangers.
Chicago Blackhawks at Boston Bruins.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago Blackhawks—you remember those fine young men who used to win their hockey matches more often than not—will play the world champion Boston Bruins in Boston tonight. They haven't played hockey since last Thursday night, so if it's rest they need they should be all right. They will be seeking to end a losing streak at five straight.

The Bruins, tho they have not been able to beat the Hawks in three meetings this season, will go into tonight's engagement in a first place tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs. They were all set Sunday night to take over unshared possession of first place but the last place Brooklyn Americans surprised them with a whipping. Press Agent Joseph Farrell says the Sunday defeat has "left the Bruins in a savage mood" as they prepare to engage the Hawks tonight.

Bentley Left Behind.

Manager Paul Thompson took 15 players on the one-game eastern trip. He left Doug Bentley in a Chicago hospital with orders to stay there until tomorrow. Then Doug will make skate tests to see whether he feels like playing against the Canadiens in Chicago Stadium Thursday night.

Shortly before departing for Boston, Manager Thompson made a report to his bosses on a week-end scouting trip Sunday. Paul saw four American association teams in action—Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Dallas. He reported to Owner Frederic McLaughlin and President Bill Tobin that he had spotted one player from each team he believes will help the Hawks.

Negotiations Are Planned.

Aside from the one on Kansas City, it will be necessary for the Hawks to deal for the players desired. Thompson would make no public announcement of the names of the coveted reinforcements, pending negotiations.

Bruins Will Try to Stop Akron's Streak

When the Goodyears of Akron meet the Chicago Bruins in the Coliseum tomorrow night they will be after their fifth straight victory. One of the reasons for this spurt has been the play of Ben Stephens, the former Iowa star.

Stephens, individual scoring leader of the National Basketball league last season with 263 points in 24 games, got away to a slow start this year but has moved up to sixth place. Teamed with George Glamack and Lee Huber, Coach Ray Detrick presents the most potent scoring trio in the league. In nine games the three stars have accounted for 250 of their teams' 383 points.

They're in Scoring Stride.

The balance of the Goodyear roster includes Gene Anderson of Purdue, Howard Voche of St. John's of Brooklyn, Harold Hull of Marysville, Mo. Teachers, Rudy Debnar of Duquesne, Bob Parsons and Floyd Ebaugh of Nebraska, and Ken Griffiths of Alderson-Broaddus. The team has scored 118 points in its last two games.

The Bruins, augmented by the return of Guard Stan Szukala and Forward Vince McGowan, are in better shape physically and mentally than they have been during the past three weeks.

Novak Is Ready to Go.

Capt. Dick Evans has recovered from the eye injury suffered in the Indianapolis game New Year's eve; and Mike Novak, the 6 feet, 9 inch center, should play his best game of the season. Novak injured an ankle in the season's opener.

The preliminary brings together the Annunciation Catholic Youth Organization and Doc Mason's teams at 7:30 o'clock.

Korper Wins in Chicago YMCA Handball Tourney

Tom Korper of Englewood defeated James Tunney of Hyde Park, 9-21, 21-4, 21-15, and John Gribbin won by default from John Bubnis, also of Englewood, last night in class A matches in the Chicago YMCA handball tournament. In class B Ange Cossa of Duncan whipped Aaron Perbohner of Lawson, 21-20, 21-8, and Mike Barder of Hyde Park eliminated Clayton Cook, 21-14, 21-16.

Shifts in Funds Sought by Trustees.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—Requests for legislation to bring about changes in the finances of the University of Illinois were presented to Gov. Dwight Green today by President Arthur Cutts Willard of the university and President James M. Cleary of the university board.

Specifically asked by the university men were sections in any special legislative call which may be issued to arrange:

1. Amendment of the university appropriation bills for the current biennium, to provide that any funds appropriated for capital items at Urbana or at Chicago may be used for general expenses at the discretion of the board.

2. A supplementary appropriation of $100,000 to be expended if necessary.

3. An appropriation of $216,000 for completion of remodeling and reconstruction of the research and educational hospitals.

Follow Trustees' Plans.

President Cleary said that a reduction of $250,000 in fees is anticipated by the board and an increase of $100,000 to $200,000 in expenses, due to the war. He pointed out that priorities would make impossible some of the construction contemplated in the capital item appropriations which the board seeks to shift to other uses, and that the purchase of land in Chicago, for which $125,000 was appropriated, is expected to be made at a substantially smaller figure.

Emergency Funds Needed.

The $100,000 appropriation would not be expended unless necessary, Cleary said, and would be allowed to lapse if unexpended.

The $216,000 item is an "emergency appropriation badly needed," Cleary said, and termed it particularly urgent in the face of a proposal that the college of medicine operate 12 months in the year to produce physicians and surgeons in shorter time.

THOMAS J. DALEY, SEVENTH WARD ALDERMAN, DIES

Ald. Thomas J. Daley [7th] died in the Illinois Central hospital yesterday after a brief illness. He was 49 years old and lived at 2662 East 73d street.

Thomas J. Daley.

Ald. Daley had served in the city council since 1933. He was a south side real estate dealer. He began his business career in 1907 as a messenger for the Calumet National bank and was cashier when that institution was liquidated in 1931. He served in the navy during the World war and was a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the South Side Swedish club, and the South Shore Country club.

When word of his death was brought to the council during the afternoon the aldermen stood in tribute, and Mayor Kelly paid him high praise.

Ald. Daley's widow, Frieda, survives. The funeral will be at 9:30 a. m. Thursday from the chapel at 7659 Jeffery avenue to St. Philip Neri church.

LIVES OF 5 GAS VICTIMS SAVED BY INHALATORS

Inhalator squads saved the lives of five men last night. John J. Higgins, 1250 South Kilbourn avenue, and Quamil Hysen, 868 North Sacramento avenue, gas company repairmen, were overcome by gas while repairing a meter at the rear of 1214 South Ashland avenue. Squad 2, under Acting Lieut. Walter Kinsella, revived them.

In a garage at 1311 North Larrabee street, carbon monoxide gas felled Gust Lapalio, 4116 George street; John Spotten, 3015 Lock street, and Nick Rutsas, 1158 Ohio street. They were revived by squad 10 under Lieut. Martin Carney.

Two Soldiers Are Killed as Train and Auto Collide

St. James, Mo., Jan. 5 (AP).—Corp. Glen Chew, 27 years old, of Ridge Farm, Ill., and Private Kenneth Monahan, 20, Shadyside, O., both stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, were killed last night in an auto-train collision. A weekly Fort-St. Louis excursion train, bearing 1,030 soldiers, and a car in which the two were riding crashed at a St. James crossing.

CHRISTA FOWLER, VETERAN LAKES CAPTAIN, DIES

Manitowoc, Wis., Jan. 5 [Special].—Capt. Christa C. Fowler, 67, one time master of boats in the old Goodrich fleet, who later spent several years in the government service, died today at Kewanunee where he was visiting. He was stricken with a heart attack soon after breakfasting.

Captain Fowler, 6 feet 8 inches in height, was widely known in marine circles. He spent much of his time here years ago because many of the boats he sailed wintered in Manitowoc. After more than 50 years on the lakes he retired a year ago. He resigned from the Goodrich Transit company and entered the lighthouse service on Lake Michigan and was captain of the government tugs Hancock and Manitowoc.

He was born in Montague, Mich., and began sailing at the age of 14.

Sportsman Burns to Death as Blaze Destroys Yacht

Glen Cove, N. Y., Jan. 5 (AP).—Joseph H. Ladew, 41 years old, a wealthy sportsman and son of the late J. Harvey Ladew, leather manufacturer, burned to death today when fire destroyed the 85 foot yacht Columbia, in which he lived during the winter. Firemen said they believed he was the only person aboard the ship, which had been tied up at a dock. Ladew was well known in motor boat and motor car racing circles.

CLOSING OF BANK RECEIVERSHIP IS VOIDED BY JUDGE

Judge G. F. Rush of the Circuit court, late yesterday vacated an order he signed on Dec. 22, closing the receivership of the West Central State bank at 2315 Roosevelt road. The bank failed Jan. 28, 1930, and since then, according to Otto C. Woerter, general state receiver, has paid its stockholders 45 cents on the dollar.

In recommending the closing of the receivership, Woerter set forth that liabilities against Andrew H. Dressel, president of the bank when it closed its doors, apparently were fixed at a much higher figure than Dressel could settle for. He recommended to the court that the former banker be allowed to pay $6,000, pointing out that only $18,900 in assets remained towards the bank settlement and that this, in the form of a 160 acre farm in Bremen township, stood between final closing of the 11 year old tangle.

Judge Rush said he signed the order on Woerter's recommendations but that he had vacated it because of certain charges. Those charges, he added, he preferred to have aired.

PLAN ALLOTTING MATERIALS FOR SMALL PLANTS

Report OPM to Act in Hardship Cases.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special]. —A new plan to enable small manufacturers of nondefense goods to get materials has been approved by the Supply Priorities and Allocations board and will be formally announced soon, it was learned tonight.

Floyd B. Odlum.

Under the program units in an industry will be given necessary materials after their need has been certified by the Office of Production Management.

The program, officials said, constitutes a rejection of proposals advanced by Floyd B. Odlum, head of OPM's division of contract distribution, who has advocated a blanket percentage allotment of scarce materials to small producers of peacetime goods.

Only a Little Needed.

Odlum said recently that allocation of as little as ½ of 1 per cent of scarce materials would enable thousands of small business men to continue operating until the momentum of armament production brought them a share in government contracts.

SPAB members said the OPM had been instructed to prepare the new plan three weeks ago. The program places upon the commodity divisions and other sections of OPM the responsibility for studying conditions in individual industries. In instances where "hardship" cases are uncovered necessary materials will be supplied small producers provided such grants do not interfere with defense production, officials said.

Other developments today included:

Latin-American supplies: Altho much time would be required for the western hemisphere to readjust its economy so that imports from other parts of the world would not be seriously missed, the hemisphere can go a long way toward supplying its own needs with proper development, defense authorities said.

Near Self-Sufficiency.

This hemisphere, they added, comes closer to being self-sufficient than any other area in the world. Since the outbreak of war in the Pacific the United States has drawn on Latin America for many products which usually came from the far east. Import figures will disclose that normal imports such as sugar and coffee have remained at about the same levels recently, but that there have been increasing shipments of copper, wool, hides, manganese, tungsten, and other products from the southern republics.

Of the other strategic materials which must be imported by the United States—rubber, tin, hemp, jute, copra, palm oil, manganese, chromite, and graphite—many products or suitable substitutes will be drawn from Latin America in the future, officials said.

Request Stable Prices.

Industrial machinery: Distributors and dealers handling construction equipment were asked by the Office of Price administration to refrain from any practices which would increase current charges. Producers of hoists, cranes, and derricks were asked to observe Oct. 1 price levels.

Glass containers: An appeal to glass container manufacturers to conserve raw materials essential to war production by simplifying bottle sizes, shapes, and finishes was issued by Lessing J. Rosenwald, chief of the bureau of industrial conservation. Reduction of varieties of sizes and designs, he said, would permit more efficient use of man power, fuel, and equipment, and achieve savings of critical materials.

North Western Equipment Issue's Sale Approved

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday approved the Chicago & North Western railway's sale on Dec. 16 of $3,800,000 of equipment trust certificates to a group headed by Harris, Hall & Co. The certificates cover 75 per cent of the cost of 1,625 freight cars. The court also approve the purchase of 20 Diesel switch engines.

Cook County Auto Sales Set Peak

The chart indicates the growth of auto sales in Cook county in the last three years. The boxes in upper corners compare December sales, announced yesterday.

An All-Time Record

Sales of new automobiles in Cook county last year were the largest in history despite the fourth quarter slump which followed a rush by motorists to beat higher prices and anticipated shortages. This was disclosed yesterday by the bureau of motor advice in a compilation of registrations with the secretary of state.

The year's sales totaled 145,165 units, compared with 127,465 in 1940, 97,755 in 1939, and 126,462 in 1937, the year of the "little boom." Last month's sales of new cars in Cook county—pace setter for all American counties—fell to 7,065, the lowest December level since 1937. November sales were 4,740 units, and those for December, 1940, totaled 12,216. The current sales recession began with the introduction of 1942 models last fall.

Chevrolet Maintains Lead.

Chevrolet maintained its lead in the county during 1941, with 26,881 cars sold, compared with 18,999 for Plymouth, 15,816 for Ford, 14,994 for Buick, and 12,391 for Pontiac. Ford advanced to third rank in the year's sales and Pontiac moved up to fifth place.

Plymouth outranked Chevrolet in December sales. The bureau reported 928 Plymouths sold against 896 Chevrolets, 849 Buicks, 717 Fords, 605 Oldsmobiles, and 578 Pontiacs. In November Chevrolet was ahead with 645, against 555 for Ford, 535 for Buick, 504 for Plymouth, 358 for Pontiac, and 350 for Oldsmobile.

Output Quotas Granted

Washington, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Office of Production Management today restored to the passenger car manufacturing industry its full quota of 204,848 cars in January. This figure represents a 51 per cent reduction below January, 1941.

Sale of the cars is expected to be confined to government, lend-lease, and the "most" essential civilian users, in line with the OPM temporary ban on sales proclaimed on Jan. 1.

Following are the quotas for January, by makes of cars, compared with January, 1941, production:

BANK ELECTIONS USHERED IN WITH CICERO MEETING

Directors of the Cicero State bank were reëlected yesterday at the first of many annual bank elections which will be held in the Chicago area this month and next. More of the shareholders' meetings will be held on Jan. 13 than on any other day.

Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company's election is scheduled for Friday. Other meetings of stockholders and directors include: Northern Trust company, Jan. 12 and 13; City National Bank and Trust company and First National Bank of Chicago, Jan. 13; Industrial National bank, Jan. 13 and 14, and Harris Trust and Savings bank, Jan. 14.

1941 GRAIN SHIPMENTS TO CHICAGO ARE NEAR 175 MILLION BUSHELS

Farmers, country elevators and other interests shipped 174,965,000 bushels of wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, and soy beans into Chicago during 1941, Lyman C. West, Board of Trade statistician, reported yesterday.

Lyman C. West.

West said 62,513,000 bushels of the grain were consumed in the city, 26,014,000 bushels were shipped out on lake boats, 688,000 on barges down the Illinois waterways, and 80,123,000 bushels by rail. As of Dec. 31, 35,553,000 bushels were in store and afloat in harbors.

Create General Motors Group to Speed Arms

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—Directors of General Motors corporation set up a war emergency committee today composed of seven top executives "to stimulate further production of war materials." The committee, coming on the heels of the army and navy offer of 5 billion dollars of work to the motor car industry, superseded a "defense materials" group.

Donaldson Brown, G. M. vice president and vice chairman of its board, was named head of the committee. Other members are Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board; C. E. Wilson, president, and John Thomas Smith, Albert Bradley, Frederic G. Donner, and O. E. Hunt, vice presidents.

Orders Exceed a Billion.

While military secrecy prevented disclosure of the exact amount of war orders held by General Motors divisions, Sloan's estimate of defense contracts made several months ago was well over a billion dollars.

In another action intended to hurry along work on armaments, five G. M. divisional chiefs were elected vice presidents. They are George W. Codrington, general manager of the Cleveland Diesel engine division; Nicholas Dreystadt, general manager of the Cadillac division; H. L. Hamilton, head of the Electro-Motive corporation; H. J. Klingler, general manager of the Pontiac division, and S. E. Skinner, general manager of the Oldsmobile division. M. E. Coyle, Chevrolet executive, and H. H. Curtice of the Buick division already were vice presidents.

Donner Named a Director.

The board accepted the resignation of James D. Mooney from the directorate, the administrative committee, and as a vice president. He has gone on active service with the navy. Donner, who has been in charge of finance, was elected a director.

Another new vice president is Harry W. Anderson, also named to the administrative committee. He will be in charge of the personnel staff, succeeding Vice President B. D. Kunkle, who will take charge of the manufacturing staff.

EDISON COMPANY VOTES USUAL 45 CENTS DIVIDEND

Directors of the Commonwealth Edison company, Chicago, yesterday declared a dividend of 45 cents, the same as has been paid in each quarter since Nov. 1, 1939. The Outlet company, Providence, R. I., department store, announced a $1.50 dividend, compared with a $1.25 payment in January last year.

Philippine Assets Held in U. S. Ordered Frozen

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The treasury announced today that Philippine Island assets in the United States have been frozen in line with a recent decree by President Roosevelt providing that any territory invaded by the axis would have its assets in this country frozen automatically. Exceptions were made for Filipinos living in the United States, for United States officials in the Philippines, and the island government. Thus, the order applied primarily to money or other assets held in this country by private citizens of the Philippines.

RESERVE BANK'S CIRCULATION OF NOTES AT PEAK

Deposits Up; Profit for Year Falls.

All-time high marks for note circulation, total reserves, and desposits at any year-end were reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago in its 27th annual statement covering operations in 1941.

Clifford S. Young.

Clifford S. Young signed the report for the first time as president. He became head of the bank early last year when George J. Schaller retired.

One of the significant changes disclosed in the statement was a jump of nearly a half billion dollars in the bank's reserve note circulation, which on Dec. 31 stood at $1,719,535,750, compared with $1,262,396,170 a year earlier. Young said this reflected in part a rising demand for money with which to finance increasing pay rolls and expanding government outlays.

Profit Reduced by Half.

Total reserves moved up to $3,463,762,421, from $2,937,027,527 a year earlier. Total deposits climbed to $2,014,151,437, against $1,893,953,324. While the figures for circulation, reserves, and deposits were the highest ever reported on any Dec. 31, all had exceeded the year-end marks some weeks earlier, Young said.

Net earnings of the huge "banker's bank" fell to less than half the 1940 figure, at $1,024,465 against $2,607,974. The drop was largely the result of a decline in profit on sale of United States government securities to $147,895 last year, from $1,292,362 in 1940. In 1940 profit on government bond sales had resulted from the necessity for the sale by the federal reserve system of large amounts of the bonds to keep prices of federal issues from rising higher in the market that year than the reserve board considered desirable. Comparatively, there was little of that type of activity in 1941. The Chicago bank does not sell the bonds itself, but participates with other reserve banks in one government bond portfolio.

Reports Expenses Rise.

Gross earnings of the bank, including interest on government bonds held, but not the profit from sales of such issues, rose in 1941 to $5,089,095, but expenses also increased and current net earnings—without bond sale profits and other additions—slipped to $861,561 from $1,360,053.

Young reported that paid in capital of the bank increased more than a million dollars last year to $15,612,900 as of Dec. 31, against $14,533,300 a year earlier, as new members of the system bought stock and old member banks increased capital or surplus and increased their required holdings of the reserve bank's stock.

Total assets showed a substantial increase, reaching $3,962,603,505, compared with $3,325,929,480 on Dec. 31, 1940. The bank's holdings of United States government securities increased to $305,717,500.

The report showed $324,601 of bills discounted and industrial advances, and $1,874,000 of commitments to participate with commercial banks in loans to industry.

Pullman Asks 10 % Rate Boost; Open Hearings on Rail Petition

Hike Termed Urgent

The Pullman company petitioned the Interstate Commerce commission at Washington yesterday for authority to increase sleeping and parlor car rates 10 per cent. The need is "extremely urgent," company officials said, "to provide necessary revenue for adequate and efficient service to the public"

The action follows similar requests by the railroads, on which hearings were opened during the day in St. Louis. Recent wage increases, along with rising costs of materials and supplies, constitute the basis for the requests.

Estimate Added Costs.

On the basis of 1941 employment, the recent wage and pay roll tax increases will amount to $6,352,200, Pullman officials estimated. The 10 per cent increase in rates, on the basis on last year's operations, would bring an estimated increase of $6,127,830 in gross income, part of which would accrue to railroads under existing agreements, it was said.

Increases in the costs of materials and supplies, the company said, would be difficult to estimate altho "substantial."

Pullman's 1941 pay roll was placed at $33,980,000 and the wage increases, on the 1941 basis, would lift the total to about 40 billion dollars.

$2.50 Berth to Cost $2.75.

For a typical 300 mile trip, in addition to first class railroad fare, a Pullman lower berth would cost about $2.75, instead of about $2.50 under present rates, officials said. The upper berth would cost about $2.20, instead of $2, on such a trip.

Company officials estimated Pullman has more than 6,500 cars in service at present under contracts with the railroads. The number varies with seasonal demands.

Wage Increase Cited

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 5 (AP).—Three members of the Interstate Commerce commission today began hearing a plea of the nation's railroads for a 10 per cent increase in freight and passenger rates. The roads said the increased rates were needed because of higher wages being paid under a recent arbitration award and because of other increased operating costs which they attributed to the war.

It has been estimated the higher wages will add more than 300 million dollars annually to the roads' pay rolls.

Transportation Costs Up.

In an opening statement, R. V. Fletcher of Washington, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, said the need for handling war traffic without delay made a hearing on a flat percentage increase necessary rather than a hearing on higher rates for specific commodities. A commodity hearing would take too long, he said.

Julius H. Parmelee, Washington, D. C., director of the bureau of railway economics of the association, testified that transportation costs were 17.4 per cent higher in the first 11 months of 1941 than in a corresponding period of 1940.

Revenue Below Average.

He said the 1941 freight revenue was 5.4 per cent less than the average from 1921 to 1931, even tho the 1941 volume was 11.3 per cent above the 10 year average.

Water carriers also want higher rates and will present their evidence after the railroads have finished, then shippers will be heard.

The ICC men hearing the evidence are Acting Chairman Clyde B. Aitchison, Charles D. Mahaffie, and Walter N. W. Splawn.

A. T. & T. STATION GAIN FOR '41 AND DECEMBER BREAKS ALL RECORDS

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The American Telephone and Telegraph company today reported a net gain of about 1,361,000 telephones in service in the Bell system during 1941, largest increase on record.

At the end of the year there was a record total of around 18,840,000 telephones in the Bell system. The December net increase was 130,100, a record gain for the month.

The company said there were about 23,430,000 telephones in the United States at the end of 1941 which could be interconnected, including those of the Bell system and of independent telephone companies.

PREDICTS SALES BOOM IN SPRING FOR FURNITURE

OPA Aid Says Price Must Not Rise.

A boom in home furnishings sales in the spring following a lull in March and April was predicted yesterday by an Office of Price Administration official as furniture buyers from North and South America converged yesterday at the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart for the two week winter market.

With the outlook of the market clouded by wartime restrictions on the production of civilian goods, furniture merchants and dealers were reported more interested in surveying industry trends than in making actual purchases. Many retail stores were said to be well stocked, having bought heavily in anticipation of difficult deliveries.

Warns Against Price Rise.

The forecast of sharply increased retail buying in the spring was made by Dr. James F. Bogardus, deputy price administrator in charge of the OPA durable goods section. He warned that if the reduced supply of furniture and the expanded demand cause prices to climb rapidly, the OPA is prepared to "slam on the brakes" with a price control program.

Speaking before the American Furniture Mart Press club, Dr. Bogardus asserted that furniture prices have risen 30 per cent since the war started in September, 1939, and following a decided increase after March last year, stabilized at November levels. In the last war, he said, furniture prices skyrocketed 293 per cent.

Revealing that the OPA has prepared a price schedule covering manufacturers' prices, Dr. Bogardus said it would not be invoked unless the present voluntary agreements with the industry are violated. Only a few in the industry have not abided by the agreement, he said.

Curbs Prices of Materials.

The OPA executive explained that his section has endeavored to stabilize manufacturers' costs by keeping in check the prices of such raw materials as cartons, burlap, upholstery fabrics, and southern hardwood.

Warning that severe restrictions will be imposed on the manufacture of home furnishings requiring critical metals and imported raw materials, Dr. Bogardus said that consumer

To Our Friends on
Our 50th Anniversary:

Fifty years ago I established the firm of J. S. Bache & Co. as successor to a brokerage business founded by my family in 1879.

During that period the nation has faced many crises both in peacetimes and in war, but always confidence in our country, hard work, and perseverance have brought us through. I feel confident that the present struggle will be won and that we will emerge stronger, more unified and more progressive than ever.

As the United States changed from an agricultural community to the leading manufacturing country in the world, investment problems also changed and I enlarged the scope of our firm, adding facilities to meet the new and increasing requirements of clients in all parts of the country—in all parts of the world.

Many of you have been our clients since the turn of the century and I am proud of the confidence shown in us these many years. As mutual trust is the proudest asset of any business relationship, it is my aim to justify your continued faith in J. S. Bache & Co. in the future as in the past.

Sincerely yours,
Jules S. Bache

Act now to complete your trust arrangements

There is a real advantage in starting the new year with your estate arrangements all in order. Each year is complicated enough without a prolonged carry-over of such unfinished personal business.

Of course, your time is at a premium in these early days of the year. The trust officers of The Northern Trust Company appreciate that. They are ready to cooperate with you and your attorney and help you put your plans into form.

The Northern Trust Company, as you know, has behind it over fifty years of practical experience in matters of estate planning, probate, and trust administration. The personnel of the institution is so organized as to focus upon each estate the full benefits of group judgment and a wealth of specialized knowledge.

For your own satisfaction in the new year—and for the increased security of your heirs—The Northern Trust Company urges you to execute now the trust arrangements you have in mind. Further postponement of this matter can only be a cause of worry and annoyance to you. Telephone one of the trust officers of this institution today for an appointment to meet with you and your attorney.

LAGGARD STOCKS REVIVED BY RISE OF MOTOR ISSUES

Many Transform Early Dips Into Advances.

The list followed a devious course at the start and narrow price variations either way ruled until the final hour when forenoon losses were reduced or transformed into advances.

General Motors was up 2 and Chrysler 2⅝ at the close and gains of fractions to a point or so were well distributed.

Arms Forecast Aids Motors.

Spurring the motors was the announcement the army and navy would boost armament orders to the automotive industry by 5 billion dollars, putting munitions backlogs in this field at around 9 billions. Some thought the war contracts would go a long way toward offsetting sharp restrictions on normal motor car production altho it was realized profits might be much less than on sales to private consumers.

Some rails acted well as continued traffic expansion was looked for, with passenger revenues coming back because of the restricted use of automobiles. Forecasts of rate increases also were helpful.

Patino Mines ran up 1⅝ to a new 1941-'42 high, apparently reflecting prospects of climbing output by this Bolivian tin producer as the result of halted United States imports from the far east.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Prices were higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions totaling 40,000 shares. Eighty-three issues advanced, 21 declined, and 17 closed unchanged.

Chicago corporation, which closed 1/16 higher, was the volume leader with 15,200 shares traded. Of other active issues, General Motors advanced 1⅞ and Commonwealth Edison rose ⅜, while both Armour and Paramount Pictures closed unchanged.

Commodities

Most commodities tended upward in slow trading yesterday. Cotton closed 5 cents a bale lower to 50 cents higher, after profit taking cut into earlier gains of as much as $1. Wool tops were up 0.3 cent a pound, cocoa advanced .01 to .04 cent, and Santos coffee .01 cent. Cottonseed oil dropped .03 to .06 cent after Saturday's maximum jump of one cent.

The New York Coffee and Sugar exchange announced that trading in domestic sugar futures would be resumed today at the new ceiling price of 3.74 cents a pound. Trading was halted Dec. 31 after completion of United States-Cuban negotiations for purchase of the entire 1942 Cuban sugar crop.

INTRASTATE GAS SALE SUBJECT TO FPC, SAYS COURT

Holds Illinois Case Has Interstate Effects.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The Supreme court held today that the Federal Power commission has jurisdiction over a company which operates natural gas transmission lines within one state but which obtains the gas thru its parent company from other states.

Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone delivered the unanimous opinion on a controversy over federal or state control of the Illinois Natural Gas company, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company.

The litigation grew out of an order by the Illinois Commerce commission directing the Illinois Natural Gas company to construct a 20 mile line to Mattoon, Ill., and to furnish natural gas at wholesale to the Central Illinois Public Service company.

Commission Lacks Power.

Stone asserted that the 1938 federal natural gas act was intended "to bring under federal regulation wholesale distribution of gas moving interstate." He added that the state commission was "without power to order" the extension.

The Supreme court upheld an Interstate Commerce commission order which prohibited Kansas City, Mo., and seven other primary grain markets from having both a "thru rate with transit" and a "proportional rate" on grain shipments.

Justice Felix Frankfurter delivered the 8 to 1 decision on an application for the reëstablishment of transit privileges on thru rates. Justice Owen J Roberts, temporarily absent from the bench, dissented.

Refuse to "Tinker" with Rates.

"We certainly have neither technical competence nor legal authority," Frankfurter said, "to pronounce upon the wisdom of the course taken by the commission. It is not for us to tinker with so sensitive an organism as the grain rate structure, only a minor phase of which is caught in the record before us."

The court upheld a labor board order directing the P. Lorillard company to bargain at its Middletown, O., plant with a CIO union. Because of a lapse of some two years, a Circuit Court of Appeals, before enforcing the board's order, had directed it to hold another election to see if the union still represented a majority of employés but the Supreme court ruled that this action was in error.

In two patent suits the court ruled that a company which uses a patent monopoly to suppress competition in unpatented articles may not obtain legal relief against infringement of the patent.

STEEL FURNACES LACKING SCRAP FORCED TO CLOSE

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 5 [Special].—Four Great Lakes Steel company open hearth furnaces were closed today for lack of scrap metal, and unless scrap deliveries arrive before morning, the company's 12 other furnaces also will close, officials announced.

The company, a division of National Steel corporation, has an annual capacity of 2 million tons, 98 per cent of which is devoted to arms, and employs 9,000 men in its Ecorse plant.

Orval Kincaid, regional director of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee [CIO] telegraphed Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner demanding an investigation of reports that scrap steel yards in the state were overflowing but that shipments were being held up in anticipation of higher prices.

"The company recently blew in the largest blast furnace in the world, having completed this within six months, where ordinarily 12 to 18 months are required," a spokesman said.

JOINT PURCHASE BOARD SET UP BY AMERICA, BRITAIN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The United States, Canada, and Great Britain have set up a joint board to purchase raw materials required for arms production and allocate them among the three countries, it was learned today.

The new agency is called the "joint materials coördination board of the United States-Canada and Great Britain." As the hyphen implies, it will treat the United States and Canada as one country for administrative purposes, making it possible for Canadian industries dependent upon American steel mills to obtain material on an equal priority basis with the United States army and navy.

19 Year Record of the Price of Wheat

CASH OATS REACH HIGH OF 60 CENTS AS BIG USERS BUY

Grain Futures Weaken After Early Rise.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Oats sold in the Chicago cash market yesterday at 60 cents a bushel, highest since 1934, as manufacturers and industrial consumers continued to build up their grain inventories. More than 220,000 bushels of corn were sold to eastern buyers, a "big" volume, according to the grain men, for one day's trade.

In the grain futures transactions on the Board of Trade, prices touched new peaks since early October before profit taking wiped out the gains. Wheat closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower after selling for May delivery at as high as $1.29⅝ a bushel.

SEEK SUPREME CONTROL.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The senate was asked today to give the secretary of agriculture virtually supreme jurisdiction over any price fixing of agricultural commodities. Sen. John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] proposed an amendment to pending price control legislation which would prohibit the price administrator from taking any action on agricultural commodities without prior approval of the secretary.

Closing Prices Irregular.

Corn was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel higher, oats unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, rye ⅝ to ¾ cent higher, and soy beans 2⅝ cents lower. Lard declined 2½ to 10 cents per hundredweight, the larger decline occurring in the January delivery, where contract liquidation sales were large.

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.28⅛	$1.29⅛	$0.88⅝
Corn	.85¼	.85½	.63¾
Oats	.57⅝	.57⅝	.37½
Rye	.78¼	.77⅛	.49
Soy beans	1.80¼	1.82⅞	1.01⅛

The cash oats price, equaling the 1934 peak, was, with that exception, the highest since 1928. A little more than a year ago oats were selling as low as 28 cents a bushel in Chicago.

U. S. Agency Selling Corn.

One of the largest sellers of grain the last few days has been the Commodity Credit corporation. It reported corn sales at close to 3½ million bushels last week and grain men estimated that sales would top 5 million bushels for the last 10 days. Agriculture Marketing service in Chicago said in its weekly review of the market that the federal agency "sold sizable lots of wheat to local mills during the week."

The grain trade made initial efforts yesterday to gain support for Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard in his efforts to have control over prices of agricultural commodities in the price control bill vested in the department of agriculture. A "wire your congressman" campaign was instituted by a large brokerage house.

OVERTIME RATE BASE IS REGULAR PAY, SAYS COURT

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 5 [Special].—Employers must pay time and a half of an employé's regular rate of pay for overtime, the United States court of appeals held here today. The decision was made on complaint of a trucking company employé, that while his regular rate of pay was more than the minimum of 30 cents under the wage hour act, he was paid for overtime at 45 cents an hour, or time and a half of the minimum rate.

The ruling reversed a district court decision, which held that the overtime provisions of the wage hour law were primarily minimum wage provisions. The wage hour division has contended that if that decision were permitted to stand it would largely eliminate the law's benefits for millions of "white collar" workers getting more than the statutory minimum wage.

The case was brought by William H. Missel, who sought additional overtime pay from the Overnight Motor Transportation company, for which he worked as rate clerk, cashier, and dispatcher. He was paid $25 a week, plus $2.50 supper money, and it was agreed that several weeks he had been on duty 75 to 80 hours.

Cold Damage to California Citrus Crop Believed Light

Pomona, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—Weather bureau authorities said today that California citrus crop damage, due to low temperatures of the last few days, probably would be light. Meteorologist Floyd Young estimated the total damage at not more than 1 or 2 per cent of the entire crop.

BUTTER AND EGG PRICES UP; COLD HAMPERS TRADE

Wholesale butter prices were advanced ¼ to ½ cent a pound yesterday as the midwest's severe cold wave hampered marketing and production. Both butter and egg futures rose about ⅛ cent on the Chicago Mercantile exchange before profit taking reduced the gains.

January butter contracts at the high of 34.15 cents a pound were at peak levels since the outbreak of war with Japan. The market closed about ¼ cent higher.

January egg contracts sold as high as 32.1 cents a dozen, a three-week peak, and October and February deliveries reached the highest levels in more than a decade. The close was .25 to .35 cent higher.

The potato trade involved 155 carlots with prices showing small change from the preceding close. First contracts opened on the exchange calling for the delivery of Idaho potatoes next November sold at $2.65 per hundred pounds.

STEEL EMPLOYMENT DIPS AS PRODUCTION OF WAR METAL RISES

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The American Iron and Steel institute said today the third consecutive monthly decline in employment in the steel industry reflected primarily an increase in production of war goods and a decrease in output of civilian goods.

November employment totaled 645,000, a drop of about 1,000 from October. In November, 1940, the industry employed 577,000 men. The peak of 654,000 employés was reached last August.

To make one gross ton of heavy steel plates for fighting ships, said the institute, requires 18.6 man hours of labor. But to make a ton of tin plate, a light "civilian" product, requires 58.54 man hours, or more than triple the labor required for the war product.

Steel pay rolls in November totaled $109,856,000, against $118,890,000 in the longer month of October and $87,921,000 in November, 1940.

SOME OPERATORS TERM TRUCK PAY HIKE TOO STEEP

Committee Will Meet Later This Week.

Midwestern highway motor truck operators were jolted yesterday by what some of them termed "too generous" wage increases and paid vacations to 150,000 AFL truck drivers granted by the National Defense Mediation board in arbitration of a deadlocked labor dispute.

Altho the truck operators declined to comment on the award before formal notification of the terms, it was learned that central states employers' negotiating committee, which represented the operators in conversations with the AFL teamsters' union, was scheduled to meet in Chicago later in the week to consider future action.

Union to Accept Ruling.

Union representatives said that the wage increases were not entirely satisfactory, but that the drivers will keep their pledge to accept as final the decision of the board. The union had threatened to call a strike thruout 12 midwestern states last Nov. 15 after prolonged negotiations on the wage issue.

The mediation board's decision gave the truck drivers a four-tenths of a cent raise in the driving rate to 3.4 cents a mile, and a 10 cent increase to 90 cents an hour for miscellaneous duties such as pickup and delivery. Annual paid vacations of six days also were granted.

The motor freight companies had balked at raising the present mileage rate of 3 cents a mile, but had offered to increase the hourly rate 2½ cents to 82½ cents an hour. The truck drivers had insisted on 5 cents a mile and $1 an hour.

Refers to Rail Pay Boost.

The board referred to increased living costs and the railroad wage increases in making its award in the trucking dispute.

Acceptance of the arbitration terms in a contract between the union and the operators would settle the major points of the controversy, but would leave to further negotiations minor disputes involving leased trucks and other matters.

SOUTH AMERICAN INDUSTRY GAINS, ENGINEERS TOLD

Basic industries are rapidly being developed in South American countries, particularly the steel industry in Chile and Brazil, the Western Society of Engineers, 205 Wacker drive, was told yesterday. Harold Vagtborg, director, Armour Research foundation of the Illinois Institute of Technology, and a member of the National Research council industrial exploration commission to South America last March, addressed the society.

Vagtborg declared that many other industries in South American countries are taking advantage of chemical research to develop products which eventually will satisfy most of their requirements.

"There is every indication of great opportunity for technology thruout the South American continent, and with closer coöperation between North and South America there will develop closer coördination in scientific research and development," he said.

BROAD ADVANCES CARRY LIVE COST OF MEAT UPWARD

A general advance of prices at the stockyards yesterday carried the cost of meat on the hoof, as a whole, to the highest January position since 1929, and to the third highest level for this month since 1920. Packers paid an average of $12.30 a hundred pounds for the three principal classes together, steers, hogs, and lambs. This was an increase of $2.70 a hundred pounds, or 28 per cent over the same day last year, and a gain of $4.30, or 53 per cent over two years ago.

The cold weather and a rise in wholesale markets for fresh meats stimulated packer buying. Fresh cuts of pork led the advance, selling 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds over last week's close.

Packers paid an average of $11.35 for the supply of live hogs, 25 cents above Saturday, and the highest daily average since Sept. 30, 1937. The average since Sept. 30, 1937.

HOTEL ORDERED TO SHOW BOOKS TO ITS OWNERS

Superior Judge Charles A. Williams issued an order yesterday against David Shillinglaw, assistant director of finance for Illinois and president of the Broadview Hotel corporation, 5540 Hyde Park boulevard, to compel him and two directors, Leo Ginsberg and Benjamin Gold, to open the corporation's books for inspection by the stockholders. The mandamus was issued on behalf of Attorney Benjamin B. Morris, holder of 150 shares of stock, who told Judge Williams that the directors refused to permit any inspection of the books and ran the corporation as if it were their own.

FEDERALIZED JOB SERVICE HELD AID TO WAR INDUSTRY

Cuts "Mountains" of Red Tape, Says Brock.

The federalization of state employment services has facilitated induction of skilled workers into war industries by the elimination of "mountains of red tape" and bottlenecks, Eugene J. Brock, midwest director of the United States Employment service, said yesterday.

"By placing the employment offices under a central administration it has become possible to secure employment for a worker when he or she wants a job and when the person is needed by the employer without loss of valuable work hours," he asserted.

Speaks at City Club.

Addressing a meeting of the City club of Chicago in the Hotel La Salle, Brock declared that since the nation is depending upon the voluntary coöperation of labor it is necessary to have a uniform standard of employment rules affecting the entire country.

"Under a central system placement of workers where needed in various parts of the country has become vastly simplified by eliminating the need for prospective employés to clear their applications thru state offices," he said.

Brock explained that before the federalization of state employment services was effected on Dec. 31 a skilled worker employed in the tooling industry, for example, could be lured from his job in one part of the country to another industry.

Bidding Is Eliminated.

Under the new system employers do not bid against one another, causing loss of working hours and spiraling of wages, he declared.

Brock said the United States Employment service has three methods for aiding the employer and employé and at the same time increasing the labor supply for war industries. They are transferring workers displaced by priorities regulations to industries engaged in war production; increasing the use of the country's labor reserves, including women, older workers, Negroes, and other minority groups, and making more effective use of skilled workers already in war industries by placing them in more essential jobs.

CHECK VOLUME DIPS, BUT HOLDS ABOVE YEAR AGO

Check transactions in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended last Wednesday aggregated $1,902,134,000, a 16.1 per cent increase from the $1,638,204,000 a year before, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Compared with the preceding week's $1,936,997,000 a decrease of 1.8 per cent was shown.

Chicago stock transactions [as represented by debits to deposit accounts] totaled $1,093,223,000, compared with $934,228,000 in the corresponding 1940 week.

The federal reserve board reported that check debits of banks in 274 cities in the week ended Dec. 31 totaled 12 billion 442 million dollars, compared with 12 billion 784 million in the preceding week, and 10 billion 608 million in the comparable week in 1940.

REPORT STRAUS OFFERS TO QUIT HOUSING POST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special].—Resignation of Nathan Straus as administrator of the United States Housing authority is in President Roosevelt's hands, but has not been accepted, it was reported today. Altho confirmation was unobtainable at the White House and Straus refused to discuss it, it was said the resignation had been offered in the interest of the defense housing program.

A widespread belief is that with Straus' retirement some, if not all, the opposition to his handling of the defense housing program will disappear and the way opened for its continuation under other direction. Opposition to Straus developed to a point where open assertions were made that appropriations to the USHA would be withheld during his continuance as administrator.

Chase National Reports Dip in Total Deposits

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Chase National bank, the nation's largest commercial bank, today reported that deposits on Dec. 31 totaled $3,534,967,000, compared with $3,587,562,000 on Sept. 30 and $3,543,338,000 on Dec. 31, 1940. Resources of $3,811,803,000 compared with $3,856,799,000 on Sept. 30 and $3,824,403,000 a year ago. United States government security investments amounted to $1,364,847,000, against $1,339,079,000 and $1,098,108,000.

Other Units to Follow

The North Western railroad yesterday placed in service a new streamliner of the "400" fleet. The train, first unit of a new $3,500,000 addition to the fleet, went into operation between Wyeville, Wis., and Mankato, Minn. Other units, to operate between Chicago and Wisconsin and upper Michigan points, will begin runs Jan. 12.

FEDERAL COTTON OFFERED MILLS AT 19c A POUND

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The Commodity Credit corporation announced today that it would offer for sale to domestic mills government owned cotton to meet demands for certain desirable grades and staples. The prices will be 19 cents a pound for 15/16 middling cotton stored in Carolina mill areas with appropriate differentials for location, grade, and staple.

The government owns about 4,500,000 bales, acquired under loan programs. Legislation, however, forbids the disposal of more than 300,000 bales a month or more than 1,500,000 within a 12 month period.

Offer Crop Insurance.

Federal Crop Insurance corporation officials here for a two day meeting started a drive to cover fully the 1942 crop, to be planted soon. The crop can be insured up to 75 per cent of average yield against all unavoidable hazards.

RAILS LEAD BOND LISTS' GENERAL CLIMB OF PRICES

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The bond market moved steadily into higher ground all along the line today with the rails giving the best account of themselves.

While advances were generally less than those posted last week when prices turned around after prolonged pressure of year-end tax selling, the list had numerous markups of 1 to 2 points and losses, where they did occur, were mostly small.

Transfers of $7,603,500, face value, compared with $5,635,900 last Friday. Four of the five groups in the Associated Press averages ended with gains of .1 to .3 of a point with only the foreign group showing a minor decline.

United States government loans shared in the general upturn both in the stock exchange and over the counter, but activity in the exchange was light.

RUBBER SOLES GONE; HEELS ARE GOING, ON SHOES

Rubber-soled shoes are vanishing and the trend is to rubber lifts instead of the full rubber heel, exhibitors disclosed yesterday as the four day National Shoe fair opened in the Hotel Stevens.

Another result of war, and the impending shortages of automobiles and tires, is that manufacturers are stressing more sturdy, practical features in women's lines to help fill needs of increased walking and more work.

Fair officials said buying yesterday was heavy but that they anticipate no "runaway" market. So far the shoe industry has had adequate supplies of raw materials, they explained.

Officials predicted between 10,000 and 11,000 buyers will examine more than 1,000 exhibits which fill some 12 floors of the hotel. The event is sponsored by the National Shoe Retailers association and the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association.

BUSINESS LOANS CLIMB AT FASTEST RATE IN HISTORY

1 Billion 710 Million Added to Total.

The biggest expansion in business and agricultural loans ever recorded in any year took place in 1941, the federal reserve board announced today.

At the beginning of last year, the total of such loans outstanding, as reported by reserve system member banks in 101 cities, was 5 billion 18 million dollars. By Dec. 31 the volume had risen 1 billion 710 millions to a total of 6 billion 728 million dollars.

The unparalleled expansion was recorded despite a drop of 56 million dollars in loans in the last week of the year.

The report showed that the member banks' holdings of United States government bonds declined 56 millions in the week ended Dec. 31, but that they still were 1 billion 689 million dollars larger than a year earlier. The total at the end of 1941 was 8 billion 667 millions.

Following are the principal assets and liabilities of member banks of the reserve system in 101 cities as of Dec. 31 [last six ciphers omitted]:

WILEY PROPOSES GROUP TO SPREAD ARMS CONTRACTS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—Organization of a bloc to bring about more decentralization of government agencies and war industry was proposed to western and midwestern senators today by Sen. Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.]. He declared it imperative that communities in the middlewest get more war orders, asserting Russia and Germany had shown the value of decentralization.

Wiley sent the group copies of a recent letter he wrote the President recently praising Mr. Roosevelt's plans to transfer 10,000 workers in 12 federal agencies from Washington to other cities, but declared the President had not gone far enough. He asserted that federal spending had drawn skilled labor from the middlewest into eastern centers.

"These states where production is centered are the ones which would be first attacked by an enemy," Wiley asserted. "The campaign in Russia ought to teach us something. We can learn a few lessons from Hitler—he has decentralized his war production."

10 MONTH SALES OF CHAIN BELT TOP 1940 RECORD

Profit for Short Fiscal Period $922,033.

Larger sales in the 10 months ended Oct. 31 than in any full year prior to that time were reported yesterday by Chain Belt company, Milwaukee manufacturer of construction machinery, transmission equipment, conveyors, castings and armament supplies.

J. C. Merwin, president, issued the company's annual report which, because of a change in the fiscal year, covered only 10 months. The new fiscal year ends Oct. 31. Formerly the report was on a calendar year basis. Because of the change, no direct comparison of earnings with prior years was available. Profit for the 10 months was $922,033, equal to $1.89 a share. In the 1940 calendar year, net income was $1,039,076, or $2.13 a share.

Products Used in Arming.

Merwin told the stockholders that much of the expansion in sales to all-time record levels in the various divisions of the company was a result of the rearmament program and the fact that most of Chain Belt's standard products are of a type needed in arms production.

Ten month sales totaled $12,419,521, compared with $9,648,861 in the full calendar year of 1940, the former record year.

"Thus for the second consecutive year sales were the largest in the company's history," Merwin said. "All divisions shared in this increase, and in each the sales were larger than for any preceding full year. Approximately 90 per cent of the company's current orders are for defense purposes."

Export Sales Increase.

"The company's export business has continued to increase despite the fact that certain markets were closed because of the war. Sales for 10 months exceeded those of any previous 12 month period. Losses because of collections or exchange were negligible. Except for accounts receivable, which are in United States currency, and a small consigned stock the company has no money or property in any foreign country and is in an excellent position to continue development of its export activities as circumstances permit."

California Statewide Branch Bank Exceeds Two Billions in Resources

The year end Bank of America statement of condition reveals that in 1941 the growth of the institution was the greatest in its history.

Early in December, Bank of America became the first two billion dollar bank in the United States outside of New York City. As of December 31, 1941, total resources stood at $2,095,635,000, an increase of $278,100,000 during the year.

DEPOSITS AT NEW HIGH

The aggregate of loans and discounts outstanding was $914,569,000, which is $136,274,000 more than a year ago. Cash and securities amounted to $1,122,179,000 an increase of $145,148,000 over the previous year end.

After payments and accruals for taxes and other Government assessments of $8,227,000, earnings for the year were $28,665,000. From this total, $4,502,000 was reserved for depreciation of bank premises and other real estate, and amortization of bond premiums and $5,119,000 was set up in reserves and applied to the absorption of losses or the revaluation of assets. After payment of $10,680,000 in dividends at the annual rate of $2.40 per share on the common stock and $2 per share on the preferred stock, and after $1,322,000 in profit-sharing bonus to employees, capital funds were increased from earnings for the year by $7,040,000, before retirement of $3,000,000 of preferred stock from this amount on January 2, 1941.

NEW WAR RESERVE

Commenting on the statement, president L. M. Giannini stated that the board of directors decided at this time to commence the building of a substantial reserve as a cushion against unforeseen contingencies which may result from the war or postwar readjustments and other contingencies. For the nucleus of such a reserve, designated "reserve for war contingencies, etc.," one half of the net increase in undivided profits account from the year's operations, and the unallocated reserve, have been transferred to the new account, which now aggregates $11,284,000.

PREFERRED STOCK RETIRED

President Giannini further announced that on January 2, 1942, the preferred stock retirement fund will be increased to $4,302,000 by a transfer from undivided profits account, and $3,500,000 of this fund will be used for the purchase and retirement of 70,000 shares of the bank's four per cent preferred stock. This, with the previous retirement of preferred stock on January 2, 1941, will bring the total retirement of preferred stock to 130,000 shares, having a total issue price of $6,500,000, or 21.7 per cent of the entire outstanding issue.

"It is a matter of deep satisfaction," Giannini concluded, "that the bank is in a stronger position than ever before to pursue its policy of all-out aid to our war effort, and to continue its assistance to all lines of activity in California which are increasingly important to the general welfare of the nation at this time."

PREDICTS HOME FURNITURE SALE BOOM BY SPRING

OPA Aid Warns Against Rise in Prices.

rationing may be necessary in the future on those articles whose production will be eliminated or drastically reduced.

Major shortages in the furniture industry will occur in supplies of glue, lacquer, springs, burlap, and metal trimmings, he said. He observed, however, that the wood furniture makers were fortunately situated because their activity does not generally compete with the arms factories. He said the home furnishings industry will be the first in the consumer goods field, now that automobile production will be stopped.

Won't 'Police' Retail Sales.

Dr. Bogardus said that the OPA does not plan to police retail prices because the task would require the employment of several thousand investigators. He expressed the hope that retailers will formulate a self-regulatory system of price control.

[Furniture prices will be followed closely by a staff of investigators borrowed from the labor department by the OPA, it was learned. Statisticians from the labor department will confer with furniture trade association executives Thursday at the American Furniture Mart.]

Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the American Furniture Mart, told the press club that 27 per cent of the industry's capacity is suitable for military production and the remainder can be "retained for civilian production so long as materials are available."

Whiting said the industry will be called upon to produce furnishings for an army of 5 million combat troops and 2½ million in supporting services. Whiting, who holds the rank of colonel, is a personnel consultant to the war department.

Describes Substitutions.

Reporting that furniture lines have been shortened to conserve materials, Whiting said furniture manufacturers are simplifying designs and using numerous substitutes such as glass and plastics for critical metals.

At the Merchandise Mart, Percy Wilson, managing director, said that rug and carpet lines were sought actively as the result of the government's recent order cutting wool supplies for floor coverings in half.

Wilson estimated that dollar volume of floor covering sales this year would drop 25 to 45 per cent below 1941 levels as the result of the present curtailment order. Colors and patterns will be reduced. Rayon, cotton, linen, wood pulp fiber, and other substitutes will be used.

The cold spell and difficulty in obtaining train and air line reservations reduced attendance at the home furnishings market, the two marts reported.

Registrations reported by the Furniture mart totaled 3,701 compared with 4,300 on the opening day of the winter market a year ago. The Merchandise mart said attendance dropped to 2,112 from 2,349 a year ago

AXIS INSURANCE.

Could you tell me if there were any Japanese, Italian or German insurance companies in the United States when this country entered the war? If there were, what is the status of these companies?—C. M. R.

Answer: The New York insurance department has taken over for liquidation the United States branches of the three Japanese insurance companies operating in this country—the Meiji Fire Insurance company, Tokio Marine and Fire Insurance company, and Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance company. The Meiji and Tokio concerns were liquidating their businesses preparatory to leaving the United States when the New York department took control.

Effective Sept. 30, 1940, the outstanding liabilities of Meiji and Tokio, other than marine, were assumed directly by the Standard Insurance Company of New York, a subsidiary of the Tokio firm. This subsidiary was sold in May, 1941, to the Aetna Insurance company, Hartford, Conn. Effective last Aug. 1, outstanding marine insurance of Tokio was reinsured in the Westchester Fire Insurance company.

The Sumitomo company, which wrote marine insurance only, did a relatively small volume of business. All three companies have ample resources in this country to cover outstanding obligations.

The General Insurance Company of Trieste and Venice, the only Italian fire insurance company operating in the United States, was taken over for liquidation in July, 1941. No net insurance liability is outstanding since all business previously had been reinsured or canceled. Funds in this country are adequate to meet obligations.

No German insurance companies have operated in this country since the last World war. The Pilot Reinsurance Company of New York, organized by German interests, has been operating under federal license for several months. What action will be taken regarding this company has not as yet been announced.

CASH THEM FIRST.

Answer: Defense savings bonds cannot be applied directly to federal income taxes. They may be cashed and the proceeds used for taxes.

Is today's selling tempo too fast for your advertising?

*WHEN YOU CAN HAVE MORE WHY TAKE LESS?

With the Tribune you can sell more at lower advertising cost

Every day of the week during November, the Tribune delivered in excess of 1,000,000 net paid total circulation. This was from 605,000 to 635,000 greater circulation on weekdays than delivered by other Chicago daily newspapers. On Sundays, the Tribune delivered from 340,000 to 810,000 more than delivered by other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

Right in Chicago and suburbs, the Tribune delivered from 440,000 to 460,000 more circulation on weekdays than other Chicago daily newspapers delivered — and more than any two others combined. On Sundays, the Tribune had from 395,000 to 470,000 more circulation in metropolitan Chicago than other Chicago Sunday newspapers—and more than any two others combined. As the one Chicago newspaper with circulation volume equivalent to majority coverage of all the families in metropolitan Chicago, the Tribune can step up your drive to keep pace with Chicago's increased buying.

ALLIS-CHALMERS PRESIDENT MOVES UP TO CHAIRMAN

Babb Will Be Succeeded by W. C. Buchanan.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5.—Max W. Babb, president of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company since 1932, was today elected chairman of the board, and W. C. Buchanan, a director and member of the executive committee, was chosen president to succeed him. Officials said the changes in management were made to improve the company's position with particular reference to production. Heavy and increasing demands are being made on company facilities in connection with war work, officials said.

Buchanan also is president of the Globe Steel Tubes company here, and will continue to serve in that capacity. In becoming chairman of the board, Babb will assume a post vacant since the death in 1940 of Gen. Otto H. Falk.

Engaged in Arms Work.

The Allis-Chalmers company is the largest industrial concern in Wisconsin. Its West Allis plant employs around 10,000 workers. In normal times it manufactures farm implements, farm and road tractors, and heavy machinery built to design for many purposes. At present it is engaged largely in defense production.

Buchanan, the new president, is 53 years old. He was born in Johnstown, Pa. He studied mechanical engineering and metallurgy at a division of Carnegie technical school set up by the United States Steel corporation. His first job was for the Cambria Steel company at Johnstown in 1904.

He went from Cambria Steel to the New York Steel company at Buffalo when it was purchased by W. H. Donner and became the Donner Steel company. He later held positions with American Tube and Stamping, Bethlehem Steel, and Trumble Steel. He went to Peoria, Ill., in 1929 with the Keystone Steel and Wire company, serving as vice president and general manager until he resigned in 1935, to become president of the Globe Steel company here.

Expert on Production.

Buchanan is also a member of the board of directors of the Milwaukee Gas Light company here. He is considered an expert in plant management and his position at the head of the Allis-Chalmers company is expected to result in greatly increased output at that plant.

Babb was born in Mount Pleasant, Ia., in 1874, and entered the service of the Allis-Chalmers company in 1904 as its attorney. He studied law at the University of Michigan and received a degree there in 1897. He was the only vice president of the company from 1913 to 1932, when he became its president.

He is also a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, a trustee and member of the executive committee of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, a director of the Wisconsin Telephone company and of Cutler-Hammer company, and a trustee of the Milwaukee Downer college.

M. H. FISHMAN SALES UP.

M. H. Fishman company, variety store chain, reported its 1941 sales totaled $5,316,158, an increase of 12.2 per cent from the $4,738,243 during 1940. December sales totaled $917,623, or an 11.9 per cent increase over December, 1940.

JOB INSURANCE PAYMENTS RISE IN MOST STATES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, reported today job-insurance payments in creased in 30 states during November, reflecting unemployment due to priorities and curtailment orders and temporary lay-offs in plants retooling for war production, plus the normal seasonal declines in many fields.

However, decreases in such payments in the other 18 states more than offset the increases, and job-insurance disbursements for the whole country dropped to $21,066,400, or 2 per cent below October.

November payments by Chicago area states, with the percentage of change from October, included: Illinois, $1,688,500, up .5; Michigan, $1,063,600, down 16; Indiana, $583,500, up 13; Wisconsin, $239,000, up 36; Iowa, $77,900, down 8.

Investment Firm May Quit Field; Business 'Profitless'

Knight, Dickinson & Co., investment firm at 141 West Jackson boulevard, announced yesterday that it expects to liquidate within a few months because of its inability to operate profitably under present conditions. The company was established 22 years ago.

AUSTRALIA—BRITISH COMMONWEALTH IN THE NEW WAR ZONE

This comprehensive color map of the Commonwealth of Australia is presented as a guide to readers in following the progress of the war in the southern hemisphere. Approximately the same size as the United States and with a coastline of more than 12,000 miles, Australia has a population of only seven million.

Note: Dotted areas on map indicate deserts and wastelands. Cultivated areas lie along the eastern, the southeastern, and the southwestern coasts. Land under cultivation in 1938-'39 was 23,497,778 acres, or less than 1½ per cent of the total area. Large sections covering more than half of the island continent, however, are devoted to sheep and cattle grazing. The western plateau covers a little more than half of Australia, it being there that most of the wastelands occur. The central part of the country, from the west coast to east of Lake Eyre, is without rainfall and thus has a desert climate.
